

The Monticola.

West Virginia University,

Morgantown, W. Va.

Published by the Class of 1900.

Volume II.

THE ACME PUBLISHING COMPANY,
MORGANTOWN, W. VA.
1899.

Dedication.

x

To those of our number who, in the late war with Spain, volunteered their services to aid in supplanting the banner of oppression with the banner of freedom. this volume is respectfully dedicated.

Table of Contents.

Dedication.....	3
Editorial Board and Business Staff.....	6
Editors' Preface.....	9
Board of Regents.....	11
Faculty.....	13-26
University.....	27-34
Alumni.....	35-39
Classes.....	40-82
Senior Class.....	40
Junior Class.....	49
Sophomores.....	59
Freshman.....	65
Senior Law.....	72
Junior Law.....	77
Pre-Medical.....	82
Fraternities.....	83-116
Phi Kappa Psi.....	83
Phi Sigma Kappa.....	89
Sigma Chi.....	94
Phi Kappa Sigma.....	100
Kappa Alpha.....	104
Mu Pi Lambda.....	109
Theta Nu Epsilon.....	113
Athletics.....	117-134
Foot Ball.....	118
Base Ball.....	127
Athletic Association.....	131
Basket Ball.....	132
Organizations.....	135-158
Columbian Literary Society.....	136
Parthenon Literary Society.....	140
Engineering Society.....	144
Woman's League.....	148
Y. M. C. A.....	154
Military.....	159-164
Music.....	165-176
Male Glee Club.....	166
Choral Society.....	169
Woman's Glee Club.....	170
Mandolin, Banjo and Guitar Club.....	173
Orchestra.....	174
Literature.....	177-195
Miscellaneous.....	196-208
Advertisements.....	209-230

Program Commencement Week, '99.

June 15, Thursday, 8 P. M.....	Inter-Society Debate
June 16, Friday, 8 P. M.....	Moot Court
June 17, Saturday, 8 P. M.....	Regents' Prize Declamation Contest
June 18, Sunday, 11 A. M.....	Baccalaureate Sermon
June 19, Monday, 10 A. M.....	Company Competition for Corps Colors
June 19, Monday, 2 P. M.....	Senior Class Day
June 19, Monday, 8 P. M.....	Woman's League Prize Declamation Contest
June 20, Tuesday, 10 A. M.....	Closing Recital of the School of Music
June 20, Tuesday, 2 P. M.....	Competitive Drill
June 20, Tuesday, 8 P. M.....	Inter-Society Contest
June 21, Wednesday, 2 P. M.....	Field Day
June 21, Wednesday, 8 P. M.....	Wiles Prize Oratorical Contest
June 22, Thursday, 10 A. M.....	Commencement Exercises
June 22, Thursday, 2:30 P. M.....	Alumni Business Meeting
June 22, Thursday, 8 P. M.....	Commencement Reception

Editorial Board.

W. W. HUGHES, Editor-in-Chief.

L. A. YEAGER, Assistant Editor-in-Chief.

Associates.

MISS BERTHA C. BROWNING,

MISS INA RIGHTMIRE,

R. D. ROLLER, JR.,

H. M. GORE.

R. N. MEADE, Illustrating Editor.

Business Staff.

J. A. MEREDITH, Business Manager.

E. S. STALNAKER, Assistant Business Manager.

Associates.

H. D. G. REYNOLDS,

W. W. HUGHES,

R. N. MEADE.

L. A. YEAGER
H. M. GORE
H. D. G. REYNOLDS

J. A. MEREDITH
Miss HEPTIA C. BROWNING
Miss INA RICHMOND

W. W. HUGHES

E. S. STANAKER
R. D. HODDER, Jr.
R. N. MEADE

Editors' Preface.

In sending forth Monticola, Volume Two, the editors realize as fully as any one how inadequately it represents our great University. But as "apology is only egotism wrong side out," they hesitate even to confess its faults and imperfections. They would however ask those critically inclined to remember that this volume is a product of moments snatched when they could be spared, when the call to lessons seemed imperative, and when the minds of the editors were disconcerted, and thoughts confused by the ghosts of unlearned tasks pacing a solemn beat before their eyes. This sacrifice of time and labor they cheerfully make if their product pleases those who have generally assisted them, and in some degree subserves the interests of the W. V. U. Then if in after years, when the pleasures of college life shall have been superseded by the grave responsibilities of life's duties, when images of classmates, friends and chums shall have grown dim on the walls of memory's great art gallery, if then this volume shall cause the reader to live again these pleasant days, to remember again the faces herein imaged, the editors will feel that another ambition has been gratified and that their work has not been in vain.

Calendar.

1898-'99.

July 1, Friday First Term of Summer Quarter begins
July 1, Friday, 10 A. M. Quarterly Convocation
July 2, Saturday, 8 A. M. Recitations of Summer Quarter begin
July 4, Monday Independence Day: a holiday
Aug. 11, Thursday First Term of Summer Quarter ends
Aug. 12, Friday Second Term of Summer Quarter begins
Sept. 19-22 Quarterly Examinations
Sept. 22, Thursday Second Term of Summer Quarter ends
Sept. 23-30 Quarterly Recess
Oct. 1, Saturday Fall Quarter begins
Oct. 1, Saturday Matriculation and Registration of Students
Oct. 1, Saturday, 10 A. M. Quarterly Convocation
Oct. 3, Monday, 8 A. M. Recitations of Fall Quarter begin
Nov. 24, Thursday Thanksgiving Day: a holiday
Nov. 24, Thursday, 8 P. M. Thanksgiving Reception by the Woman's League
Dec. 19-22 Quarterly Examinations
Dec. 22, Thursday Fall Quarter ends
Dec. 23-31 Quarterly Recess
Jan. 1, Sunday Winter Quarter begins
Jan. 2, Monday Matriculation and Registration of Students
Jan. 2, Monday, 10 A. M. Quarterly Convocation
Jan. 3, Tuesday, 8 A. M. Recitations of Winter Quarter begin
Feb. 22, Wednesday Washington's Birthday: a holiday
March 20-23 Quarterly Examinations
March 23, Thursday Winter Quarter ends
March 24-31 Quarterly Recess
April 1, Saturday Spring Quarter begins
April 1, Saturday Matriculation and Registration of Students
April 3, Monday, 8 A. M. Recitations of Spring Quarter begin
May 30, Tuesday Memorial Day: a holiday
June 12-15 Quarterly Examinations
June 22, Thursday Spring Quarter ends

Board of Regents.

Term Expires in 1901

JOHN A. CAMPBELL, New Cumberland

JAMES M. LEE, Lewisburg

JAMES L. HAMILL, Welch

Term Expires in 1903

P. C. EASTHAM, Point Pleasant

GEORGE C. STURGISS, Morgantown

W. E. POWELL, Parkersburg

Term Expires 1905

JAMES F. BROWN, Charleston

RICHARD R. McMAHON, Harper's Ferry

A. H. KUNST, Weston

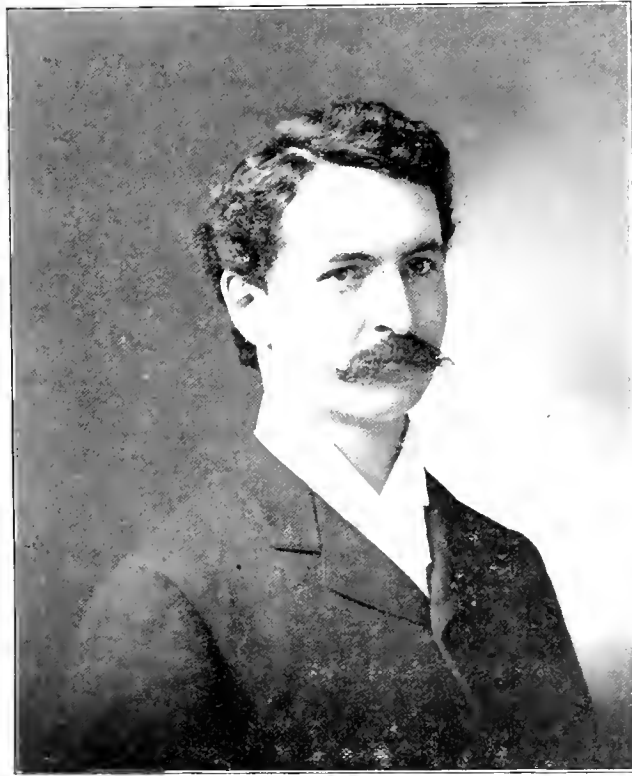

Officers of the Board

GEORGE C. STURGISS, President

SAMUEL B. BROWN, Secretary

A. R. WHITEHILL, Treasurer

PRESIDENT RAYMOND

The Faculty.

JEROME HALL RAYMOND, Ph. D., President of the University, and Professor of Economics and Sociology.

A. B., Northwestern University, 1892; A. M., ibid., 1893; Ph. D., University of Chicago, 1895.

ROBERT ALLEN ARMSTRONG, A. M., Vice President of the University, and Professor of English Literature.

A. B., West Virginia University, 1886; A. M., ibid., 1889.

POWELL BENTON REYNOLDS, D. D., Chaplain of the University, and Professor of Philosophy.

A. M., West Virginia University, 1887; D. D., Richmond College, 1890.

OKEY JOHNSON, LL. B., A. M., Dean of the College of Law, and Professor of Constitutional and International Law and the Law of Corporations.

LL. B., Harvard University, 1858; A. M., Marietta College, 1874.

THOMAS CLARK ATKESON, Ph. D., Dean of the College of Agriculture, and Professor of Agriculture.

LL. B., Kentucky University, 1874; Ph. D., Central Normal College, 1893.

CHARLES ALFRED ELLENBERGER, Director of the School of Music, and Professor of Music.

Graduate, New England Conservatory of Music, 1884.

WAITMAN BARBE, A. M., Assistant to the President.

B. S., West Virginia University, 1884; M. S., ibid., 1887; A. M., ibid., 1897.

St. GEORGE TUCKER BROOKE, LL. D., Professor of Common and Statute Law.

A. M., West Virginia University, 1889; LL. D., Wake Forest College, 1890.

WILLIAM P. WILLEY, A. M., Professor of Equity, Jurisprudence and Commercial Law.

A. B., Dickinson College, 1862; A. M., ibid., 1865.

ALEXANDER REID WHITEHILL, Ph. D., Professor of Chemistry.

A. B., Princeton University, 1874; A. M., ibid., 1877; Ph. D., Washington and Jefferson College, 1887.

JAMES WILLIAM HARTIGAN, A. M., M. D., G. O., F. S. Sc., London.
F. R. M. S. Eng.

A. M. West Virginia University, 1888; M. D. University of Worcester, 1884; M. D., Bellevue Hospital Medical College, 1887; M. D. Baltimore
Medical College, 1887; M. D. Indiana College of Electric Medicine, 1888; Graduate in Obstetrics, Newlands College of Midwifery, 1892;
Fellow of the Royal Microscopical Society, (Lond. Eng.) 1892.

JOHN LINDSAY JOHNSTON, Professor of Civil and Mining Engineering.
B. S., West Virginia University, 1883; M. S., ibid., 1886; C. E. ibid., 1889.

SAMUEL B. BROWN, A. M., Professor of Geology and Mineralogy.
A. B. West Virginia University, 1883; A. M. ibid., 1886.

WILLIAM SLEEPER ALDRICH, M. E., Professor of Mechanical Engineering.
Graduate United States Naval Academy, 1883; M. E. Stevens Institute of Technology, 1884.

THOMAS CONDIT MILLER, A. M., Professor of Pedagogy and Principal of the Preparatory School.
A. M., West Virginia University, 1889.

JAMES SCOTT STEWART, M. S., Professor of Mathematics.
B. S., West Virginia University, 1877; M. S. ibid., 1880.

ROBERT WILLIAM DOUTHAT, Ph. D., Professor of the Latin Language and Literature.
A. M., Emory and Henry College, 1871; Ph. D. Roanoke College, 1887.

LEE CLEVELAND CORBETT, M. S., Professor of Horticulture and Forestry, and Horticulturist of the West Virginia Agricultural Experiment Station.
B. S. Cornell University, 1890; M. S., ibid., 1893.

BERT HOLMES HITE, M. S., Professor of Agricultural Chemistry, and Chemist of the West Virginia Agricultural Experiment Station.
M. S., West Virginia University, 1890.

THOMAS EDWARD HODGES, A. M., Professor of Physics.
A. B., West Virginia University, 1881; A. M., ibid., 1884.

JAMES HENRY STEWART, A. M., Director and Agriculturist of the West Virginia Agricultural Experiment Station.
A. B., West Virginia University, 1882; A. M. ibid., 1885; LL. B., ibid., 1885.

ARMSTRONG BARRE
ALDRICH

BEN SODIS
WHITEHEAD
MILLER

JOHNSON
WILKEY
SEWART

ANDERSON
BROOKER
HOUTHAAT

EULENBURGER
JOHNSON
CORBETT

ANDREW DELMAR HOPKINS, Ph. D., Professor of Economic Entomology, and Vice-Director and Entomologist of the West Virginia Agricultural Experiment Station.

Ph. D., West Virginia University, 1893.

FREDERICK LINCOLN EMORY, B. S., M. M. E., Professor of Mechanics and Applied Mathematics.

B. S., Worcester, Mass., Polytechnic Institute, 1887; M. M. E., Cornell University, 1896.

LEWIS CASS WOOLERY, A. M., Professor of the Greek Language and Literature.

A. B., Bethany College, 1884; A. M., ibid., 1888.

JOHN ALEXANDER LOCKWOOD, M. S., Captain 4th Cavalry, U. S. A., Professor of Military Science and Tactics.

Graduate, Infantry and Cavalry School, 1883; M. S., Mich. State Agricultural College, 1887.

ALFRED JARRETT HARE, A. B., Professor of the Latin Language and Literature.

A. B., West Virginia University, 1889.

FREDERICK WILLIAM SANDERS, Ph. D., Assistant Professor of European History.

A. B., College of New York, 1883; A. M., Harvard University, 1892; Ph. D., University of Chicago, 1895.

FREDERICK WILSON TRUSCOTT, Ph. D., Assistant Professor of Germanic Languages and Literatures.

A. B., Indiana University, 1891; Ph. D., Harvard University, 1896.

KENNETH McKENZIE, Ph. D., Assistant Professor of Romance Languages and Literatures.

A. B., Harvard University, 1891; A. M., ibid., 1893; Ph. D., ibid., 1895.

WILLIAM EARL RUMSEY, B. S. Agr., Instructor in Botany, and Botanist and Assistant Entomologist of the West Virginia Agricultural Experiment Station.

B. S. Agr., Cornell University, 1891.

DENNIS MARTIN WILLIS, Instructor in Book Keeping and Commercial Practice, and Principal of the Commercial School.

RICHARD ELLSWORTH FAST. LL. B., Ph. B., Instructor in American History and Political Science.

LL. B., West Virginia University, 1886; Ph. B., ibid., 1898.

CHARLES HENRY PATTERSON, A. M., Instructor in Rhetoric and Elocution.

A. B., Tuft's College, 1887; A. M., ibid., 1893.

BENJAMIN GRAEFF PRINTZ, Instructor in Physical Training, and Director of the Gymnasium.

ELIZA JANE SKINNER, Library Director, and Instructor in Library Science.

EVA EMMA HUBBARD, Instructor in Drawing and Painting.

RUSSELL McMURPHY, Instructor on Piano.

Graduate New England Conservatory of Music, 1892.

FRANK WILLIAM KEENE, Instructor on Stringed Instruments.

CLEMENT ROSS JONES, M. E., Instructor in Mechanical Engineering.

B. S. C. E., West Virginia University, 1894; M. E. ibid., 1897.

RUSSELL LOVE MORRIS, B. S. C. E., Instructor in Civil and Mining Engineering.

B. S. C. E., West Virginia University, 1895.

DANIEL JENIFER BARTON, A. B. Assistant in Mathematics, A. B., West Virginia University.

GRACE MARTIN, B. M., Assistant on the Piano.

Graduate, Virginia College for Young Ladies, 1893; B. M., ibid., 1894.

RUFUS WEST, Assistant in Mechanical Engineering.

EDGAR STEWART, LL. B., Assistant in Law Department. LL. B., West Virginia University, 1896.

ELIZABETH LEE WHITESCARVER, Assistant in Shorthand and Typewriting.

THEODORE F. WATSON, B. S., Assistant Chemist, West Virginia Agricultural Experiment Station.

B. S., Agricultural and Mechanical College of Mississippi, 1892.

HITE
LORWOOD
WILDS

HODGES LAKE
EAST

HOPKINS SANDERS
PATERSON

ENGLISH
MCKENZIE
HUBBARD

WOOLFRY
KIRKBY
McMURPHY

CHARLES DANFOITH HOWARD, B. S., Assistant Chemist, West Virginia Agricultural Experiment Station.
B. S. Worcester Polytechnic Institute, 1893.

Other Officers

ALBERT COLLETT, Secretary to the President.

ELLA E. EGBERT, Secretary to the President.

ANNA B. WHITE, B. S., Assistant in the Library.
B. S., West Virginia University, 1895.

FRANCIS A. HAUBER, B. S., Assistant in the Library.
B. S., Villanova College, 1897.

HENRY StCLAIR, Armorer.

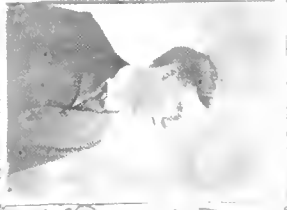

BROWN.

RUINS OF MECHANICAL HALL.

HARTIGAN.

KEENE
MARTIN

HOWARD

JONES
WEST

THOMSON

MORRIS
STEWART

OPPEN

BARTON
STEWART

WHITESIDE FRIEND

The West Virginia University.

THE West Virginia University owes its existence to the United States Government, the West Virginia Legislature and the citizens of Morgantown.

In 1862 the United States Government passed an act granting to the States and Territories, lands which should provide schools for the promotion of Agricultural and Mechanical Arts. The lands allotted to West Virginia were sold and the proceeds amounted to $90,000. The Legislature appreciating this gift and fully realizing the necessity of such an institution in our own Mountain State, increased the endowment to nearly $110,000 with annual appropriations for current and contingent expenses. The citizens of Morgantown contributed in land, buildings and money nearly $50,000.

The Governor was given the power to appoint a Board of Visitors who should establish and control the new institution. This Board held its first meeting at Morgantown on the third of April, 1867, and elected Rev. Alexander Martin, D. D. as president.

In the following September Dr. Martin entered upon his duties with a school of 124 students and a faculty of five members. After an honest struggle of eight years he saw the number increased to 166 with a faculty of thirteen members. At first the school was held in the Monongalia Academy, but on account of the increasing demands, steps were taken towards the erection of a new building. The Academy was sold to the Board of Education of Morgantown, and soon after the corner-stone of what is now known as the Preparatory Building was laid. This building when completed cost $57,000 and contains the rooms of the Preparatory professors, the library, the two society halls, and the Y. M. C. A. hall.

At a meeting in 1871-72 the legislature appropriated $2,500 for the construction of an Armory for the use of the cadets. At a cost of about $4,000 it was completed and used as an Armory until 1888, when it was enlarged by appropriations from the United States Government, and is now known by the name of the Agricultural Experiment Station. It is one of the prettiest buildings and one of the most valuable adjuncts of the University.

Owing to the enlargement of various departments of instruction, an additional building soon became necessary, and on the 18th of June, 1874, the corner-stone of University Hall was laid. The cost of this building without the north and south wings was about $41,500.

After Dr. Martin's resignation, John Rhey Thompson, A. M., was chosen president of the University, and at the time of his election was the youngest college president in America. He had been in the University but a very short time before his abilities were recognized and he won and maintained a high rank and influential position among the students. Under his administration the schools of law and medicine were established. The department of medicine existed as a professional school until 1888, when it was made one of the academic schools of the University, and is now known as the School of Biology. The Law School has continued as a professional school to the present, and is one of the most creditable departments of the institution.

William L. Wilson, LL. D., was elected president in June, 1882, and assumed control the following September. As he was elected to Congress in October, he resigned his presidency of the University, but remained until the next June, 1883. Although his administration was a short one, the University is proud of having had such a distinguished person as one of its presidents.

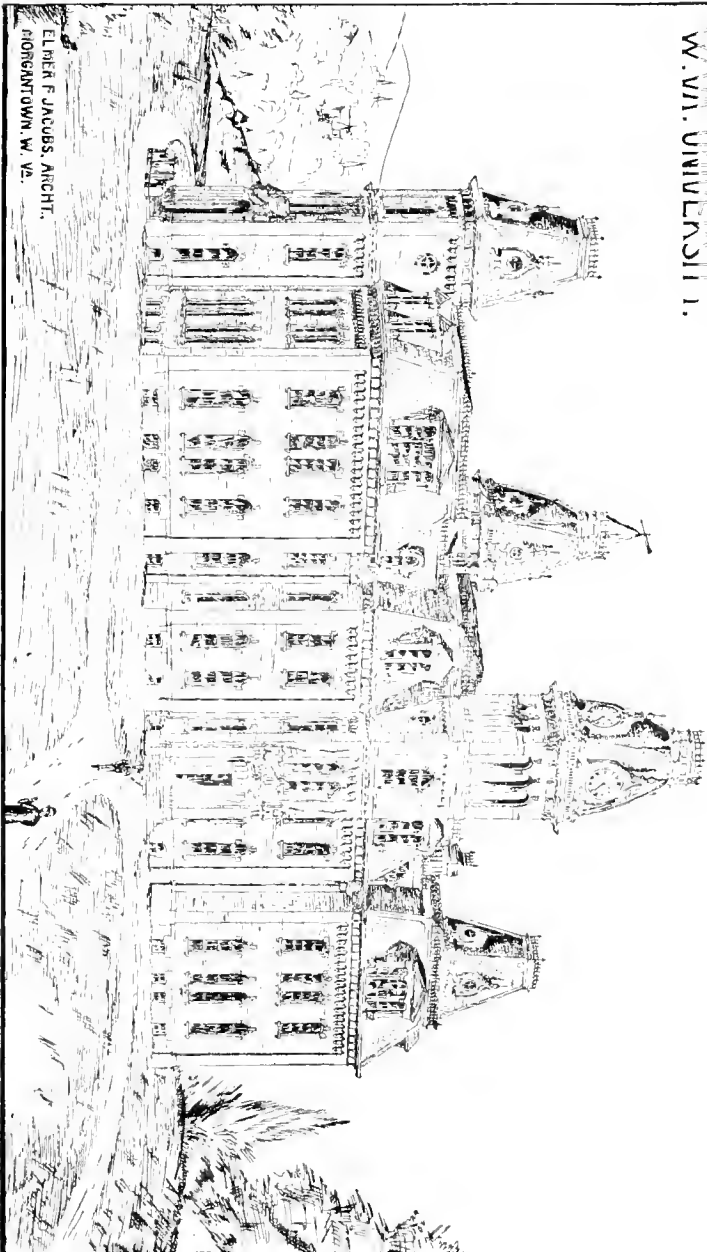

During the next two years the burden of the administration was carried by Vice-President Dr. P. B. Reynolds. The University under his direction continued to grow both in attendance and ability, and in 1885 E. M. Turner, LL. D., was chosen president. His administration throughout was a successful one, and he filled his office most efficiently until 1893.

An appropriation of $6,000 was granted by the legislature in 1888-89 for the construction of an Armory and Commencement Hall. This building was finally completed in 1892, but the original plan for the Armory was changed, and the basement floor intended for that purpose was fitted for a gymnasium. The cost of it when completed was $20,000.

At a meeting of the Board of Regents in June, 1889, co-education was established and young ladies were granted the privilege of joining the collegiate classes. The privilege was extended to the Preparatory Department in 1898, consequently, the young ladies can take the same preparatory course as the young men. At present (March 15, 1899) the number of ladies having attended the University this year is 178.

In 1891-92 the Legislature made an appropriation of $5,000 for a Mechanical Building and $15,000 to begin the construction of a Science Hall. An addition costing $7,000 was added to Mechanical Hall in 1894-95. This

UNIVERSITY HALL
W. VA. UNIVERSITY.

ELMER F. JACOBS, ARCHT.
HONGKONG, W. VA.

building with its contents was one of the most valuable possessions of the University, and it was with much regret that its destruction by fire was witnessed on the morning of March 4th 1899. However before noon of the same day plans were being made for the erection of another building. The Science Hall was completed in 1893 at a cost of $40,000.

Again the institution was without a president for two years. Dr. Reynolds became the second time the acting president and under his wise supervision the school prospered as never before.

In 1895 J. L. Goodknight, D. D., was chosen president. Under this administration the affairs of the University were well managed as Dr. Goodknight had made a careful study of the methods of the great universities of Europe. Also the standard of the school was raised and attendance reached 465.

At a special meeting in August of 1897 the Board of Regents, after careful deliberation and consultation, chose Jerome Hall Raymond, A. M., Ph. D. as president of the University. He entered at once upon the duties of his office and has labored diligently and with marvelous success to build up the University and place it on a level with the universities of our land.

The University seemed to enter upon a brighter era. Never before had the attendance been so large or increased so rapidly. New departments and courses were established, and many new changes made which have proved quite beneficial to the institution.

Perhaps the first to be mentioned is the plan of continuous sessions, dividing the University year into four quarters of twelve weeks each with a recess of one week between each quarter. The full value of the Summer Quarter can only be partially appreciated by those not profiting by it. It is very advantageous to both the students and the professors. A student unable to spend the winter months in going to school may spend his summer vacation in profitable study at the University. Also an instructor may arrange to take his vacation any quarter of the year. Although the Summer Quarter of 1898 was the first attempt, it met with admirable success. The number of students in attendance was 190, representing thirteen states of the Union and thirty-one of the fifty-five counties in West Virginia. It is to be hoped that this plan will be permanently established in order that the University may become beneficial to a greater number of people. In order to extend the usefulness of the University to people who could not attend during the regular session of the year, the Board of Regents authorized the establishment of a department of Instruction by Correspondence. This plan has also been successful and at present 170 students are receiving benefits from the University in that way.

The Music School, one of the most attractive adjuncts of the University, was organized in 1897. The Executive Committee was authorized by the Board of Regents to take this step, provided that no salaries should be paid by the University. Therefore the salaries of the instructors were personally guaranteed for the two years, by the President of the Board and the President and Vice-President of the University. At present the Music Faculty consists of four instructors, viz: Professor C. A. Ellenberger, the director, Mr. Frank Keene, at the head of the stringed instrument department, Miss Russell McMurphy, at the head of the piano department, and Miss Grace Martin, assistant in piano department. Notwithstanding the adverse circumstances under which it labored during the first year the Music School enrolled 54 students. It is a very desirable addition to the University and has been given an endowment of $3,000 for two years by the legislature of the state.

Under the same conditions as the Music School, the Department of Draw- and Painting was established. Directed by Mrs. Eva Hubbard it has become one of the attractive and refining influences in the University. This department received from the legislature $1,000 for two years.

Also two courses were established, viz: Bachelor of Philosophy and Bachelor of Letters. These, in addition to the Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Science and the Law courses, enable a student to study along almost any line that he could desire.

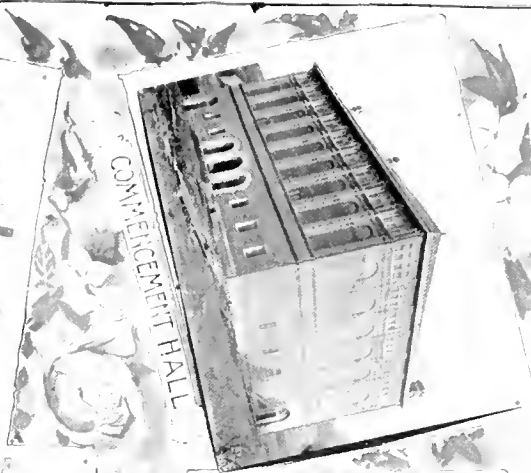

This material development was paralleled by no less additions to the teaching force. Besides the new instructors already mentioned, the departments of Greek, French, German, Elocution, History, and Political Science, have each received a separate instructor.

Taking a hasty glance at the foundation and growth of the "Pride of the Alleghenies" we can see that it has been slow but sure. As the hidden resources of the state were developed, the institution was built up more and more until it has become the pride of every true West Virginian. The growth has been one of quality and character quite as much as of numbers and resources. When everything is said that can be said of its growth in material prosperity, the elevation of the scholarship and intellectual tone of the University has been its most marked achievement and it is surely our proudest boast, our best ground at once of rejoicing and confidence.

There has scarcely been a time since the Preparatory Building was built when some part of the campus has not been littered with stones and lumber of a new building. At present the north wing is being added to the University Hall. As the Legislature has appropriated $40,000 for the construction of a Library and Museum Building and $10,000 for an Armory, two new buildings will soon be added to the campus.

SCIENCE HALL

COMMENCEMENT HALL

MUSIC HALL

U.S. EXPERIMENT STATION

PREPARATORY BUILDING AND LIBRARY

MECHANICAL HALL

The Alumni.

Officers for 1898 '99.

President, HON. J. R. TROTTER.

Secretary and Treasurer, PROF. R. A. ARMSTRONG.

It has long been recognized that the quality of work done in the humbler colleges and universities of the country is, on the whole, superior to that done in schools which enjoy the reputation of being "Our great institutions of learning."

These smaller schools are not thronged with sons of rich men, who boast of their wealth and their ancestry, and who enter college halls because their social standing requires that they should spend a period of years in some institution that boasts of colonial origin and the patronage of influence and wealth. Their students are, as a rule, from what the world calls the "middle classes," who are able neither to trace their ancestry to colonial origin nor to boast of wealth enough to render them independent of their own efforts. They are youth who have received no inheritance but honesty and ambition, who claim success through no other channel than industry.

Our own University is neither old nor famous; it is the chief educational institution of a little state that only a few years ago was looked upon as a part of the "forest primeval," and was pointed out to the world as the spot "where time has slumbered." Harvard and Yale have graduated their thousands, while the West Virginia University can point to only a few hundreds to whom she has given degrees; yet these few hundreds, when compared with an equal number of the sons of Harvard or Yale, show more than an equal number of names that have become eminent.

Not alone in our own state are her graduates recognized and honored; but in more than half the states have they found positions of trust and emolument open to them.

Our hillsides may be steep and rough, our youth may be horny-handed sons of toil, our University may be humble; but somehow a course in muscular development and physical industry on a West Virginia hillside, succeeded by a few years of polishing and mental training in the State University, turns out a quality of manhood that is sought after in the markets.

But it is pleasing to note that our own state is recognizing more fully each year the importance of filling all positions of authority and trust with men who have been equipped for the duties of these positions with a liberal education. The time will soon be when none will be recognized as qualified to fill public offices and to legislate for the people who have not first spent years in careful training for their work.

The history of the University is given elsewhere in this volume, but it is interesting in this connection to look back over the different administrations and glance hastily at the various classes that have taken affectionate leave of their alma mater and have gone out to achieve success for themselves, and in so doing, to win honor for her. Nearly all her sons have been successful in the vocations of life which best suited them, and quite a number have won a considerable degree of eminence and renown. The names of some of these we mention en passant in connection with the classes to which they belong.

The First Administration.

DOCTOR ALEXANDER MARTIN, who organized the University, became the first president and served eight years--from 1867 to 1875. During the first three years of Dr. Martin's administration there were no graduates. In 1870 the University gave to her first son her benediction and sent him out into the world. This was M. H. Dent, of Monongalia County, who afterwards studied law and made it his profession. He is now president of the Supreme Court of Appeals, and resides at Grafton, W. Va.

The class of 1871 was double the size of the first class, and consisted of O. H. Dille and W. E. Jolliffe, both of whom are residents of Morgantown.

There were four degrees conferred in 1872, one being taken by I. C. White, who has achieved national reputation as a scientist. His home is also in Morgantown.

The class of 1873 contained the unlucky number, thirteen; and as if to reassert the bane that fate has placed on this odd number, "deceased" has been written after one name on the roll of the class of '73, that of E. T. Bullock. In this class was James F. Brown, who is now a prominent lawyer, of Charleston, W. Va., and a member of the Board of Regents of the University; and D. B. Purinton, now president of the Denison University, Granville, Ohio.

The year 1874 saw seven young men equipped with the degree of Bachelor of Arts. T. P. Jacobs was one of them. He is now well known as Judge Jacobs, having occupied the bench in the fourth judicial district. His home is at New Martinsville, W. Va.

In 1875, there were seven graduates, one of the seven being J. P. Dolliver who is well known in national politics. He has been re-elected to Congress from the fourth district in Iowa.

The Second Administration.

The second president of the University was John R. Thompson, A. M. He was appointed in 1876 and served until 1882.

Seven degrees were conferred in 1876, and nine in 1877. The class of the latter year contained James S. Stewart, professor of mathematics in his alma mater.

In the class of six members that graduated in 1878, was A. G. Dayton, of Philippi, W. Va., who is serving his third term as congressman from the second district.

The classes of 1879, 1880, and 1881 were small. The first contained three members, the second five, and the third three. Thos. E. Hodges, our professor of Physics, was a member of the last named class.

The class of 1882 was almost as large as those of the three preceding years combined. Nine young men took degrees this year, among them was James H. Stewart, who, for several years, served as a member of the board of regents of the University, and is now Director of the State Agricultural Experiment Station.

The Third Administration.

The third administration was that of William L. Wilson, LL. D., whose term of office lasted only one year—from 1882 to 1883. At the end of that time he resigned to accept the congressional nomination for the second district, West Virginia.

The class of this year numbered nine members; among them were Charles B. Foster, who at present holds the chair of Theology in the Chicago University; S. B. Brown, professor of Geology, and John L. Johnston, professor of Civil Engineering, in the West Virginia University.

The First Interregnum.

From 1883 to 1885 the University was without a regularly elected head. During this time A. L. Purinton, A. M. was acting president.

The classes of 1884 and 1885 contained seven men each. Waitman T. Barbe, field-agent of the University, and assistant to the president, was a member of the former class.

The Fourth Administration.

In 1885 E. M. TURNER, LL. D., became president and served until 1893. The first class to graduate under this administration, that of 1886, contained five members; among these was Robt. A. Armstrong, now vice-president and professor of English Literature in the University.

In 1887, five degrees were conferred, six in 1888, twelve in 1889 and seven in 1890. The class of 1891, which contained fourteen members, was honored by having as one of its number Miss Hattie Lyon, (Mrs. Franklin Jewett,) the first woman to graduate from the West Virginia University.

In 1892, bachelor's degrees were conferred upon twelve young men, and in 1893, twelve men and two women composed the senior class.

The Second Interregnum.

From 1893 to 1895 the University was again without an elected president. During this period Doctor P. B. Reynolds, professor of Moral and Political sciences, occupied the post of executive head.

In the class of 1894 there were sixteen members, in that of 1895 seventeen—fifteen men and two women.

The Fifth Administration.

The executive chair was filled in 1895 by the election of John L. Good-knight to the presidency. His term of office lasted two years—until 1897.

The class of 1896 contained fourteen men and one woman, that of 1897 was composed of seventeen men and five women.

The Sixth Administration.

In June, 1897, the president's chair was again vacant. Professor R. A. Armstrong, Vice-President, being placed in charge until Dr. Good-knight's successor should be elected by the board of regents.

In the following August the board met and elected Jerome H. Raymond, Ph. D., the present executive.

The largest class ever graduated from the University received degrees in 1898. This class contained twenty-six men and three women. This year, for the first time, the ranks of the senior class were broken by death. Ralph W. Heavener of Buckhannon, W. Va., died March 19th, 1898.

In June of the present year the list of the Alumni will again be augmented by the addition of the class of '99, which contains twenty-six men and two women.

This will bring the total number of alumni, having taken degrees in the regular academic courses up to three hundred and three.

The Law Alumni.

In addition to this number, the law school, which was established in 1879, has graduated, including the class of the present year, twenty classes containing two hundred and sixty-one members. These are to be found in almost every state in the Union. Many of them have achieved distinction in politics, and nearly all of them are successful in the practice of their profession.

It is gratifying to see the spirit of fraternity that appears amongst the graduates of the University wherever they are brought together. In several places where a sufficient number of them reside, local alumni associations have been formed which serve to promote social and intellectual intercourse among their members and to keep alive the spark of reverence and love for their alma mater. Such organizations exist in Chicago, Wheeling, Charleston, Parkersburg and Huntington.

And may this spirit of brotherhood always exist among our alumni. It has been said of West Virginians that they are clannish; that they are always for each other. May this continue to be so, even to a greater degree than now. What nobler attachment can be imagined than that which prompts the sons and daughters of any state to stand proudly by and to help and to defend each other whenever occasion demands.

Senior Class Officers.

President.	B. F. LAUGHLIN.
Vice President.	C. H. QUIMBY, Jr.
Secretary.	MISS LUCY WOOD.
Treasurer.	C. D. BARBE.
Historian.	J. W. HORN.

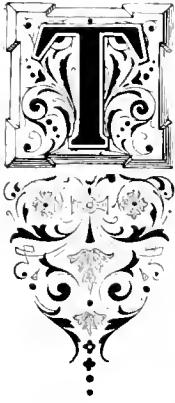

Class Yell.

Rickety, rickety, rah, rah, rah;
Rickety, rickety, wah, ooh, wah;
Boomerang, boomerang, boom-te-ine,
We're the class of '99.

Colors.

Blue and Garnet.

Senior Class History.

THE class of '99 is nearing its exodus from the halls of science and the atmosphere of intelligence into the busy world of action. Heavy tasks and responsibilities will be left here and newer and heavier tasks and responsibilities will be taken up elsewhere.

It is our painful duty to note that one of our number, W. G. Clemans, was taken from us by death on Jan. 28, 1899. He was one of whom we were proud, one whose character was above reproach and whose loss we all mourn. We shall ever hold him in grateful remembrance.

This senior class, strange as it may seem, is composed of seniors. There are no freshmen or sophomores on our roll. Not many classes can say as much. Caesar was a Roman, Cromwell was an Englishman, Burns was a Scotchman, but we are seniors. Webster was an orator, Pluto was a philosopher, Mrs. Browning was a poetess, but we are seniors.

We stand in numbers as about thirty gentlemen to three ladies. You must not estimate our co-educational enthusiasm by the per cent. of us who are co-eds. If you want to find that, the rule is, reverse and square the per cent. and multiply by 84 3-5, then your result will show that we are about all co-educational enthusiasts and co-ed admirers.

The class athletic record can't be beaten no matter how much you pound it. Just listen to this for base ball. When we were freshmen we beat all other classes; when we were juniors we beat all other classes; when we were seniors—we sit and weep for more classes to beat.

Our members say that education is the best thing in these days of progress, and yet several of them have gotten married before getting through college. What ought we to do with them?

It used to be said (as a joke) that the reason there was so much knowledge at the university was because nobody ever took any away. We are going to take a large measure of it home with us. Maybe that's a little hard on the university, but they'll have to supply the deficiency somehow.

While we speak of our past success for the benefit of the world we would not advise other classes to try to equal us. We do not believe in advising impossibilities. But we would say to others though you can't do what we have done, do the best you can. Dizzy as are the heights to which we've already ascended, dizzier still are those we shall reach in the future. We'll not mention them that your heads may not swim.

HISTORIAN.

Senior Class Roll.

- J. J. ABERSOLD, B. S. C. E., New Martinsville, W. Va., ϕ κ ψ .
ENGINEERING SOCIETY. Exchange Editor Athenaeum, 1898-'99.
President Engineering Society.
- T. Z. ATKESON, B. Agr., Buffalo, W. Va.
Agricultural Society. Graduate Barbersville College, 1896.
- C. D. BARBE, A. B., Morgantown, W. Va.
Columbian, President fall term, 1898. Treasurer Senior Class.
- C. E. BERKSHIRE, A. B., Madsville, W. Va.
Parthenon, Y. M. C. A., Vice President, 1898-9. Association Delegate to Cleveland Convention, 1898. Methodist Protestant Minister.
- G. M. BELTZHOVER, Jr., A. B., Shepherdstown, W. Va.
Y. M. C. A., Graduate of Shepherdstown Normal, 1896.
- E. B. CARSKADON, A. B. L., Headsville, W. Va. ϕ Σ κ .
Columbian. Cadet Captain.
- W. G. CLEMANS, A. B. L., Benson, W. Va. κ Λ J .
Columbian, President Winter term, 1899.
Y. M. C. A., Corresponding Secretary, 1898-9. Association Delegate to Baltimore Convention, 1898. Association Delegate to Northfield 1898. Graduate of Union College, 1895. Died Jan. 28, 1899.
- MISS CARRIE LOUISE DENT, Ph. B., Grafton, W. Va.
Woman's League. Graduate Wilson College, Pa., 1898.
- A. L. EDDY, A. B., Cross Roads, W. Va. ϕ κ Σ .
Parthenon, Anatomical Society.
- F. N. FRUM, B. S. C. E., Bridgeport, W. Va. κ Λ J .
Engineering Society, Y. M. C. A., President, 1898-9. Association Delegate to Northfield, 1897. President of Junior Class, 1897-8. Graduate Fairmont Normal, 1893.
- G. E. GRAMM, B. S. M. E., Grafton, W. Va. ϕ Σ κ .
Engineering Society. Cadet Major.
- P. E. GREEN, B. S. C. E., Baltimore, Md. κ Λ J .
Engineering Society, President winter term, 1899.
- F. A. HAUBER, A. B. and LL. B., St. Mary's, Pa.
Columbian, Assistant Librarian. Graduate of Villanova College, Pa. B. S., 1897. Preliminary Oratorical Contest 1899.

ABERSOLD
GRAMM

ATKINSON
CLEMANS
GREEN

BAUDE
DIXIE HUTCHER

BEETZHOVER
LADDY
HOLDEN

BEIRNSHIRE
FRY HOBNE

CARRINGTON
KONRAD

- C. F. HOLDEN, Ph. B., Clarksburg, W. Va. ΣA .
 Parthenon, President winter term, '98. Won in Regents' Prize Declamation Contest '95. Won as Inter-Society Contest Orator, '97. Won in Preliminary Oratorical Contest, '98. Won Medal in Inter-Collegiate Oratorical Contest, '98. President Sophomore Class, '96-7.
- J. W. HORN, A. B., Capon Bridge, W. Va. $h A$.
 Parthenon, President fall term, '98. Y. M. C. A. Association Delegate to Tri-State Convention, '97. Historian Senior Class, '99. Graduate of Fairmont Normal, '93.
- A. G. HUGHES, A. B., Ravenswood, W. Va. $\phi h \eta$.
 Columbian. Won Inter-Society Contest Debate, '98. Inter-Society Contest Debator, '97. Preliminary Oratorical Contest, '99. Y. M. C. A. Elected State Senator, Fifth District, '96. Graduate of West Virginia Conference Seminary, '94.
- P. S. HUNTER, A. B., Morgantown, W. Va. $h A$.
 Parthenon. Graduate of Park Institute, Allegheny, Pa.
- PHILIP KONRAD, B. S. C. E., New Martinsville, W. Va. ΣA .
 Parthenon. President, winter term, '97. Engineering Society. Athletic Association.
- G. R. KREBS, B. S., New Martinsville, W. Va. ΣA .
 Parthenon. Captain of foot ball team, '96. Played two seasons on Latrobe Athletic team. Played five seasons on W. V. U. team. Won medal for Putting shot, '98. Won medal for Throwing Hammer, '98. Athletic Association.
- B. F. LAUGHLIN, A. B., Grafton, W. Va. $\phi \Sigma h, \theta A E$.
 Parthenon. President, spring term, '99. Won gold medal for drill and discipline, '96. Won silver medal for marksmanship, '97. Distinguished cadet and captain, '98-99. Detailed from corps as Adjutant, Third Battalion, First Infantry West Virginia National Guards, April 20, '98. Regimental Adjutant First Infantry, October 1, '98. President Senior Class.
- J. E. LAW, A. B. L., Salem, W. Va. $h A$.
 Historian of Senior Law Class, '99. Graduate Salem College, '94. Superintendent of Harrison county, '95-'99.
- LEE LEWELLYN, B. S. C. E., Duke, W. Va.
 Engineering Society. Athletic Association. Captain base ball team, '99. Assistant Mining Engineer for the Monongah Coal and Coke Company.

- ROBERT MORRIS, A. B. and LL. B., Harrisville, W. Va.
 Graduate of Peabody Normal College, '95. Principal of Harrisville High School, '95-96. Graduate of University of Nashville, A. B., '97. Editor Ritchie Standard and West Union Herald, '97-98. Married June 16, 1898.
- W. F. NARET, B. S. Agr. and B. Agr., Morgantown, W. Va.
 Parthenon. Agricultural Society.
- W. M. POLLOCK, A. B., Morgantown, W. Va.
 Agricultural Society. Graduate of West Virginia Conference Seminary, '96.
- C. H. QUIMBY, JR., B. S. C. E., Wheeling, W. Va. Phi Kappa.
 Engineering Society. President, fall term, '98. Won first medal in Target Practice, '98. Vice President Senior Class. Graduate of Linsley Institute, '95. Married Dec. 28, '98.
- A. P. ROMINE, A. B., Morgantown, W. Va. Sigma Alpha.
 Parthenon. Athletic Association. Editor University Daily, '97 and '98. Editor Athenaeum, '99. Manager foot ball team, '97 and '98.
- A. L. SAWTELLE, A. B. L., Wheeling, W. Va. Phi Kappa.
 Parthenon. Dramatic Club. Prosecuting Attorney Law Class. Graduate of West Liberty Normal, '95.
- J. M. SKINNER, Ph. B., Sistersville, W. Va.
 Graduate of Peabody Normal College.
- A. G. TAIT, B. S. C. E., Randall, W. Va. Sigma Alpha.
 Engineering Society. Draughtsman for Fairmont Electric Railway Company.
- C. E. TREMBLY, A. B., Terra Alta, W. Va.
 Graduate of Fairmont Normal, '94. Graduate of Peabody Normal College, '96.
- MRS. EDNA D. TYSON, Art Department, Grassland, W. Va.
 Woman's League. Married Sept. 7, 1898.
- H. M. WHITE, A. B. L., Camden, W. Va. Sigma Alpha.
 Parthenon. Athletic Association. Member of Inter-Collegiate Oratorical Association, '96-7. President of the same, '97-8. Captain foot ball team, '97. President Freshman Class, '95-6.
- W. H. WHITHAM, B. S., Morgantown, W. Va.
Y. M. C. A.
- MISS LUCY WOOD, A. B., Morgantown, W. Va.
 Columbian. Woman's League. Secretary Senior Class. Graduate of Morgantown High School, '95.

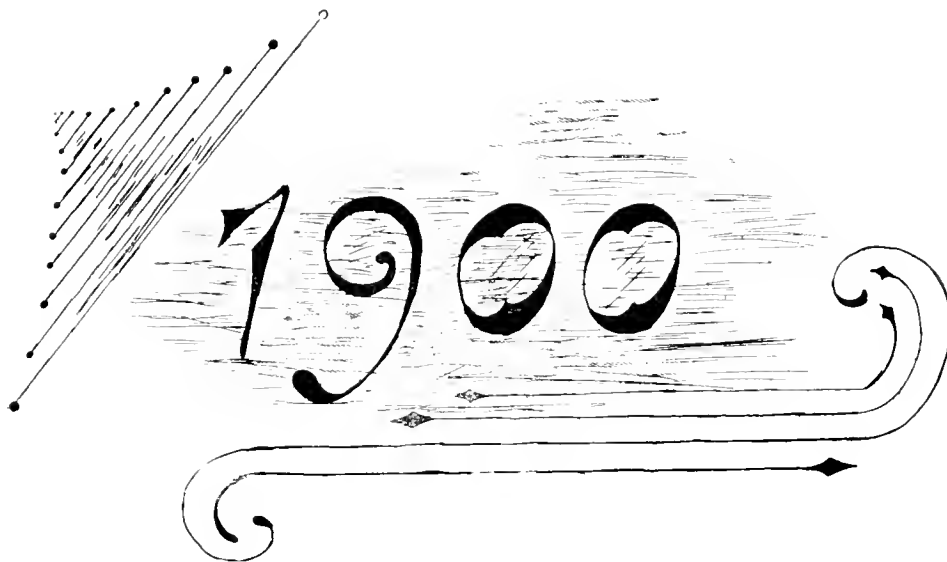

KERRS
TREMBLY

LATGOLDIN
ROUSSE WOODS

LAW
SWEETLAND
MORRIS
WHITE

TAFT
HESTER

QUINBY
POLLOCK

Class Organization.

President,	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	A. W. PORTERFIELD.
Vice-President,	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	BRUCE MCKINLEY.
Treasurer,	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	H. M. GORE.
Secretary,	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	MISS H. JONES.
Historian,	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	MISS WILLA H. BUTCHER.
Poet,	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	A. W. SMITH.
Athletic Manager,	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	W. H. SOUTH.

Class Yell:

Boom-a-la, boom-a-la, rah-rah-reck,
Nineteen hundred's right on deck.

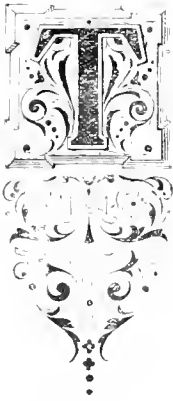

Motto :

“Respite finem.”

Colors:

Dark Green and Lavender.

History of Class of '00.

THE Junior class was organized October 1893. And what a time there was in organizing. There was Mr. Van B— with his Mr. President, I rise to a point of personal privilege—at every nomination made and at every resolution offered.

However at last after many difficulties the following officers were elected. Mr. Porterfield president; Mr. McKinley, vice president; Miss Jones, secretary. All things flowed calmly and serenely until the question arose—how the class picture should be taken for the MOXTICOLA. This question brought all to their feet at once, confusion and disorder reigned supreme throughout the room. Mr. Max was overheard saying to Mr. S— that if he was not allowed to have his likeness taken while he was reading German aloud, he would just vote down having any class picture at all. Miss Br— called Mr. G—a dude because he wished to have his taken in full regimentals a la Annon.

After many ballots it was decided that the all important picture should be taken en masse. However two weeks later the president was commanded to call a special meeting to reconsider the question. At this meeting it was decided by the "elect" to have individual pictures and thus you see us on another page.

Ours is a noble class. We hail from the north, south, east and west. We are foot ball kickers, Woman-Leaguers, Honor-Leaguers etc. There is no need for me to recite here the many great and glorious deeds which we have accomplished, for you already know them. Nothing has ever conquered us, mathematics has been, as our melancholy professor told us, "as easy as rolling off a log." But there is one much to our sorrow, who after a whole year's hard study in this same branch still persist in saying Six and one are two.

Chemistry, Economics, Greek, Latin and all the other courses of our curriculum one by one crown us with the laurel wreaths of victory.

Our four long years of college life are drawing to a close, but one more year and then we shall take upon ourselves the responsibilities of life. In a sense our four years may be represented by the four great fundamental processes of mathematics. First addition—the simple collection of individuals, each representing a different personality, and thus giving use to the sudden explosions and outbursts which mark the Freshman year.

Then follows subtraction, in which process we are rather sifted, many of the disturbing elements are removed; and indeed it is said sometimes

BARBERMAN
CROSSLAND
HOTE

BRADY
EBERS
HOPE

BROWNING
FREN HYGHER

HASH
GARRISON JAMISON

BEYER
GOODE
JONES

CONLEY
HALL
LEWEN

that there is a great vacancy of—common sense—in what is known as the Sophomore year.

Later multiplication or rather unification follows. New responsibilities, new acquaintances appear and form a combination and union hitherto unknown. This period, the Junior year, is distinguished for its hard working and steady students.

Finally division manifests itself and out of the unity that has gone before there is formed a number of well developed and all-rounded individuals known as Seniors. The final separation then takes place and the members are scattered throughout the country seldom if ever to meet again in that happiness and freedom of earlier years.

The year '98-'99 has been rather like all Junior years. We have had discouragements and successes; but we hope these have only strengthened and disciplined us for the time when we shall be no longer gay and jolly Juniors, but grave and sedate Seniors.

HISTORIAN.

Junior Class Roll.

ISAAC ALLEN BARNES, Ph. B., Morgantown, W. Va.

VAN ARA BARRICKMAN, A. B. L., Cassville, W. Va.

Columbian. President of Society, Fall Term, '97.

BERTHA CLELAND BROWNING, A. B., Wellsburg, W. Va.

MONTICOLA.

GRACE LUNSFORD BRAHM, A. B., Fairmont, W. Va.

Columbian.

IRA BENTON BUSH, A. B., Auburn, W. Va.

WILLA HART BUTCHER, A. B., Fairmont, W. Va.

Columbian. Class Historian.

GEORGE WASHINGTON CONLEY, A. B., Craigmore, W. Va.

LATHROP RUSSELL CHARTER, JR., A. B., Phi Kappa, West Union, W. Va.

HOWARD RALPH CROSSLAND, B. S., Phi Kappa Sigma, New Haven, Pa.

Class Representative on Executive Committee Athletic Association,
'97-'98. Lecture Course Committee. Manager W. V. U. Football Team, '99.

CHARLES HENRY EBERS, Ph. B., Ravenswood, W. Va.

JAMES A. GARRISON, Ph. B., Sigma Alpha, Jollytown, Pa.

Columbian.

HOWARD MASON GORE, A. B., Phi Sigma Kappa, Clarksburg, W. Va.
 Columbian. MONTICOLA. Regents' Gold Medal. McMahon prize $25.

LEONARD S. HALL, A. B., New Martinsville, W. Va.

SILAS MARION HOFF, A. B., Morgantown, W. Va.

DAVID HOTT, JR., A. B., Phi Kappa Sigma, Martinsburg, W. Va.

WILLIAM WELLINGTON HUGHES, LL.B., Phi Kappa Phi, Weston, W. Va.
 Columbian Inter-Society Debater, '99. Editor-in chief MONTICOLA, '99.

HANNAH LOUISE JONES, B. L., Morgantown, W. Va.

DAVID LEMEN, A. B., Phi Kappa Sigma, Shepherdstown, W. Va.

WALTER LORING LOWE, B. S., Shinaston, W. Va.
 2nd Medal for marksmanship.

WALTER ALEXANDER McGLUMPHY, B. S., Kappa Alpha, Rock Lick, W. Va.

BRUCE MCKINLEY, Ph. B., Pullman, W. Va.
 Columbian Honor League. Vice-President of class, '99.

JAMES ALVA MEREDITH, A. B. L., Phi Sigma Kappa, Alma, W. Va.
 Parthenon. Bus. Mgr. MONTICOLA.

HAYMOND MAXWELL, Ph. B., Phi Sigma Kappa, Clarksburg, W. Va.

BIRDIE McVICKER, B. L., Morgantown, W. Va.

ROBERT NELSON MEADE, B. L., Sigma Alpha, Hinton, W. Va.
 Choral Society. Treasurer of Athletic Association. Lecture Course
 Committee. MONTICOLA. "Beanery" Football Team. Class Basket Ball Team.

GILBERT BENTON MILLER, A. B., Phi Kappa Phi, Kearneysville, W. Va.

ALLEN WILSON PORTERFIELD, A. B., Phi Kappa Phi, Shepherdstown, W. Va.
 Columbian. President of Society, Winter Term, '99. President of class, '99.

INA BLANCHE RIGHTMIRE, Ph. B., Grafton, W. Va.
 Columbian. Secretary of Honor League.

WILBUR LAWRENCE ROBE, A. B., Morgantown, W. Va.

ROBERT DOUGLAS ROLLER, JR., A. B., Charleston, W. Va. -
 MONTICOLA. "Beanery" Football Team. Second Football Team.
 Sergeant in Cadet Corps.

BENJAMIN RICHARDSON ROLLER, A. B., Charleston, W. Va.
 "Beanery" Football Team, '97. Sergeant in Cadet Corps.

HENRY DUNLAP GRINNEL REYNOLDS, Phi Kappa Sigma, Wheeling, W. Va. - Theta Xi.
 B. S. Linsley Institute. Columbian. Manager "Beanery" Football Team '96-'97. Vice-President Anatomy Class. Chemist. MONTICOLA.

LOWE
FORRESTER
SMITH

MAXWELL
KENNEDY
SMITH

MCCLELLAN
RICHTER
STANLEY

MCKINLEY ROBE
WADDELL

MEADE
ROBERT WILLIS

MEREDITH
ROBERT L.
SMITH
YENGER

ALPHEUS WILSON SMITH, A. B., S V, Philippi, W. Va.

Parthenon. Inter-Society Essayist, '98. Inter-Society Debator, '99.

WALTER HAINES SOUTH, Ph. B., Phi Sigma, Morgantown, W. Va.

EDWARDS STUART STALNAKER, B. S., A T G, Theta, Martinsburg, W. Va.

Entered Junior from Penn. College. Asst. Bus. Mgr. MONTICOLA.
Class Representative Executive Committee Athletic Association.
Asst. Mgr. W. V. U. Baseball Team, '99.

CHARLES WALTER WADDELL, A. B., Phi Kappa, Brandonville, W. Va.

Parthenon. Editor of Athenaeum, '99. First Lieutenant. Adjutant.

CHAUNCEY DEWITT WILLEY, A. B. L., Phi Kappa, Morgantown, W. Va.

Parthenon. Declamation prize Inter-Society, '96-'97.

LOUIS ARMSTRONG YEAGER, A. B. L., S V, Marlinton, W. Va.

Parthenon. Declamation prize Inter-Society, '98. Captain Football Team, '98. Captain Second Baseball Team, '99.

Juniors.

Barnes—"A minister, but still a man."

Barrickman—"On either side he would dispute,
Confute, change hands, and still confute."

Browning—"I never yet saw man."

Brahm—"Yes, what I love determines how I love."

Bush—"I know a hawk from a handsaw."

Butcher—"She is of stature somewhat low."

Conley—"For I'm not so old, and not so plain, and I'm quite prepared to marry"

Crossland—"He hath a lean and hungry look."

Ebers—"His bark is worse than his bite."

Garrison—"I to myself am dearer than a friend."

Gore—"Haste is of the Devil."

Hall—"A mother's pride, a father's joy."

Hoff—"And from that luckless hour, my tyrant fair,
Has led and turned me by a single hair."

Hott—"Ecce, Homo."

Hughes—"Frank, haughty, rash—the Rupert of debate."

Jones—"What's in a name?"

Lemen—"This is a world of sweets and sour."

Lowe—"I am, what I am."

McGlumphy—"Patience and shuffle the cards."

McKinley—"To hear his girlish voice in laughter ring,
But oh, ye gods, to hear him sing!"

Meredith—"Greater men than I have lived;
But I don't believe it."

Maxwell—"None knew him but to love him."

McVicker—"So womanly, so benign and so meek."

Meade—"I come not, friends, to steal away your hearts;
I am no orator as Brutus is;
* * * * * I only speak right on."

Miller—"His worth is warrant for his welcome."

Porterfield—"He spreadeth himself like a young bay tree,—
By Zeus!"

Reynolds—"But I—that I am not shap'd for sportive tricks,
Nor made to court an amorous looking glass."

Rightmire—"She is pretty to walk with,
And witty to talk with,
And pleasant, too, to think on."

Robe—"A man of mark."

R. D. and B. R. Roller—"They are alike, as two peas."

Smith—"Fate tried to conceal him by naming him Smith."

South—"Man delights not me; no, nor woman either."

Stalmaker—"None but himself can be his parallel."

Waddell—"A soldier,
Full of strange oaths and bearded like a pard."

Wiley—"Memory is fickle; trust her not, but rely upon a pony."

Yeager—"The ladies call him sweet;
The stairs, as he treads on them, kiss his feet."

Officers.

President, - - - - -	CLYDE RANDOLPH.
Vice-President, - - - - -	LEANA PROVENCE.
Secretary, - - - - -	HUGO FRANKENBERGER.
Treasurer, - - - - -	CHARLES N. McWHORTER.
Poet, - - - - -	W. L. SIX.
Historian, - - - - -	LOUIS C. THOMPSON.

Motto :

“The doorstep to the Temple of Wisdom is a knowledge of our own ignorance.”

Colors.

Cadet Gray and Bright Red.

Yen!!!

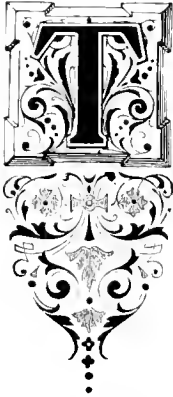

Ki! Yi! Yi!

Zip! Rah! Boom!

Nineteen One,

Give us room!

Sophomore History.

THE Class of 1901, which is now termed the Sophomore, is undoubtedly the greatest class the University has ever had. This may be shown in many ways.

First, let us look at the time the class was brought together; it was in the fall of 1897. We entered as Freshmen, some from the Prep's ranks and others for the first time; as green as it was possible for such an extraordinary body of people to be, but we soon found that the best thing we could do was to resolve not to be so verdant and take an active interest in all the happenings which concerned us, or seemed to indicate that we were to be imposed upon as a class.

To crown all our efforts on our own behalf, we were the first class to enter the University as Freshmen under the rule of the new President. Thus, our progress may be determined by the special advantages offered us in our Freshman year.

The class of 1901 entered on this year's work with an enrollment of about sixty members. Since that time we have lost a number of our classmates; some have been unable to return; a few have made the unfortunate mistake of leaving our ranks to enter those of the Junior class. This they did with much regret, because with them it was a case of leaving a sure thing for an uncertainty as regards the relative greatness of the two classes.

The class has among its most valued members, many young ladies. Some of the fairest from this and other States are found in its ranks. They are taking work in almost all branches that are taught here, and helping by their brilliant work to make the fame of this class outshine and outlast any that has ever left, or ever will leave, the University. This we feel confident will be so, as we are a many-sided class.

We have those among us who are prominent literary workers, military men, society men, athletes, and last, but not least, men who are lively participators in all the "College Pranks," which the jolly spirit of ancestral greatness originates for the amusement of the boys and the vexation of the faculty. These restless spirits, ever on the alert, morning, noon and night, often necessitate a special meeting of the disciplinary committee. This shows also that we are destined to be great, as many of those who are now at the forefront of the nation's affairs, were continually in all kinds of scraps when at college.

It was not to any of these things that the officers owe their election, but to other qualities—those which we recognize as making up great men.

SOPHOMORE CLASS

Our President was elected because we felt sure that he would please all the "Profs.," with his quiet, unobtrusive manners and his noticeable willingness to abide by the fixed decisions of high authority; his patient forbearance is remarkable—setting the class a good example and creating a friendly feeling in the hearts of the faculty for the class in general.

The Vice-President (for she is one of our progressive co-eds.) came to her great and respected position, because we wanted some one who could, to some extent, offset the mild and sedate ways of our President.

The class had to have for secretary a man who is active among the ladies, and able by his great stature to uphold the rulings of our President.

One of the recommendations mentioned as possessed by our Treasurer was that he is a good runner, and in that way would be able to get away with the class funds and save the expense of prosecution in case his accounts should not balance at the end of his term of office.

Our wooer of the Muse has as a recommendation the fact that he is not a poet who will often inflict upon us the products of his mania.

The class Historian was elected, and he begs the reader's pardon for having accepted the honor. He did not fully realize that he would have to make the general public sad with any of his attempts at history-making.

Besides having this very efficient corps of officers to rule us in our meetings, we have a very strong class spirit which makes us work together for any common object that is for the good of all. The class is such a strong unit that the other and higher classes look to us to push through projects which they are unable to accomplish without our assistance.

We feel truly sorry that the other classes of the University are not as competent to look out for their own interests as we are for ours. Yet, while there is life there is hope, and while the other classes live there is hope that they may, some day, rise to higher levels and approach a little nearer to our standard.

The class publishing THE MOTICOLA, fearing that if we should write the entire history of our class for the first two years of its glorious existence, we would completely eclipse them, have limited our space. Therefore, with much regret we shall have to stop before being able to give more than an introduction to the entire history of our many excellent qualities.

HISTORIAN.

Sophomore Class Roll.

Bayles, W. H.	McKinney, Miss Jane.
Brooke, C. F. T.	McMechen, F. L.
Cooper, P. W.	McMurphy, J. C.
Connell, J. H.	McWhorter, C. N.
Core, Miss Minnie.	Meyers, W. H.
Dille, Miss Rachel J. H.	Miller, J. F.
Dodson, R.	Miller, G. B.
Eakin, J. R.	Moreland, J. R.
Faulkner, F. A.	Morgan, Miss Lily S.
Frankenberger, H.	Naret, J. Q.
Garrison, H. A.	Neely, M. M.
Gibson, W. H.	Norris, Miss Ruby.
Hawse, A. L.	Poe, Clarence.
Hennen, R. V.	Provence, Miss Leana.
Hickman, C. B.	Randolph, Clyde.
Holland, W. F.	Rogers, H. F.
Hubbard, Miss Beulah B.	Ross, J. G.
Ireland, E. I.	Sage, A. B.
Jenkins, O. F.	Shaffer, P. A.
Johnson, Miss Sarah W.	Shisler, J. H.
Lang, T. S.	Six, W. L.
Lardin, F. M.	St. Clair, H. A.
Lewellyn, Miss E.	Thompson, L. C.
Long, J. C.	Utt, DeMoines.
Martin, Miss Bessie.	Vannoy, J. D.
Marten, W. G.	Willis, C. A.
McGregor, F. H.	Whitham, G. R.
McCrum, A. B.	Zevely, H. J.

Officers.

President,	-	-	-	-	-	FRANK LEWELLYN BOWMAN.
Vice President,	-	-	-	-	-	ERNEST CORBIN TABLER.
Secretary,	-	-	-	-	-	FRED ROSS BURK.
Treasurer,	-	-	-	-	-	CHARLES EDWARD DERBYSHIRE.
Historian,	-	-	-	-	-	FRANK PICKERING CORBIN.

Colors.

Crimson and Blue.

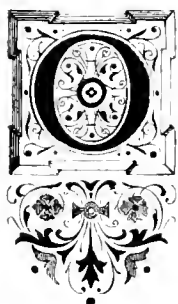

Motto.

Palma nulla sine labore
 "No palm without labor."

Yell.

And-a-bee-wo. and-a-bi-wo.
 And-a-bee-wo-bi-wo-bum.
 Bum get a rat trap
 Bigger than a cat trap;
 Bum get a rat trap
 Bigger than a cat trap.
 Bum! Bum! Caina-baw!
 Siz-Bum-Bah
 Nineteenth two -Nineteen two.
 Hoo—rah!!!

The Freshman Class.

OUR tale is short. Partly because some of us have not been long in the University, partly because the others have but recently emerged from those gloomy depths where the flunker flunketh and the (H) hare seeketh whom he may devour. We do not revert to former days and scenes because, in the dignity of college life, we would feign forget the petty affairs which we have passed through, and would think of nothing lower than the high plane to which we have attained.

Our work, during our first college year, has been entirely satisfactory to ourselves, and we hope the coming years will add new laurels to the honors already won, but we have grave apprehensions. But now, while we pause on the very brink of our second University year, and think over the nine months just past, think of the studies, the recitations, the excellent grades that we hoped to make, and the very ordinary ones we did make, the bright anticipations, and the swift flying pleasures, there comes to us a feeling of inexpressible sadness as we realize that another bright chapter of the great book of life has been finished, and those glad times are gone and gone forever.

The Freshman class was organized Nov. 15th, 1898, and by the election of a president, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer. Committees were appointed to look after the interests of the class, and the organization began its work with every promise of success.

The class has had several meetings since the one just mentioned, but they have been of minor importance and not largely attended. The class rallied at the call of the Juniors to assist in getting up a college annual,—the special feature of the assistance rendered was having the picture of the class taken for the MONTICOLA.

The Freshman class is smaller this year than usual, no doubt on account of the fact that the standard of our University is being raised, and that the requirements for admission to the first college year are greater than ever before. The total enrollment at the present time is sixty, including those that have come into the class during the year, and excluding those that have gone either upward or downward in the University course. The large number of ladies in our class, as in all other departments of the University, speaks well for the cause of co-education.

Yet, while we have so little of which we may boast, and so much of which we may well feel proud, still we have bright hopes of the future. We look eagerly forward to the time when we shall stand for the last time in the class room, to the time when we shall go forth to fight the great battle of life, to the time when our great talents, so long slighted, will be recognized and appreciated by all.

THE FRESHMAN CLASS

The true historian can clearly read the future of nations by reviewing their past or noting their present; but rather, as the haruspex of Rome, gazing on the clear sky or black thunder cloud of the summer day, beheld the fates of the Roman people, does your historian, with anxious yet hopeful eye, scan the heavens of our future, and with fixed and determined gaze, piercing the mists of the great unknown, see the members of the present Freshman class standing in the front rank of every profession, the light of hope not dimmed by misfortune or defeat, the spirit of honor and truth still swaying the mind and heart with her old, resistless power.

HISTORIAN.

Freshman Class Roll.

Alexander, Clyde, A. B., Morgantown, W. Va.
Bayles, George Harmon, M. E., Easton, W. Va.
Beall, Clarence Hough, A. B., Gladesville, W. Va.
Berkeley, Fannie Campbell, B. L., Morgantown, W. Va.
Bitner, Leila Hinkle, A. B., Kearneysville, W. Va.
Bowman, Frank Lewellyn, A. B., Charleroi, Pa.
Boyd, Robert Harrison, LL. B., Martinsburg, W. Va.
Brown, Robert Morrow, Ph. B., New Cumberland, W. Va.
Burk, Fred Ross, C. E., Pittsburg, Pa.
Burns, Dana Blackburn, C. E., Burnsville, W. Va.
Coburn, Linnie Belle, A. B., Morgantown, W. Va.
Cole, Emmet Luther, C. E., Morgantown, W. Va.
Colebank, Ora Octave, Ph. B., Stewartstown, W. Va.
Corbin, Frank Pickering, Ph. B., Ellenboro, W. Va.
Correll, Harry Davis, Ph. B., Lewisburg, W. Va.
Crenshaw, Vassar, A. B., Athens, Ala.
Cushwa, Frank William, A. B., Martinsburg, W. Va.
Derbyshire, Charles Edward, A. B., Huntington, W. Va.
Dickey, Albert Ford, C. E., Huntington, W. Va.
Flesher, Clinton Wellrose, A. B., Elkins, W. Va.
Frank, Harrison Jules Louis, Ph. B., Wheeling, W. Va.
Harr, Levi Brooks, A. B., Palatine, W. Va.
Hayes, Jeannette Clements, B. L., Morgantown, W. Va.
Hereford, Will Delatfield, Ph. B., St. Albans, W. Va.
Herrod, Francis Clyde, A. B., Dunkard, Pa.
Hutchinson, Frank David, C. E., Keyser, W. Va.
Izon, Alfred, A. B., Pittsburg, Pa.
Jones, Bettie Cooke, B. L., Morgantown, W. Va.
Killingsworth, Rich'd Huffman, A. B., Truebada, W. Va.
Kysor, Walter Archibald, M. E., Pt. Marion, Pa.
Lively, Henry Shaw, LL. B., Weston, W. Va.
Lucas, Arthur Maple, C. E., Morgantown, W. Va.
Martin, Bessie Catherine, B. L., Morgantown, W. Va.
McMechen, Carl Carter, M. E., McMechen, W. Va.
Meyers, Walter Howard, A. B., Shepherdstown, W. Va.
Miller, Frances Livermore, B. L., Monongah, W. Va.
Moreland, Henry Lazier, M. E., Morgantown, W. Va.
Muldoon, Frank Walter, M. E., Elm Grove, W. Va.
Price, William Chalfant, M. E., Morgantown, W. Va.
Read, Robert Gwynne, M. E., Elkins, W. Va.
Robinson, Carel, C. E., Charleston, W. Va.

Rogers, Ralph, M. E., Morgantown, W. Va.
Rosier, Joseph, A. B., Fairmont, W. Va.
Ruttencutter, Okey Earl, A. B., Morgantown, W. Va.
Sanders, Harry, A. B., Maidsville, W. Va.
Sennet, Maude Saville, A. B., Morgantown, W. Va.
Shelby, Edward Frank, C. E., Uniontown, Pa.
Schloss, Sidney, A. B., Morgantown, W. Va.
Shriver, Ross Chalfant, A. B., Wadestown, W. Va.
Smith, William Winfred, A. B., Ceredo, W. Va.
Stalnaker, Elizabeth Mattingly, B. L., Martinsburg, W. Va.
Swallow, Walter Ambrose, C. E., Pittsburg, Pa.
Tabler, Ernest Corban, C. E., Martinsburg, W. Va.
Taylor, Ernie Pearl, B. S., Morgantown, W. Va.
Thomas, Seth, A. B., Mason, W. Va.
Thompson, David C., A. B., Murphytown, W. Va.
Waddell, Lynne, B. L., Brandonville, W. Va.
Wertz, Edna Earle, A. B., Huntington, W. Va.
Willey, Guy Allen, M. E., Morgantown, W. Va.
Yeager, Mary Louise, B. L., Wheeling, W. Va.

Senior Law Class Organization.

President	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	J. C. FRAZER.
Vice President	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	ROBERT WHITE.
Secretary	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	G. E. ANDERSON.
Treasurer	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	R. A. WELCH.
Historian	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	J. E. LAW.

Class Colors.

Green and Red.

Law Class '99.

George Anderson,
C. H. Bush.
James E. Brown,
G. F. Boyd,
W. G. Clemans,*
E. B. Carskadon,
T. J. Davis,
E. G. Donley,
W. W. Downey,
Leo F. Dobbs,
H. K. Drane,
H. A. Dunn.
R. P. Flournoy
F. L. Fox,
J. C. Frazer,
Leila F. Frazer,
M. S. Horner,
R. R. Hoge,
J. L. Hatfield,
F. A. Hauber,

* Deceased.

C. K. Jacob,
W. G. Kennedy,
W. B. Lindsay,
J. E. Law,
Isaac Mansback,
J. F. Maynard,
R. H. Miller,
J. H. Meek,
C. E. Martin,
Robert Morris,
L. E. Poteet,
C. W. Sample,
A. L. Sawtelle,
J. E. B. Sweeney,
J. G. Thomas,
D. M. Willis,
W. C. Willis,
H. M. White,
Mrs. L. R. Wiles,
R. A. Welch,
Robert White.

SENIOR LAW CLASS

Senior Law History.

Gentlemen of the Jury:

IT becomes my distinguished honor and pleasure to present to all whom it may concern the renowned Law class of '99, who, as individuals, are behind the past and hopeful of the future.

A great deal of uncertainty arises at this early date as to who are members of the class. Real Property has not been passed and "Questions may make it clear" that some of the boys (the boys embrace the girls) may be obliged to remain over a year.

Now everybody (in the class) agrees that this is the prize class of the institution. It is made up of a class of individuals who are athirst for knowledge (?) and, once led to the fountain, will drink till full.

It is but just to the class to say of the accompanying picture that it is not a good one, though it has been secured after much trouble and several sittings it is not what we had hoped for, but we trust it may answer this purpose and serve till you may know us better, meanwhile, information of any of the individual members of the class may be had by referring to the Congressional Records, State Legislatures and Police Courts throughout the country.

We find it a very difficult task to write the history of a class which has been so prolific and versatile in educational work.

The class, though made up of the students of the Law, yet its ascendancy is throughout the entire institution and its moral influence over the student body is very noticeable (?).

Members of the class are avowed friends to progress and are allied with every movement that tends to the advancement of the University and the promotion of its interests.

The class in itself is a Law and Order League. We have endeavored to inculcate in the minds of the students that it is wrong to steal and that books taken from the library should be returned. The Honor League may take exceptions to this enunciation but we think it a fact well established and that the principle has prevailed "From the time whereof the memory of man runneth not to the contrary"—an apology to Dr. Brooke.

We see no reason why books borrowed from the Professors should not be returned, though the consensus of opinion is against us, we have no hesitancy in laying down this as a just and proper rule—That though it may not be larceny to keep books thus taken, yet if the books so taken are converted it would be contra bonus mores and should not be encouraged.

There are yet other reforms that we have encouraged and on which we offer the following suggestions.

Great care should be exercised among the students in shoving each other in the halls.

Students should not hollow on the campus nor outside the buildings.

Snow-balling should be prohibited except when there is snow and then it should be contrary to rules to throw at or hit a Professor when he is looking.

We thought it well to make these suggestions and do all in our power to bring about reform on these lines.

Foxy thinks the above rules should be made even more restrictive.

Judge has written his "opinion" on the above rules and upon the question raised as to whether it is wrong to steal, but he being away at present we are not able to give the exact wording of his opinion.

We hold that it is proper in this way to note the stand the Law Class has taken in matters pertaining to the University, that from this you might be able to observe our history and standing in this institution.

We believe that the advantages to be had and the course offered by the Law School of the West Virginia University—all of which are due, largely, to the energy and push of the class of '99—succeed in making it the best institution of the kind in the South.

And now that we are about to separate, the thought comes to us that once disunited, years may elapse before we have an opportunity of ocularly perusing the lineaments now so familiar to us in the physiognomical features of the individuals of the class: (See Barrickman's "Book of Phrases") and let us wish no greater memorial than to be remembered as the class of '99.

Written and delivered this 15th day of February, in the second year of the reign of Bill McKinley, Defender of the Faith; by the grace of God, of the United States of America, Hawaii, Cuba, Porto Rico, and the Philippines; on the first anniversary of the blowing up of the Maine in the year of our Lord 1899, and of the Declaration of Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and twenty-third, and of American Imperialism the first.

HISTORIAN.

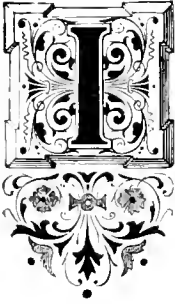

Officers.

President	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	C. P. SWINT.
Vice President	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	D. M. EASLEY.
Secretary	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	J. A. MEREDITH.
Treasurer	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	T. J. HONAKER.
Historian	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	FRANK WEAVER.

Class Roll.

Barrickman, Van Ara.	Kee, John.
Brackman, Mason Clarke.	Keifer, Walter Bee.
Butler, Seaton Garland.	Lambert, James Lighman.
Byrnside, Marshall Azariah.	Langley, Clark.
Caldwell, Gibson Lamb.	Meredith, James Alva.
Chambers, Henry B.	Morrison, Henry Clay.
Chapman, Clyde Kester.	Newcomer, Frank Coldren.
Comstock, Willard.	Philips, Harry.
Cookman, John.	Radcliffe, Count Lee.
Carver, Edgar Ashby.	Rose, Charles Curtis.
Day, Clay.	Shriver, John.
Donahey, James Henry Hernon.	Smith, Jean Frederick.
Easley, David Milton.	Smith, Gerald Newton.
Flournoy, Harry Lightfoote.	Snee, William Jefferson.
Greene, Edward H.	Spears, Samuel Tilden.
Guy, Robert Emmet.	Swiger, John Russell.
Hardwick, Daniel Boone.	Swint, Charles Patrick.
Hatcher, John Henry.	Tyson, Herman Edward.
Holsberry, Leroy Virgil.	Watts, Burnwell.
Honaker, Thomas Jesse.	Warder, Hugh.
Hughes, William Wellington.	Weaver, Frank.
Hundley, John Palmer.	Wenzell, Richard Orlando.
Huntington, Paul.	Wiles, John Rogers Clark.
Kaufman, Edio John.	Wilson, John Clifton Bursee.

Junior Law History.

It may be that some will think it presumptuous on our part to appear among the University classes. There was a time, in the not far distant past, when that would have been true; when the Law School seemed to be a place where those who failed in other departments could find refuge and a "Degree." It was a "Covert from the tempest, as the shadow of a great rock in a weary land." But this is no longer true.

Through the efforts of the Law Faculty the standard has been raised until a degree from the Law School represents as much hard work as that of any department of the University. Things have so changed that it is no longer regarded as a reproach to be a Law student, even a Junior. Therefore we have no apology to offer.

As evidence of the fact that the Junior Law Class is entitled to a place here, permit me to mention some of our chief characteristics. The class is composed of thirty-six members, representing four states, ranging in age from eighteen to thirty-four. They are so handsome that when drawn up in line on either side of the corridor, waiting for the girls to pass, they are at once the pride of the Law Faculty, the envy of prepdom, and a constant menace to the happiness of Seniors. The Business Manager and two of the Editors of the MONTICOLA come from our ranks. Two of the contestants on the Preliminary Oratorical contest, one a Columbian, the other a Parthenon. The Literary societies have also come to use our Inter-Society contestants; two of the debaters being of our number, one representing each society. And above all, we have the honor to claim, as our own the present Inter-Society orators.

While it is only in my province to record matters of history, if you will pardon me I will make the following prophecy. When these giants meet on the arena for final contest, and you see the fierce gleam in their eyes and the spark of fire radiating from their woolly locks, know all men by these presents, that there will be such a mighty conflict as hath not been seen in this place from the time whereof the memory of man runneth not to the contrary.

And these are not all the desirable traits of which we can boast. Two Junior Law students are members of the foot ball team; one the captain of the team which wrested the championship of the South from the proud sons of Virginia. Our musical talent is so manifest, that the Orchestra and the Glee Club have been utilizing a considerable amount of it, and yet we are well supplied with that most charming of all graces—power to calm troubled souls. Altogether we feel quite distinguished, and think we deserve much consideration.

JUNIOR LAW CLASS

The Juniors are very peaceable and orderly. The only time we have had any trouble was when a representative of the Honor League dared to come within our honored precincts. The eagerness of some of the members to be the first to join, came near causing a riot, but the better judgment of some prevailed and bloodshed was averted. All is peace and harmony now, however, and if you see any broken glass in the windows of Dr. Brooks' room, don't think it is the result of disorderly conduct; it is not. It was caused by the concussion of air when Comstock answers at roll call.

As a class we are as careful and hard-working, perhaps, as any in the University, and with the "Keys" of justice in our possession, and guided by the light of "Day" we will go on, hoping to attain to usefulness. Although we may not all shine with splendor in the constellation of legal lights of the future, yet all are earnest men in whom the most sacred trust may be reposed.

HISTORIAN.

Class Organization.

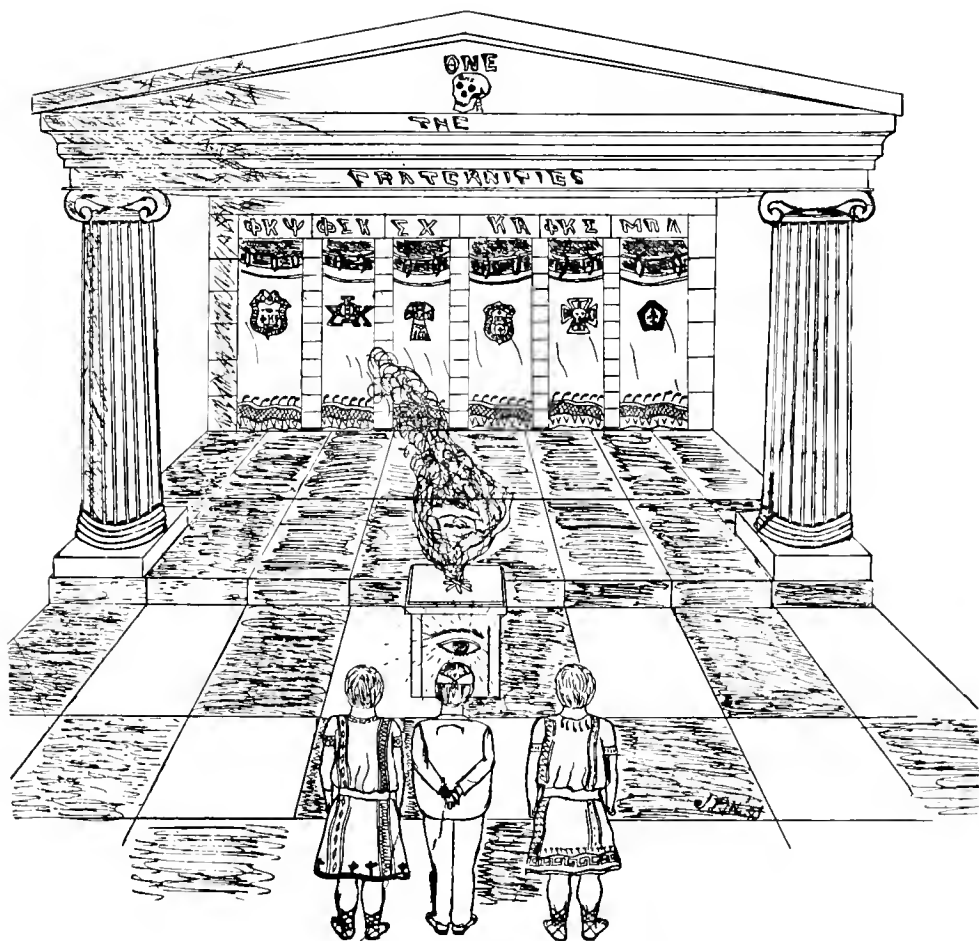

President.	- - - - -	A. L. POST.
Vice-President,	- - - - -	H. D. G. REYNOLDS.
Secretary,	- - - - -	B. F. LAUGHLIN.

Class Roll.

W. D. R. Annan.	R. W. McMurtrie.
C. J. Casey.	Charlie Middleburg.
T. J. Casey.	Miss Phæbia Moore.
L. R. Charter.	J. C. Noble.
W. M. Davis.	A. L. Post.
J. Q. Downey.	H. C. Powell.
S. M. Dent.	B. G. Printz.
D. F. Early.	H. D. G. Reynolds.
W. P. Franks.	O. F. Schad.
L. L. Hall.	J. C. Smith.
W. D. Hereford.	O. M. Staats.
G. F. Honaker.	F. J. St. Clair.
David Holt.	R. H. Stewart.
Harry Killam.	S. C. Steele.
B. F. Laughlin.	H. G. Steele.
J. H. Mayer.	C. B. Wagner.
H. B. McCusky.	C. A. Willis.

For cut, see Anatomy Class.

Phi Kappa Psi Chapters.

FIRST DISTRICT.

Pennsylvania Alpha, Washington and Jefferson College.
Pennsylvania Beta, Allegheny College.
Pennsylvania Gamma, Buchnell University.
Pennsylvania Epsilon, Gettysburg College.
Pennsylvania Zeta, Dickinson College.
Pennsylvania Eta, Franklin and Marshall College.
Pennsylvania Theta, Lafayette College.
Pennsylvania Iota, University of Pennsylvania.
Pennsylvania Kappa, Swathmore College.

SECOND DISTRICT.

Massachusetts Alpha, Amherst College.
New Hampshire Alpha, Dartmouth College.
New York Alpha, Cornell University.
New York Beta, Syracuse University.
New York Gamma, Columbia College.
New York Epsilon, Colgate University.
New York Zeta, Brooklyn Polytechnic Institute.

THIRD DISTRICT.

Maryland Alpha, Johns Hopkins University.
Virginia Alpha, University of Virginia.
Virginia Beta, Washington and Lee University.
Virginia Gamma, Hampden-Sidney College.
West Virginia Alpha, University of West Virginia.
District of Columbia Alpha, Columbian University.
Mississippi Alpha, University of Mississippi.

FOURTH DISTRICT.

Ohio Alpha, Ohio Wesleyan University.
Ohio Beta, Wittenburg College.
Ohio Delta, University of Ohio.
Indiana Alpha, DePauw University.
Indiana Beta, University of Indiana.
Indiana Gamma, Wabash College.
Illinois Alpha, Northwestern University.
Illinois Beta, University of Chicago.
Michigan Alpha, University of Michigan.

FIFTH DISTRICT.

Wisconsin Alpha, University of Wisconsin.
Wisconsin Gamma, Beloit College.
Minnesota Beta, University of Minnesota.
Iowa Alpha, University of Iowa.
Kansas Alpha, University of Kansas.
Nebraska Alpha, University of Nebraska.
California Beta, Leland Stanford, Jr., University.

ALUMNI ASSOCIATIONS.

Philadelphia
Pittsburg
Meadeville
Newark
New York City
Buffalo
Louisville
Washington

Cleveland
Springfield
Bucyrus
San Francisco
Los Angeles

Indiana
Anderson
Chicago
Kansas City
Twin City
Denver City
Salt Lake City
Moltomah

Phi Kappa Psi.

THE Phi Kappa Psi fraternity was founded at Jefferson College, Pennsylvania, February 19, 1852, by C. P. T. Moore and W. H. Letherman. Numbers was not the design; only men who will be an honor to the fraternity now as well as in after life, and men of true character are those always sought. West Virginia Alpha chapter was established in the West Virginia University May 23, 1890, notwithstanding the fact that much opposition existed in the faculty against fraternities. The chapter, nevertheless, has a firm and good standing in the literary societies, military department, on the athletic field and in every other department of the University. In class work a high standard is maintained. Our members have won laurels in declamation, essay, oration and debate. As the pioneer fraternity in the University we are proud of our existence, and of the fact that we instituted the fraternity system here. Since our organization we have ever been prosperous, constantly adding to our numbers and have tried to maintain that standard of "truth, honor and virtue" laid down by the founders of the Phi Kappa Psi. Shortly after the closing of the spring quarter of 1898, West Virginia Alpha was called upon to mourn the death of our beloved brother, Holland D. Thompson. He had started on his homeward voyage from the army in Porto Rico, took sick and died and was buried in mid-ocean. Shortly before his enlistment, Brother Thompson was elected President of the Junior Law Class.

Our short sketch would be incomplete should we fail to briefly mention some of our prominent alumni and influential men of the state. Among them may be noted: E. H. Vickers, A. M., Ph. D. (Harvard), Professor of Political Economy, Keiogyuhum University, Tokio, Japan; Frank W. Clark, A. B., LL. B., (Harvard), Lawyer. J. R. Trotter, A. B., A. M., (Harvard), State Superintendent of Schools; O. S. Long, Clerk Supreme Court, 33 degree Mason; Oliver S. Marshall, President of the West Virginia Senate; E. T. Hartman, Agent for Harper Bros.; Henry S. Walker, ex-Secretary of State of West Virginia; Marshall H. Hauger, ex-Speaker of the West Virginia House of Representatives; W. C. Meyer, Prosecuting Attorney of Ohio county; Braxton Davenport, Counsel for B. & O. R. R.; C. P. T. Moore, Ex-Judge of the Supreme Court; G. F. Dorsey, Advertising Agent of the Pittsburg Dispatch; Jas. P. Paull, Chief Mine Inspector; W. W. Arnett, Criminal Lawyer, Wheeling; Hunter H. Moss, Lawyer; John Bassell, Attorney for the B. & O. R. R., William R. Standiford, Captain Company G. 2d Vol. Infy.; L. L. Friend, Fellow in English and Assistant in Preparatory Department of W. V. U.; B. C. Hagerman, President of Bethany College; H. G. Stifel, Merchant; John W. Davis, leader of the Majority in the late Legislature; F. C. Reynolds, Prosecuting Attorney of Mineral county; Stuart H. Bowman, member of the House of Delegates; A. G. Hughes, member of the State Senate.

A friendly relation exists between our sister fraternities in the University and our own. At present we are pleasantly located on the corner of Main and Walnut streets, our latch string is always out, and within our portals Phi Kappa Psis are always welcome.

Phi Kappa Psi—Alpha Chapter.

Colors.

PINK AND LAVENDER.

Fratres in Urbe.

REV. A. M. BUCHANAN, A. M., Pastor Presbyterian Church.

Fratres in Facultate.

WILLIAM P. WILLEY, A. M., Professor of Jurisprudence and Commercial Law.

FREDERICK W. TRUSCOTT, Ph. D., Professor of Germanic Languages.

LLOYD L. FRIEND, A. B., Assistant in Preparatory School.

Fratres in Universitate.

'99.

SEN. ALVARE G. HUGHES
JACOB J. ABERSOLD
GEO. E. ANDERSON

RICHARD A. WELCH
SCOTT C. LOWE
ARCHIE L. SAWTELLE

'00.

ALLEN W. PORTERFIELD
WILLIAM W. HUGHES

LATHROP R. CHARTER
CHAUNCEY D. WILLEY

CHARLES W. WADDELL.

'01.

FRANK M. LARDIN
PHIL. A. SHAFFER

JOEL Q. NARET
GILBERT B. MILLER.

'02.

ROBERT M. BROWN

ALBERT F. DICKEY

CAREL ROBINSON.

Phi Sigma Kappa.

CHAPTER of brethren bound together for the promotion of social fellowship, for strengthening the bonds of friendship, and for mutual help in times of need. Such were the principles of the ten students of the West Virginia University, who in 1891, bound themselves together under the name of the Delta Chapter of the Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity. So thoroughly were these principles incorporated, that ever since, the harmony of our Chapter has been unbroken, and brotherly love has prevailed throughout our mutual relations.

The organizers gathered around themselves some of the choicest students in the University, and those in turn others, until the membership has grown to eighty-three, twenty-two of whom are in the University this year. Among its alumni there are men who have distinguished themselves both in the Literary and Professional world. In the recent war with Spain, eleven of our members volunteered their services, receiving positions ranging from the rank of First Sergeant to Captain. Two were afterwards made Second Lieutenant in the Regular Army. Another was assigned to the engineering department of the Navy and spent most of the time with Admiral Dewey's fleet in Manila Bay.

In school the chapter has received its share of both literary and military honors.

The Chapter is pleasantly situated on the second floor of the Union Improvement Company's building, here we have four rooms one used for the Chapter's meetings, the others, being nicely furnished, serve as living rooms for five of the members.

In 1900 we expect to entertain the Grand Chapter at its biennial meeting.

These occasions are looked forward to with pleasant expectations by the boys, because there are always present members from the different chapters, notwithstanding the fact that they are scattered over a great deal of territory. In this way the members of all the local bodies are brought together into intimate social relations, to renew the bonds of affection which bind them together in their beloved order. Here brotherhood unites in a golden bond and all is love and concord.

Fratres in Facultate.

C. R. Jones, M. E., Instructor in Mechanical Engineering.

R. L. Morris, C. E., Instructor in Civil Engineering.

D. M. Willis, Principal of Commercial School.

Edgar Stewart, LL. B., Principal of Correspondence Department of Law.

Fratres in Universitate.

W. H. South,	D. C. Smith,
W. W. Smith,	J. A. Meredith,
G. A. Willey,	C. F. Randolph,
M. M. Neely,	L. C. Thompson,
B. F. Laughlin,	E. B. Carskadon,
J. Kee,	H. S. Lively,
H. Maxwell,	W. D. Hereford,
J. C. Frazer,	T. S. Lang,
G. E. Gramm,	F. B. Kunst,
J. C. Smith,	R. R. Koblegard,
H. M. Gore,	D. M. Easley,

Chapter Alumni.

I. C. Herndon, LL. B., Lawyer, Welch.
C. E. Mayers, B. Agr., Electrician, Fairmont.
W. L. H. Camden, LL. B., Yale, Lawyer, Baltimore.
C. E. Vance, 2nd Lieut. U. S. Regular Infantry.
J. C. Vance, Insurance business, Clarksburg.
C. W. Gore, A. B., LL. B., Lawyer, Clarksburg.
H. W. Smith, Editor Tyler County Star, Middlebourne.
R. H. Ramsey, A. B., M. D., Physician, Clarksburg.
G. M. Alexander, A. B., LL. B., Prosecuting Attorney of Marion County.
J. A. Gier, B. S., M. D., Physician, Sistersville.
F. G. Ross, C. E., Civil Engineer, Pittsburg.
K. White, A. B., Captain 2nd Infantry, West Virginia Volunteers.
C. M. Demley, C. E., with Pencoid Iron Works, Pencoid, Pa.
A. K. Martin, Railway Mail Service, Grafton.
B. F. Bailey, LL. B., Lawyer, Grafton.
G. E. Singleton, Deceased.
J. E. Davis, A. B., LL. B., Lawyer, Chicago.
M. Babb, B. S., Farmer, Medley.
J. Dudding, LL. B., Lawyer, Winfield.
J. W. Hughes, B. S. C. E., with South Penn Oil Company, Mannington.
E. M. Showalter, LL. B., Lawyer, Fairmont.
S. B. Jenkins, B. S. C. E., Civil Engineer, Grafton.
G. H. A. Kunst, A. M., LL. B., Lawyer, Grafton.
J. L. Holbert, B. S. C. E., Civil Engineer, Arizona, Ty.
C. C. Coffman, B. S. C. E., with South Penn Oil Company, Mannington.
M. D. Post, A. B. LL. B., Lawyer, Wheeling.
J. S. Cogar, LL. B., Lawyer, Addison.
R. B. South, M. D., Physician, Rosedale, Pa.

Δ Chapter ΦΣΚ-99

- | | | | | | | |
|--------|----------|---------|-----------|----------|----------|--------|
| EASLEY | RANDOLPH | MAXWELL | THOMPSON | MEEDITH | SMITH | LANG |
| SMITH | BOYBES | GRAHAM | KYNSIE | GARRISON | GORE | MORRIS |
| LEPS | KEE | FRAYER | WILLEY | WILKS | LAUGHLIN | NEELY |
| SOTTE | | LIVELY | KORDEGARD | HERFORD | | |

G. Hogg, M. D., Physician, Kanawha Falls.
 W. W. Venable, Assistant U. S. Engineer Ohio River, Pittsburg.
 W. A. Wickline, M. D., Physician, Hinton.
 H. M. Leps, B. S. M. E., Ensign U. S. Navy.
 S. A. Walker, M. D., Physician, Herveysville, Kansas.
 C. E. McCoy, B. S. C. E., Assistant U. S. Engineer Monongahela River, Morgantown.
 F. S. Miller, LL. B., Farmer, Dunkard, Pa.
 E. M. Percy, A. B., Medical student, College P. & S. Baltimore.
 H. A. Eaton, A. B. LL. B., 2nd Lieutenant U. S. Engineer Infantry.
 B. F. Rice, LL. B., Employed by American Book Company.
 B. G. Moore, A. B., Teacher, Ravenswood.
 H. F. Smith, LL. B., Lawyer, Clarksburg.
 J. A. Arnold, A. B. L., Captain 2nd Infantry West Virginia Volunteers, Weston.
 C. H. Waddell, Business, Wheeling.
 E. Stuart, LL. B., Lawyer, Morgantown.
 D. C. Reay, LL. B., Deputy Clerk Supreme Court of Appeals, Charleston.
 L. Greynolds, LL. B., Lawyer, Beverly.
 T. S. Tompkins, Medical student, University of Maryland.
 J. M. S. Wade, LL. B., Lawyer, Parkersburg.
 C. P. Shuman, United States Civil Service.
 J. Keely, A. B., Principal Montgomery Preparatory School.
 C. F. Jolliffe, A. B. L., Business, Uniontown.
 B. S. White, B. S. M. E., with Brown and Sharp Manufacturing Company,
 Providence, R. I.
 B. S. Thomas, 1st Sergeant, 2nd Infantry West Virginia Volunteers.
 G. S. Wallace, LL. B., 2nd Lieutenant, 2nd Infantry West Virginia Volunteers.
 G. P. Shirley, LL. B., Lawyer, Parsons.
 J. A. Wehrle, LL. B., Lawyer, Charleston.
 C. R. Ogden, Medical student, Louisville Medical School,
 V. C. Champ, LL. B., Business, Montgomery,
 C. P. Davison, Business, Flemington,
 A. L. Boyers, D. D. S., Dentist, Morgantown.

Chapter Roll.

Founded 1855, at Miami University.

Alpha	Miami University.....	55
Gamma	The Ohio Wesleyan University.....	55
Epsilon	Columbia University.....	64
Zeta	Washington and Lee University.....	66
Eta	The University of Mississippi.....	57
Theta	Pennsylvania College	63
Kappa	Bucknell University	64
Lambda	Indiana University.....	58
Mu	Denison University.....	68
Xi	DePauw University	59
Omicron.....	Dickinson College	59
Rho.....	Butler University	65
Tau.....	Roanoke College	72
Chi	Hanover College	71
Psi	The University of Virginia	60
Omega	The Northwestern University.....	69
Alpha Alpha.....	Hobart College	92
Gamma Gamma.....	Randolph-Macon College	74
Delta Delta.....	Purdue University	75
Zeta Zeta.....	Centre College	76
Zeta Psi.....	The University of Cincinnati	82
Theta Theta	The University of Michigan.....	96
Eta Eta.....	Dartmouth College.....	92
Kappa Kappa.....	The University of Illinois	56
Lambda Lambda	Kentucky State College	93
Mu Mu	West Virginia University	95
Nu Nu.....	Columbia University.....	94
Xi Xi.....	The University of State of Missouri	96
Omicron Omicron.....	The University of Chicago.....	97
Sigma Sigma.....	Hampden-Sidney College.....	72
Phi Phi.....	The University of Pennsylvania.....	75
Alpha Beta.....	The University of California.....	86
Alpha Gamma	Ohio State University	82
Alpha Epsilon.....	The University of Nebraska	83
Alpha Zeta.....	Beloit College	82
Alpha Theta.....	Massachusetts Institute of Technology.....	82
Alpha Iota.....	The Illinois Wesleyan University	82
Alpha Lambda.....	The University of Wisconsin.....	81

Alpha Nu.....	The University of Texas	84
Alpha Xi.....	The University of Kansas.....	84
Alpha Omicron.....	Tulane University	86
Alpha Phi.....	Albion College	86
Alpha Rho.....	Lehigh University	87
Alpha Sigma.....	The University of Minnesota.....	88
Alpha Tau.....	The University of North Carolina.....	89
Alpha Upsilon.....	The University of South California.....	89
Alpha Phi.....	Cornell University	90
Alpha Chi.....	Pennsylvania State College.....	92
Alpha Psi.....	Vanderbilt University.....	90
Alpha Omega.....	Leland Stanford, Jr., University.....	92
Chapters	50
States	23
Membership.....	6275

History of Sigma Chi Fraternity.

HUNDRED tastes, ambitions, hopes and fears bind men together indissolubly. If a pure rennobling motive be the incentive, it is the nucleus around which crystallizes one of the earth's richest gems.

College fraternities are thus not of parasitic origin; they are deeply rooted in nature's virgin soil. There exists in every college, as in all other walks of life, "an indefinable something which attracts young men together in the ties of brotherhood." This sacred tie cannot exist indiscriminately to every one; by nature it is limited.

In accordance with this universal law Sigma Chi Fraternity was organized at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, in the early summer of 1855. An organization was already existing to which its charter members belonged, but disagreeing with some of these members on questions of vital importance, they chose to pledge themselves in an organization where independent, manly character, with a strong, lasting friendship, should be fostered. At its inception the standard was set "of admitting no man to membership in it who was not believed to be a man of good character, of fair ability, of ambitious purposes, and of congenial disposition."

The wisdom of such ideals can scarcely be questioned, when its phenomenal growth is considered on the list of honored alumni read.

When the fraternity was organized eighteen such societies already existed, with one hundred and fifty chapters. The stronger ones scorned the fledgling at first, but surmounting all difficulties its seven members have grown to almost seven thousand; instead of one, fifty active chapters answer roll call.

It is now second to but one fraternity in the United States in point of numbers, and to none in high ideals, noble purposes, the sterling quality of its members, and the congeniality which exists among those who wear its cross.

On the 13th of September, 1895, Mu Mu chapter was established by Judge Ferris and Grand Praeters, Harper, Staughter and Wilson. There were twelve charter members and twenty-six have since been initiated. Mu Mu has not yet sought to increase its numbers, simply for the sake of extending its roll, but to admit only those who could work with full heart and determined purpose, toward the goal which it ever keeps before it. It has been the constant aim to bring none within the fold who were not men of strong character, manly disposition, willing workers, and marked by that congeniality which alone makes a true brother. Finding such men in all classes, narrowness has been avoided without loss of strength, and the highest honors have been won in all departments of the University by its members.

Mu Mu has had a hall for some time, but realizing the benefits which must come from more intimate association, a chapter house has been rented, where most of the members have rooms. Here they lead an ideal student life, working and spending the few leisure moments with congenial, sympathetic friends, and creating recollections which shall ever remain a sweet incense in memories precious chalice.

	WHITE	KREBS
	HOLDEN	KONRAD
YEAGER	MEADE		SHISLER
ROMINE	POST		GARRISON
	FRANKENBERGER		McWHORTER
	SMITH	CAPITO	TAIT
	DONAHY	DERBYSHIRE

Sigma Chi, Mu Mu Chapter.

Established in 1895.

Colors :

Old Gold and Sky-Blue.

Fratres in Urbe.

JUSTIN M. KUNKLE, '96.

HOWARD L. SWISHER, '97.

Fratres in Universtate.

A. L. POST, '98, Fellow in Chemistry.

1899.

H. M. WHITE.

G. R. KREBS.

C. F. HOLDEN.

PHILLIP KONRAD.

A. P. ROMINE.

A. G. TAIT.

1900.

L. A. YEAGER.

A. W. SMITH.

J. A. GARRISON.

R. N. MEADE.

1901.

C. N. MCWHORTER.

J. H. SHISLER.

H. FRANKENBERGER.

1902.

C. E. DERBYSHIRE.

HENRY CAPITO.

Law, 1900.

J. H. DONIEHEY.

Yell.

Who! Who! Who am I?

I'm a loyal Sigma Chi!

Hoopla! Hoopla! Hoopla Hi!

Sig—ma—Chi!

Phi Kappa Sigma Fraternity.

Founded August 16, 1850, at the University of Pennsylvania.

Roll of Active Chapters.

Alpha	- -	University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia.	- -	1850
Delta	- -	Washington and Jefferson College, Washington, Pa.	- -	1854
Epsilon	- - -	Dickinson College, Carlisle, Pa.	- -	1854
Zeta	- -	Franklin and Marshall College, Lancaster, Pa.	- -	1855
Eta	- - -	University of Virginia, Charlottesville.	- - -	1855
Tau	- - -	Randolph-Macon College, Ashland, Va.	- - -	1872
Upsilon	- -	Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill.	- -	1872
Phi	- - -	Richmond College, Richmond, Va.	- - -	1873
Psi	- - -	Pennsylvania State College, State College, Pa.	- - -	1890
Alpha-Alpha	-	Washington and Lee University, Lexington, Va.	-	1893
Alpha-Gamma	-	West Virginia University, Morgantown.	-	1897
Alpha-Delta	- - -	University of Maine, Orono.	- - -	1898
Alpha-Epsilon	- -	Armour Institute of Technology, Chicago.	- -	1898

Phi Kappa Sigma Fraternity.

Alpha Gamma Chapter.

ESTABLISHED JANUARY 15, 1897.

Fratre in Facultate.

DANIEL JENIFER BARTON, A. B. (H)

Fratres in Universitate.

CLASS OF 1899.

JAMES ESTILL BROWN	EDWARD GREGG DONLEY
ALEXANDER LOUGH EDDY	JOHN HENRY MEEK
CHARLES HENRY QUIMBY, JR.

CLASS OF 1900.

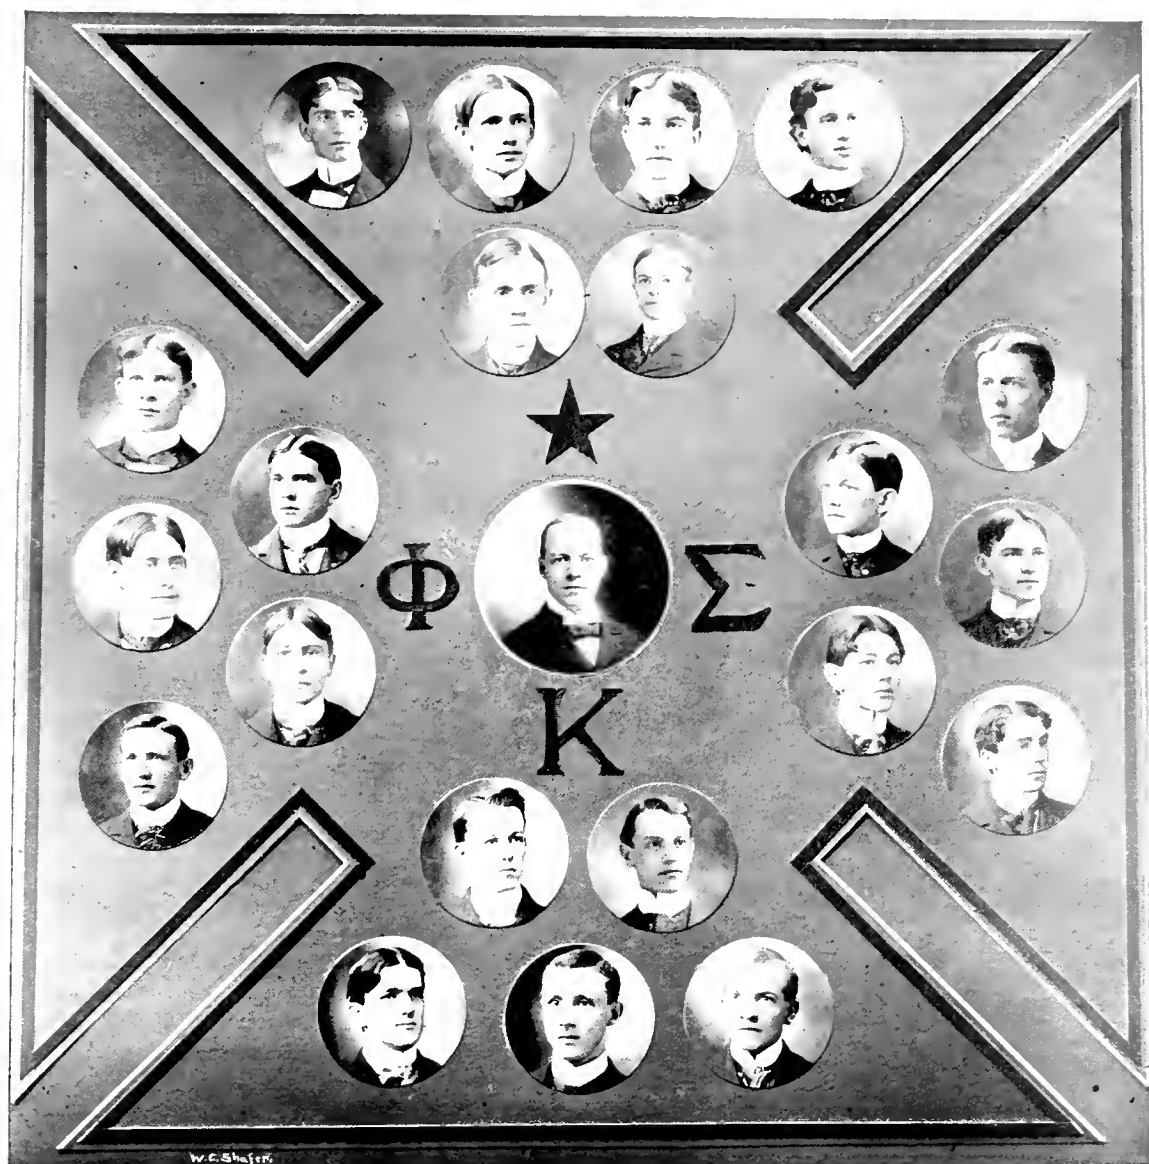

DAVID HOTT, JR.	GEORGE HENRY FERDINAND HOLY
DAVID LEMEN	HENRY DUNLAP GRINNEL REYNOLDS
BUCKNER FAIRFAX SCOTT

CLASS OF 1901.

HOWARD RALPH CROSSLAND	JOHN ROSS EAKIN
JAMES CURRY LONG

CLASS OF 1902

ROBERT HANSON BOYD	CLYDE ALONZO COLE
JOHN OTHO DOWNEY	STANHOPE McCLELLAN SCOTT, JR.
EARL HARRY SMITH	ROBERT HANSON STEWART

HOTT	SMITH	STEWART	BOYD	MCKINNEY	QUIMBY
HOLY	COE	REYNOLDS	ZEVERLY	LEMEN	MCCORM
EDDY	SCOTT	LONG	BARTON	DOWNEY	EAKIN
		DONLEY	CROSSLAND	BROWN
			MEEK

Phi Kappa Sigma.

FRATERNITIES, of recent years, have become an important factor in college life, though they have obtained their present standing only by returning "oft to the assault" of college trustees and others ignorant of their aims and purposes. But their strength and influence, to-day is unquestioned. To quote from a recent work, "Greek Letter Men of Philadelphia": Greek letter fraternities are now recognized, approved, and encouraged by the authorities of all liberal and advanced institutions of learning in the United States. Whether the influence is for good or for evil is eloquently answered by the achievements of Greek Letter men in every field of human activity. Few are chosen for membership in these select bodies, but from their short rolls have issued names to grace the pages of industrial, professional, and political annals, and made more honorable the history of our national life.

Among these, Phi Kappa Sigma claims front rank. It was founded at the University of Pennsylvania, August 16, 1850, by Col. Samuel Brown Wylie Mitchell, A. B., M. D., the founder of the military order of the "Loyal Legion." With Col. Mitchell were associated J. B. Hodge, A. V. Dupont, Charles Hare Hutchinson, J. T. Stone, Dnane Williams, and A. A. Ripka. The fraternity is one of the oldest in the country and has had, in all, thirty-four chapters, but owing to the civil war, those in the South become inactive and for a long time the chapter roll was limited. At present, however, there are fourteen active chapters—all of them vigorous and progressive. A marked feature of the fraternity is that its government has remained unchanged from its foundation, and that it has no honorary members.

Alpha Gamma chapter was established January 15, 1897, and in the two years of its existence has had thirty-one members. In this short time the fraternity has obtained a hold and made a mark at the University of which it may well be proud. In the class of '99 are A. L. Eddy, C. H. Quinby, E. G. Donley, J. E. Brown, and J. H. Meek, and to these we must bid adieu at the end of the current session.

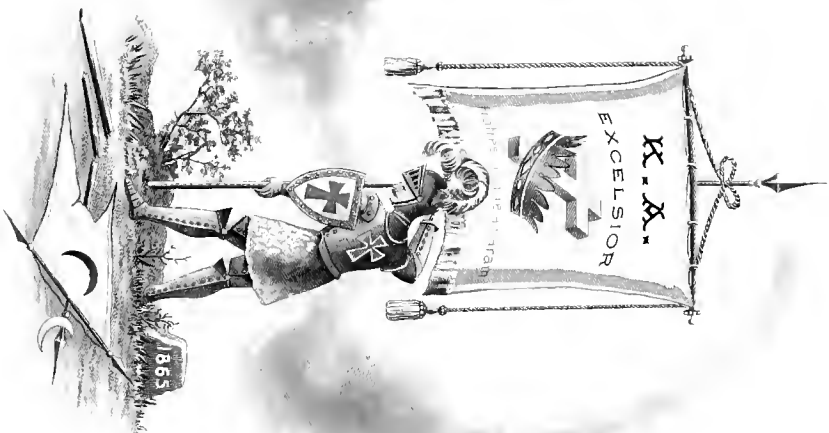

To sum up, no more fitting tribute could be paid to the fraternity than is contained in the following from the above named work: "There is one claim that the fraternity can make without challenge, and that is that it has never for one instant deviated from the path of honor or connived at any act unworthy of an organization of gentlemen. The Phi Kappa Sigma has ever striven to stand for what is best and truest in fraternity life and she yields to none in her ideal of what a fraternity should be, or of what a fraternity can be made by the united efforts of true and honorable men."

Kappa Alpha.

Chapter Roll.

- Alpha*.—Washington and Lee University, Lexington, Va.
Gamma.—University of Georgia, Athens, Ga.
Delta.—Wofford College, Spartansburg, S. C.
Epsilon.—Emory College, Oxford, Ga.
Zeta.—Randolph-Macon College, Ashland, Va.
Eta.—Richmond College, Richmond, Va.
Theta.—Kentucky State College, Lexington, Ky.
Kappa.—Mercer University, Macon, Ga.
Lambda.—University of Virginia, Charlottesville, Va.
Nu.—Polytechnic Institute, A. & M. College, Auburn, Ala.
Xi.—Southwestern University, Georgetown, Texas.
Omicron.—University of Texas, Austin, Texas.
Pi.—University of Tennessee, Knoxville, Tenn.
Sigma.—Davidson College, Mecklenburg County, N. C.
Upsilon.—University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, N. C.
Phi.—Southern University, Greensboro, Ala.
Chi.—Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tenn.
Psi.—Tulane University, New Orleans, La.
Omega.—Centre College, Danville, Ky.
Alpha-Alpha.—University of the South, Sewanee, Tenn.
Beta-Beta.—University of Alabama, University, Ala.
Alpha-Gamma.—Louisiana State University, Baton Rouge, La.
Alpha-Delta.—William Jewell College, Liberty, Mo.
Alpha-Epsilon.—S. W. P. University, Clarksville, Tenn.
Alpha-Zeta.—William & Mary College, Williamsburg, Va.
Alpha-Eta.—Westminster College, Fulton, Mo.
Alpha-Theta.—Kentucky University, Lexington, Ky.
Alpha-Iota.—Centenary College, Jackson, La.
Alpha-Kappa.—Missouri State University, Columbia, Mo.
Alpha-Lambda.—John Hopkins University, Baltimore, Md.
Alpha-Mu.—Millsaps College, Jackson, Miss.
Alpha-Nu.—Columbian University, Washington, D. C.
Alpha-Xi.—University of California, Berkeley, Cal.
Alpha-Omicron.—University of Arkansas, Fayetteville, Ark.
Alpha-Pi.—Leland Stanford, Jr., University, Stanford University P. O., Cal.
Alpha-Rho.—University of West Virginia, Morgantown, W. Va.

Alumni Chapters.

Richmond, Va.—Julian M. Bossieux, 7 West Grace Street.
Norfolk, Va.—T. T. Hubbard.
Raleigh, N. C.—H. A. Royster.
Macon, Ga.—D. Q. Abbott.
New York City.—Thomas Wallace Stevens, 18 West Ninth Street.
Washington, D. C.—W. W. Millan, 1417 Ninth Street, N. W.
Mobile, Ala.—J. G. Hamilton.
Atlanta, Ga.—R. A. Redding, 19 Edgewood Avenue.
Dallas, Texas.—H. L. Seay.
Higginsville, Mo.—A. Edgar Asbury, Jr.
Franklin, La.—M. F. Hine.
Lexington, Ky.—W. O. Sweeny, Jr.
Petersburg, Va.—Wm. T. Davis.
Talladega, Ala.—F. P. McConnell.
Kansas City, Mo.—Gordon A. Beedle.

Kappa Alpha.

The Kappa Alpha Order had its origin in Washington and Lee University, Virginia, in 1865. It is the product of strong college associations and fraternal affections, devoted to the principles of the knights of old in the reassertion of their lofty ideals of character and achievement, the emulation of their masculine virtues, their courtesy, their purity and their regard for personal honor.

Alpha Rho Chapter.

On Thursday evening, March 11, '97, this organization and college brotherhood was placed in the West Virginia University.

This was the fifth college fraternity organized in the University, and great doubt was expressed as to the propriety of another brotherhood, and whether it would be able to maintain an existence.

During the last two years the fraternity has enjoyed a phenomenal success, and thirty students and two college professors, have joined its mystic ranks, and the Kappa Alpha Order in the University has a promise of permanency, and is an example of the prevalence of truth.

Kappa Alpha—Alpha Rho Chapter.

Colors.

Old Gold and Crimson.

Fratres in Urbe.

THOS. RAY DILLE, A. B. L.

Fratres in Facultate.

ROBT. A. ARMSTRONG, A. M., Vice-President University, Professor of English.
THOS. E. HODGES, A. M., Professor of Physics.

Fratres in Universitate.

'99.

*W. GRANT CLEMENS, A. B. L.

F. N. FRUM, B. S. C. E.

JAMES W. HORN, A. B.

PAUL EVANS GREEN, B. S. C. E.

PAUL S. HUNTER, A. B.

JAMES E. LAW, A. B. L.

'00.

WALTER G. McGLUMPHY, A. B.

ARCHIE B. SAGE, B. S. M. E.

W. JEFFERSON SNEE, LL. B.

J. AUGUSTINE WILLIS, B. S. M. E.

'01.

CHAS. FREDERICK T. BROOKE, A. B. ALLEN L. HAWSE, A. B.

CLARENCE POE, A. B.

JAMES R. MORELAND, A. B.

CHRISTOPHER T. SMITH, A. B.

'02.

HERBERT W. DENT.

EDGAR W. RICHARDS.

HARDING L. DUVAL.

RICHARD W. TRAPNELL.

*Deceased.

AP Chapter K.A. '99

HAWSE	PHIL	LAW	FOOT	TURN	MORTLAND	SALE
SMITH	HUNTER	GILLEN	BROOK	WILKS	SAGE	MCCLENNAN
			DENT

Mu Pi Lambda Fraternity.

During the year 1895 seven who were tried friends of the Washington and Lee University organized the Mu Pi Lambda fraternity. The founders were H. H. Larimore B. S. and B. L. of Missouri, M. G. Perrow A. B. of Virginia, C. N. Feamster A. B. of West Virginia, H. W. Neal C. E. of West Virginia, J. V. Snyder, of West Virginia, P. S. Mertins A. B. of Alabama, and Jos. H. Shirly of Indiana.

Though three men, J. F. Bosshardt, B. L. of Texas, L. N. Winn A. B. of Alabama, and J. S. McCluer of West Virginia were initiated during 1895 still the young fraternity worked in secret not announcing itself until the fall of '96 when the wearers of the five pointed star at once took a prominent part in college affairs at Washington and Lee, one being elected editor-in-chief of the "Collegian"—probably the highest honor conferred by the students of that institution, while others of the fraternity in scholarship, athletics and literary society work won high positions.

A conservative policy of extension has been followed by the Mu Pi Lambda, chapters only being established at Washington and Lee University in '95 total membership twenty.

University of Virginia in '97 total membership sixteen.

Harvard in '97 total membership twenty-five.

West Virginia University in '98 total membership ten.

While at present Mu Pi Lambda has only four active chapters, yet chapters are being organized at several of the larger Universities of the United States.

The first general convention of the fraternity which meets bi-annually was held at Lexington, Va., June 14th, 15th and 16th 1898.

S. G. Butler, having received an invitation from the Arch Chapter of the fraternity, during the fall of '97, to establish a chapter at the West Virginia University, began to gather about him such men as would make good Lambda's and on Jan. 8th, '98 the West Virginia Alpha was installed by Jos. S. McCluer and J. V. Snyder of Virginia Alpha.

The charter members were J. V. Snyder, Sherman Dils, C. L. McIntosh, Harold Ward, S. Garland Butler, L. E. Poteet and Albert Collet. During the same year Thos. J. Davis and Clarence Symms were initiated.

At present the chapter has several pledged men who will make a valuable addition to the fraternity.

Members.

'99

L. E. Poteet, LL. B.

T. J. Davis, LL. B.

Jules V. Snyder, C. E.

'00

S. Garland Bulter, LL. B.

Chas. L. McIntosh, Law.

Clarence Symms, B. Agr.

Special.

Albert Collett.

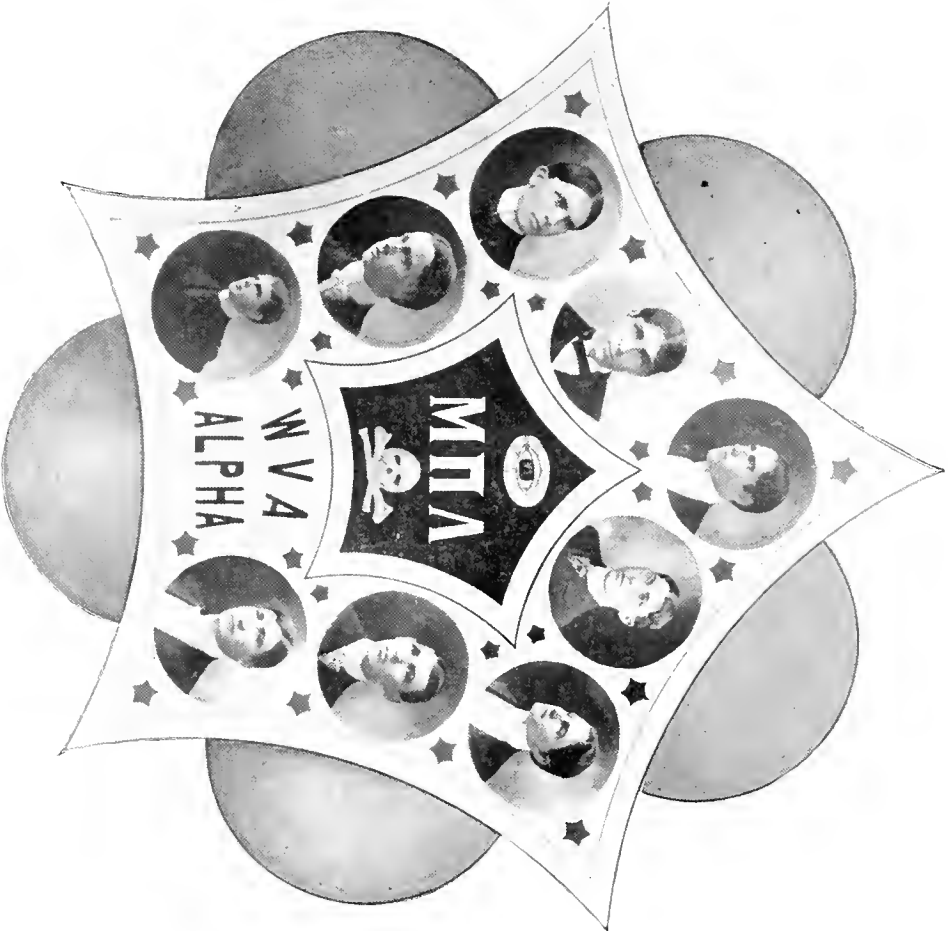

Sherman Dils.

Chapter of the Mu Pi Lambda Fraternity.

Virginia Alpha	- - - - -	Washington and Lee University
Virginia Beta	- - - - -	University of Virginia
Mass. Alpha	- - - - -	Harvard University
West Virginia Alpha	- - - - -	West Virginia University

McINTOSH
 SNYDER WARD
 BUTLER DAVIS
 DILLS SYMONS
 COLLETT FORRETT

Theta Nu Epsilon.

Founded 1870 at Ohio Wesleyan University.

Colors.

Green and Black.

Roll of Active Chapters.

Alpha,	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	Ohio Wesleyan University
Beta,	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	Syracuse University
Gamma,	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	Union College
Delta,	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	Cornell University
Epsilon,	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	University of Rochester
Zeta,	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	University of California
Eta,	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	Colgate University
Theta,	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	Kenyon College
Iota,	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	Adelbert College
Kappa,	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	Hamilton College
Lambda,	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	Williams College
Mu,	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	Stephens Institute of Technology
Nu,	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	Lafayette College
Xi,	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	Amherst College
Omicron,	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	Allegheny College
Pi,	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	Pennsylvania State College
Rho,	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	University of Pennsylvania
Sigma,	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	University of City of New York
Tau,	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	University of Wooster
Upsilon,	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	University of Michigan
Phi,	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	Bucknell University
Chi,	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	Dartmouth College
Psi,	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	Ohio State University
Omega,	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	Swathmore College
Kappa 2d,	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute
Omicron 2d,	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	Rutgers College
Pi 2d,	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	Lehigh University
Rho 2d,	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	Dickinson College
Psi 2d,	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	University of North Carolina
Delta Kappa,	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	Bowdoin College
Zeta Xi,	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	Northwestern University
Eta Eta,	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	Case School Applied Science
Mu Epsilon,	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	Washington and Jefferson College
Nu Epsilon,	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	Pennsylvania College
Mu Delta,	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	West Virginia University
										University of Minnesota
										University of Iowa
										Susquehanna University
										Washington & Lee University
										University of Virginia

Mu Delta Chapter.

(Theta Nu Epsilon.)

Founded October 14, 1898.

Fratre in Urbe.

JUSTIN M. KUNKLE.

Class of '99.

GEORGE EDWARD ANDERSON.

HARRY KELLER DRANE.

CARL KELLY JACOB.

JOHN E. B. SWEENEY.

RICHARD ADAMS WELCH.

ROBERT WHITE.

BENJAMIN FRANKLIN LAUGHLIN.

Class of '00.

SEATON GARLAND BUTLER.

GIBSON LAMB CALDWELL.

HENRY DUNLAP GRINNELL REYNOLDS. EDWARDS STUART STALNAKER.

Class of '01.

$\frac{1}{2}$ WP2 Q□.

EW!△9 GF

J^{cos x}_{sin y}*Sc⁹⁹₆₄₇

H^θ∇△,F□::^θ

‡□^eY

SF5W&△s△?=

H^θ2△9∧

9WS§,F□C#?*,

EW*F‡§Z

Y*sFo△Z#

9□X^θb2

M§4W5^{is}₇₀S^θn.

Members of Fraternities not Represented in the University.

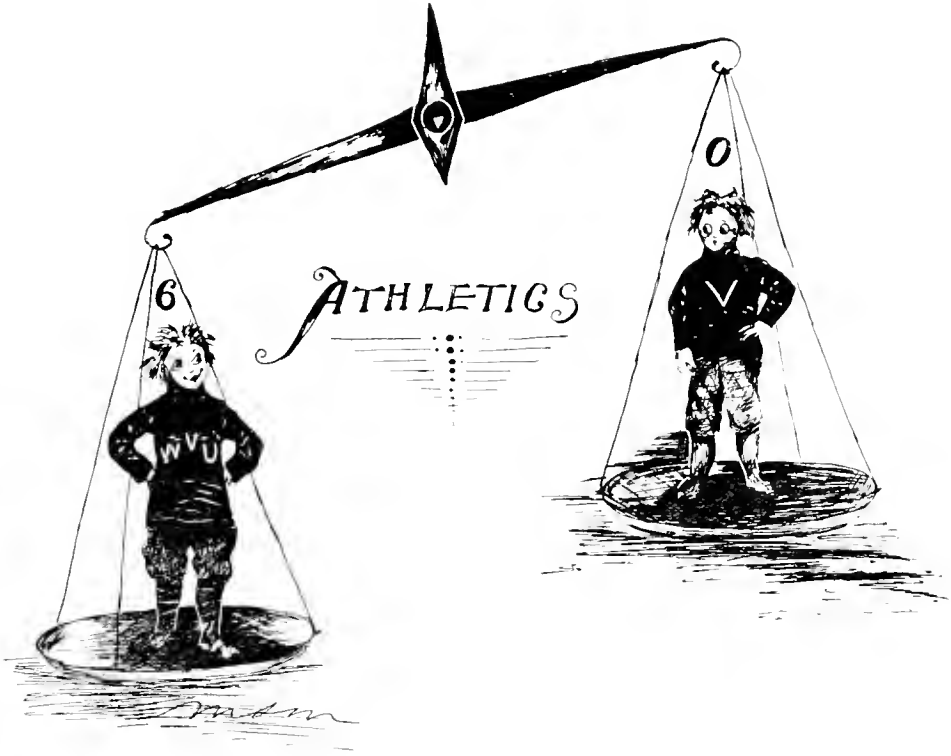

In Facultate.

President JEROME HALL RAYMOND, Ph. D.,	-	-	-	-	Beta Theta Pi
Professor ST. GEORGE TUCKER BROOKS, LL. D.,	-	-	-	-	Chi Psi
Professor LEWIS CASS WOOLERY, A. M.,	-	-	-	-	Beta Theta Pi
Professor KENNETH MCKENZIE, Ph. D.,	-	-	-	-	Beta Theta Pi
Professor CHARLES H. PATTERSON, A. M.,	-	-	-	-	Theta Delta Chi

In Universitate.

O. G. WHITE, A. B.,	-	-	-	-	-	Delta Tau Delta
CARL K. JACOB, A. B., '99, Law,	-	-	-	-	-	Beta Theta Pi
J. E. B. SWEENEY, A. B., '99, Law,	-	-	-	-	-	Phi Gamma Delta
G. C. CALDWELL, '00, Law,	-	-	-	-	-	Phi Delta Theta
ROBERT GUY, '00, Law,	-	-	-	-	-	Phi Gamma Delta
EDWARDS STUART STALNAKER, '00,	-	-	-	-	-	Alpha Tau Omega

Foot Ball.

* * * * *

Line Up of W. V. U. Foot Ball Team.

	Height	Weight
Left End, Noble,	5 feet 10 inches	155
Left Tackle, Darnell,	5 feet 11 inches	185
Left Guard, Lardin,	5 feet 10 inches	190
Center, Donley,	5 feet 10 inches	180
Right Guard, Nethkin,	5 feet 11 inches	195
Right Tackle, White,	5 feet 11 inches	185
Right End, Welch,	5 feet 11 inches	160
Quarter, McWhorter,	5 feet 8 inches	148
Left Half Back, South,	5 feet 10 inches	200
Right Half Back, Anderson,	5 feet 10½ inches	166
Full Back, Yeager, (Capt.),	5 feet 11 inches	165

Substitutes: Osborne, (End,) Sweeney (Tackle,) Konrad (Guard,) Midelburg (Quarter,) Whitham and McGregor (Half Backs.)

Games Played.

W. V. U. 0	Pittsburg Athletic Club	18
W. V. U. 6	Marietta College,	15
W. V. U. 6	Western University of Pennsylvania,	0
W. V. U. 6	Marietta College,	0
W. V. U. 24	Westminster College,	0
W. V. U. 6	University of Virginia,	0
W. V. U. 16	University of Ohio,	0

W. V. F. FOOT BALL TEAM '98.

The W. V. U. Foot Ball Team '98.

* * * *

THE history of foot ball in the West Virginia University does not date back many years. The sport was first inaugurated in our institution the fall term of 1891. Only one game was played that season. In 1892, all efforts to put a team upon the gridiron proved futile and the season was passed without a team. In 1893, a team was gotten out that played two games. The team of 1894 played four games, winning two and losing two. The advantages of effective training and coaching received by the University devotees of the leathern oval up to 1895 were little or none. Even that season, notwithstanding the brilliant record achieved by the team of that year, expired with but meagre instructions of two weeks from a coach of limited experience but of willing heart. Not till 1896 were the services of a first class coach engaged. As a result, with potential but unskilled material a formidable eleven was trained and arrayed by him upon the gridiron that season whose contests wherever they occurred attracted large crowds and whose work received most favorable and enthusiastic compliments in the athletic columns of the press of our state and Western Pennsylvania. The athletic prowess and possibilities of West Virginia's lads were unmistakably demonstrated.

But with all the credit and praise that are due the teams of former years, the achievements of the eleven of '98 in the face of many discouragements and obstacles eclipse the record of any other team in the history of the University. The financial status of the Athletic Association was of such a meagre nature that it was impossible to employ a coach for the season. The season necessarily began late by reason of the fall term of the University not beginning till the first of October. It is a difficult work to marshal all the candidates for the team back to the University two or three weeks before the opening of the season, especially so when in the nature of the poor financial support shown the team, each candidate must bear his own expenses for those extra two or three weeks spent here in preparation for a season's work. Again there were no grounds upon which to do preliminary practice work when our ambitious kickers returned last fall. Dr. I. C. White very generously tendered them for practice work a level plat of ground just north of the athletic field which at that time was in progress of grading for out door sports of every character.

The schedule of games for the season consisted of seven games the results of which are given on another page.

The game that had been anticipated with so much interest and solicitude by W. V. U. partisans was the tangle with the foot ball team of the University of Virginia. The engagement was arranged for Charleston, November 14th. Heretofore all correspondence to arrange a game between our teams had proved futile. The foot ball devotees treated all negotiations for a game disdainfully. It is questionable if they would have scheduled with us this time had it not been that they were to play Vanderbilt University at Louisville November 12th, and doubtless they thought they would make a post-prandial bite of our lads just for exercise and practice on their return. How sadly were they mistaken. Notwithstanding their ante-contest boasts that they would score from 20 to 44 points against our boys, they were happy that our score of 6 to 0 against them was no larger. In thus capturing the scalp of the eleven from the Old Dominion, the championship of the South was surrendered to W. V. U.—the claims of North Carolina to the contrary notwithstanding. For let it be remembered that the Thanksgiving contest of Virginia against North Carolina at Richmond, resulted in 6 to 2 in favor of North Carolina. The day was unfavorable. It rained hard in the afternoon and thus prevented a large crowd from attending. The result of this game raised our team in the estimation of the foot ball world. When the score was telegraphed to Morgantown, the surprise and joy of the student body were so great that a large number of students celebrated the event by parading the streets in night shirts and burning bonfires in the streets.

The work done by the team of '98 is a monument to its efforts and energy. It made the proudest record of any team in the history of the University, and that record was made in the face of circumstances that would have disbanded many teams at the beginning of the season.

HINTON, SUB.
RAMSEY, L. G.

WILEY, G. B.
FATKESER, SUB.

HARTFILL, R. G.
GARRISON, C.
CORREY, L. H.

AMERSOLD, R. T.
BRYER, SUB.
DUDLEY, L. T.
SE. CHAIR, F. B.

WILSON, R. H.
BULTZHOFFER, E.

Base Ball.

* * * * *

Base Ball Team, 1899.

Shelby, {
Krebs, { Catchers.

Dent, {
Bowman, { Pitchers.
Printz, {

Anderson, First Base.

Cooper, Second Base.

Miller, Short Stop.

McWhorter, Third Base.

Printz and Dent, Right Field.

Deming, Left Field.

Llewellyn, Captain, Centre Field.

SCHEDULE OF GAMES, 1899.

- April 15—W. U. P., at Morgantown.
17— “ “ “ “
29—U. S. N. A., at Annapolis.
May 1—U. of Md., at Baltimore.
2—Lawrenceville, at Lawrenceville.
3—Princeton, at Princeton.
4 & 5—University of Virginia, at Charlottesville.
May 13—W. & J., at Washington.
19—D. C. & A. C., at Pittsburg.
23—Heidelberg, at Tiffin, O.
24—O. W. U., at Delaware, O.
30—W. & J. (two games), at Morgantown.
June 2—O. W. U., at Morgantown.
3—O. W. U., at Morgantown.
10—D. C. and A. C., at Morgantown.

Base Ball Team, 1898.

Manager—J. E. B. Sweeney; Captain, S. C. Lowe.

Catcher—Pratt.

Pitchers—Lowe, Dent and Bowman.

Short Stop—Miller and Whaley.

First Base—Anderson.

Second Base—Shad.

Third Base—McWhorter.

Right Field—Mitchel.

Centre Field—Langhead.

Left Field—Llewellyn.

Substitutes—Shelby and Middleburg.

SCHEDULE OF GAMES.

W. U.	18,	vs.	Waynesburg	3
"	11,	"	W. U. P	1
"	0,	"	Westminster	13
"	3,	"	Grove City	11
"	5,	"	C. A. C	13
"	11,	"	Uniontown	8
"	10,	"	F. A. C	13
"	11,	"	O. W. U	1
"	4,	"	Uniontown	1
"	9,	"	F. A. C	8
"	0,	"	Uniontown	7
"	5,	"	F. A. C	2
"	0,	"	Uniontown	8
"	2,	"	"	12

SHAD	LOWE	McWHORTER	LEWELLYN
MILLER	BOWMAN	SWEENEY	PLATE
SULLIVAN	ANDERSON	LACROIX	DENT
	MITCHELL	MIDDLEBURY

Athletic Association.

Officers.

President	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	H. M. White
Vice President	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	H. H. Crossland
Treasurer	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	J. C. Long
Secretary	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	F. H. McGregor

Board of Directors.

Senior Class	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	S. C. Lowe
Junior Class	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	E. S. Stalnaker
Sophomore Class	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	T. M. Lardin
Freshman Class	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	E. F. Shelby
Manager Foot Ball Team	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	A. P. Romine
Captain Foot Ball Team	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	L. A. Yeager
Manager Base Ball Team	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	J. E. B. Sweeney
Captain	"	"	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	L. Lewellyn

Lecture Course Committee.

H. H. Crossland	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	J. R. Eakin
										R. N. Meade.

Members of the W. U. A. Athletic Association.

1 Anderson, G. E.	20 McWhorter, Chas.
2 Beltzhoover, George.	21 McCuskey, H. B.
3 Butler, S. G.	22 McGregor, F. H.
4 Crossland, H. R.	23 Noble, J. G.
5 Cole, E. L.	24 Poe, C.
6 Corbitt, G. C.	25 Peck, M. W.
7 Garrison, Harry.	26 Shad, P.
8 Garrison, J. A.	27 Shelby, Ed. H.
9 Hodges, Thos. E.	28 Sweeney, J. E. B.
10 Hatfield, C. A. P.	29 South, W. H.
11 Krebs, Geo. R.	30 Stalnaker, E. S.
12 Lardin, F. M.	31 Stewart, R. H.
13 Lowe, S. C.	32 Romine, A. P.
14 Long, Jas. C.	33 Ross, J. G.
15 Konrad, P.	34 White, H. M.
16 Miller, D. E.	35 White, Robert.
17 Meade, Robt. N.	36 Whitham, W. H.
18 McCrum, A. Bliss.	37 Welch, R. A.
19 Maynard, G. F.	38 Yeager, L. A.

Track Team Season '98.

McWhorter, 100 yards.
Yeager, 100 yards, vault, weight.
Maynard, 100 yards.
Crossland, high jump, vault.
Long, high jump, vault.
Cole I, every event.
Cole II, broad jump.
Krebs, weights.

Basket Ball Teams.

Seniors and Sophomores,

Krebs '99, R. Forward,

Barbe '99, L. Forward,

Whitham '99, Center,

Eakin '01, R. Guard,

Long '01, L. Guard,

Juniors and Freshmen.

Yeager '00, R. Forward,

Swallow '02, L. Forward,

Hinton '02, Center,

Burk '02, R. Guard,

Meade '00, L. Guard,

Substitutes: McWhorter '01, Price '02 and Ruttencutter '02.

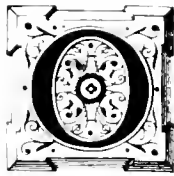

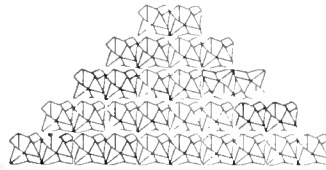

Final game's score 10 to 6 in favor of Junior—Freshman team.

Score 12 to 6 in favor of Senior—Sophomore team.

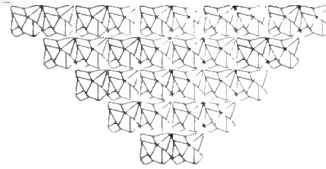

PRICE	PRINZ	BAIRD	SWANOW	EARN
VEGER	McWHORTER	KLEBS	LONG	ITTENSTTER
HUNTON	WUTTMAN	MEADE	BRIDE rganizations.

The Columbian Literary Society.

Motto.

VITA SINE LITTERIS MORS EST.

The Flower.

THE WHITE ROSE.

The Color.

ROYAL PURPLE.

Officers for '98 '99.

	Fall Term	Winter Term	Spring Term
President.....	C. D. Barbe.....	{ W. G. Clemens... A. W. Porterfield..S. M. Hoff
Vice President....	F. A. Hauber.....	{ A. W. Porterfield.. Frank Weaver.....Wm. S. John
Rec. Secretary....	Frank Weaver.....	Miss Taylor.....Miss Cartis
Critic.....	C. E. Martin.....	W. W. Hughes....Bruce McKinley
Treasurer	Bessie Tapp.....	W. G. Martin.....J. P. Hundley
Censor.....	Wm. S. John.....	W. H. MeyersClyde Herod
Cor. Secretary....	Miss Maggie Carr ..	Miss Miller.....A. B. McCutcheon
Librarian.....	V. A. Barrickman...	C. D. BarbeJ. F. Smith
Marshal	C. P. Swint.....	J. P. HundleyS. F. Spears
Chorister.....	Miss Winnie South..	Miss Martin....Miss Frances Miller
	C. D. Barbe.
	J. P. Hundley
	Miss Bessie Martin

Inter-Society Contestants.

Recitation,	- - - - -	P. A. Shaffer.
Essay,	- - - - -	Miss Willa Butcher.
Oration,	- - - - -	Van Ara Barrackman.
Debate {	- - - - -	W. W. Hughes
	- - - - -	E. I. Ireland.

COLUMBIAN LITERARY SOCIETY.

Preliminary Oratorical Contest.

S. T. Spears,

J. C. Frazer,

F. A. Hauber.

Members of Society.

Barrackman, V. A.	Dawson, Daniel.
Barbe, C. D.	Dusenberry, May.
Bell, C. H.	Frank, H. J. L.
Butcher, Willa Hart.	Frazer, J. C.
Clemens, W. G.	Frazer, Mrs. L. J.
Cody, B. B.	Gore, H. M.
Colebank, G. H.	Halsted, Ada.
Compton, May.	Hauber, F. A.
Core, Minnie Leigh.	Hawse, A. S.
Curtis, Alverda.	Herod, F. C.
Davis, Miss.	Hoff, S. M.
Hughes, A. G.	Martin, C. E.
Hughes, W. W.	Maxwell, Haymond.
Hundley, J. P.	McCutcheon, A. B.
Hutchinson, F. B.	McElroy, Miss.
Ireland, Addie.	McKinley, Bruce.
Ireland, E. I.	Myers, W. H.
Jamison, Gillian.	Miller, Miss.
John, W. S.	Miller, G. B.
Kerns, W. H.	Morgan, Miss.
Martin, Bessie Cathrine.	Neel, Isa Maud.
Martin, W. G.	Pollock, Isa Lenore.
Pollock, Bernice Evangeline.	Schraver, R.
Pollock, W. M.	Shaffer, P. A.
Porterfield, A. W.	Smith, Jean Frederick.
Post, A. L.	Spears, S. T.
Richards, Edgar U.	Sprinkle, P. O.
Rightmire, Ina Blanche.	Swint, C. P.
Rose, H. H.	Tapp, Bertha.
Ruttencutter, O. E.	Taylor, Pearl.
Saunders, Maud.	Wayt, W. H.
Saunders, Virginia.	Weaver, Frank.
Saunders, Harry.	Wilson, Agnes.
Wood, Lucy Berkshire.

The Parthenon Literary Society.

Motto:

“Palma nulla sine pulvere.”

Officers of '98 '99.

	Fall Term.	Winter Term.	Spring Term.
President	Horn.	Konrad.	Laughlin.
Vice-President . . .	Hatfield.	Meredith.	Dunn.
Censor	Frankenberger.	Poe.	Smith, W. W.
Secretary	Miss John.	Laughlin.	Miss Utt.
Chorister	Smith, G. N.	Smith, G. N.	Miss Sharp.
Critic	Meredith.	Ohern.	Smith, Charles.
Librarian	Sangston.	Rex.	Konrad.
Marshal	Cole.	Horn.	Wenzell.

Contestants.

INTER-SOCIETY CONTEST.

Declaimer, - - - - -	J. F. Maynard
Essayist, - - - - -	Miss Ella Elizabeth Egbert.
Orator, - - - - -	Gerald Newton Smith.
Debaters, - - - - -	Robert Guy, Alpheus Wilson Smith.

Priliminary Oratorical Contest.

Ward B. Lindsay.	Jno. L. Hatcher.	Frank L. Bowman.
------------------	------------------	------------------

PARTHENON LITERARY SOCIETY.

Parthenon Literary Society Roll of Active Members.

Auvil, J. H.	Hatfield, Jno.	Rex, E. B.
Bayles, W. H.	Hickman, C. B.	Rose, Chas.
Bowman, F. L.	Jones, Miss Hannah.	Snee, W. J.
Bush, I. B.	Johnson, Miss Sarah.	Sharp, Miss M. E.
Berkshire, C. E.	John, Miss Daisy B.	Smith, Chas.
Bitner, Miss L. H.	Konrad, Philip.	Smith, A. W.
Cole, E. L.	Lindsay, Ward B.	Smith, W. W.
Corbin, F. P.	Laughlin, B. F.	Smith, G. N.
Carver, E. A.	Lawrence, B. F.	Sutton, F. O.
Crenshaw, Vassar.	Morgan, Miss Lily.	Sutton, O. O.
Douthatt, Miss Dana.	Maynard, J. F.	Sawtelle, A. L.
Derbyshire, Chas.	Miller, J. F.	Steele, H. G.
Dunn, H. A.	Miller, J. F.	Tyson, H. E.
Easley, D. M.	Meek, J. H.	Utt, Miss Ella.
Egbert, Miss Ella E.	Meredith, J. A.	Vannoy, J. D.
Frankenberger, Hugo.	Ohern, D. W.	Willey, C. L.
Guy, Robert.	Province, Miss Lena.	Whitham, Geo. R.
Greene, Ed. H.	Province, Miss Millie.	Wenzell, R. O.
Holden, C. F.	Province, Miss Ethel.	Wiles, G. R. C.
Hatcher, Jno. L.	Province, Miss Nannie.	Williams, Ed.
Honaker, T. J.	Peters, F. M.	Whitescarver, Miss E. L.
Horn, Jos. W.	Poe, Clarence.	Willis, Miss Amarie.
Hunter, P. S.	Romine, A. P.	Yeager, L. A.

Engineering Society.

Officers.

President,	J. J. ABERSOLD.
Vice-President,	J. A. WILLIS.
Secretary,	F. A. FAULKNER.
Librarian,	C. RANDOLPH.
Critic,	P. E. GREEN.

Regular Members.

Abersold, J. J.	Holland, W. F.	Randolph, C.
Faulkner, F. A.	Konrad, P.	Tait, A. G.
Frum, F. N.	Elewellyn, Lee.	Thompson, L. C.
Gramm, G. E.	Quinby, C. H., Jr.	Willis, J. A.
Green, P. E.	Ross, J. G.	Morris, R. L.
		(Asst. Prof. C. E.)

THE ENGINEERING SOCIETY.

Fourth Annual Contest
OF THE Inter-Collegiate Statistical Association
OF Western Pennsylvania and West Virginia

Waynesburg, May 11, 1898.

Western University of Pennsylvania—

W. E. COPELAND: "The Missionary as a Civilizer."

Geneva College—

U. L. EUWER: "Republican Influence of Calvin."

West Virginia University—

* C. F. HOLDEN: "The Sentiment of Fraternity."

Bethany College—

H. U. MILLER: "The Gem of the Antilles."

Waynesburg College—

J. B. RINEHART: "Equality of Opportunity."

Westminster College—

J. W. SCOTT: "William the Silent."

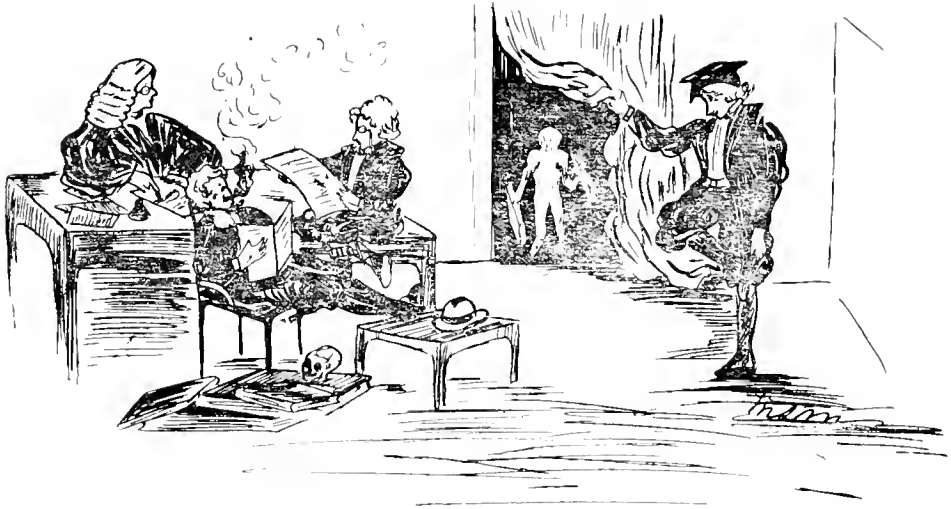

Allegheny College and Thiel College—

Not represented.

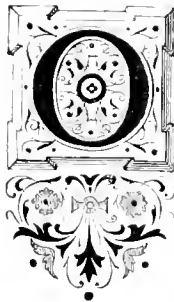

Representative from W. V. U., '99—

S. T. SPEARS. Alternate—J. C. FRAZER.

* Winner.

The Woman's League

ORGANIZATION is the keynote of success in every department of life, and there seems no limit to what can be done by an association of individuals if their efforts are properly directed. No more striking example can be found of the truth of this somewhat trite observation, than the Woman's League of the West Virginia University. About a year and a half ago, the women attending the University were isolated from each other, and had very little, if any, social recreation. One strong woman saw the need of closer sympathy among them, and as, with her, to see a need was to strive to meet it on November 12th, 1897, the Woman's League was organized under her direction. This helpful woman was Mrs. Jerome H. Raymond, the wife of the President of the University, and to her is due the brilliant success which the Woman's League has attained.

At the time of the organization of the League, there were one hundred and twelve women in the University, and nearly every one gave her name for membership. Miss Mabel Reynolds was elected first President; Miss Elizabeth L. Hagans, Vice President; Miss Winifred O. South, Corresponding Secretary; Miss Eleanor B. Moreland, Recording Secretary; Miss Sarah Johnson, Treasurer. Eight standing committees were appointed by the President, the chairmen of which were as follows: Lookout, Miss Evelyn Pratt; Welcome, Miss Willa Brand; Social, Miss Alberta McVicker; Program, Mrs. J. H. Raymond; Music, Mrs. F. W. Keene; Year Book, Miss Stella White; Finance, Miss Eleanor B. Moreland; League House, Miss Ella

E. Egbert. These chairmen, together with the officers, constituted a Board of Directors. The League was very soon in working order, and many plans inaugurated. On the third Saturday afternoon of each month during the year a talk is given before the League by some distinguished woman, which brings it into vital contact with the thoughts and aspirations of those who have reached a high place in the intellectual world. The first talk was given by Mrs. R. N. C. Morrow, of Fairmont, W. Va. Her subject was "The Nineteenth Century Woman." Dr. Harriet B. Jones, of Wheeling, W. Va., gave the second Saturday afternoon talk, her subject being "Hereditry." Miss Eliza J. Skinner, Librarian of the University and an active member of the League, addressed it on the subject of "An American Woman in Naples." The fourth address was given by Miss Martha Brock, a cultured lady of Morgantown. Her subject was "St. Cecilia." Mrs. J. H. Raymond came next, with a paper on "Jane Addams and Hull House." Mrs. J. G. McMurphy, of Oak Park, Illinois, spoke on "The Origin and Spirit of the Greek Myth."

A number of ladies of Morgantown have been elected to associate membership, and each month one of them gives an afternoon reception to the members of the League. These occasions are very delightful, and make possible a closer social intercourse among the women of the University. No distinctions of any kind are made, but all meet on a perfect equality.

Besides these strictly feminine affairs, a number of large public entertainments have been projected and carried out by the League. On the evening of each Thanksgiving Day, a reception is to be given to the young men students and the faculty of the University. Last Thanksgiving evening the reception was a brilliant occasion, as nearly 700 people were present. A clever play was rendered in Commencement Hall during the first part of the evening, called "The Coming Woman, a Prophetic Drama," in which Mr. and Mrs. Frazer, Miss Sara Johnson, Miss Dent, Miss Douthat, Miss Utt, Miss Compton, Mr. Shaffer, and Mr. Connell took part. The refreshments were served in the Gymnasium, which was prettily decorated for the occasion.

Another plan inaugurated by the management of the League was a declamation contest, to be held each year at commencement time,—two prizes, the first of one hundred dollars and the second of sixty dollars to be awarded each year respectively to the two women students in any department who shall excel in declamation. To raise the money for these prizes, a course of public entertainments, consisting of concerts and lectures was to be given.

The first course, given during the winter of 1897-8, was a decided success in every way. Miss Winifred Gray, a gifted reader from Rockford, Illinois, appeared in the course, as did also Miss Charlotte Van Cleve, of New York, a soloist who charmed every one with her sweet voice. The declamation prizes were awarded for the first time in June, 1898, Miss Sue Gilbert, of Piedmont, W. Va., receiving the $100 prize, and Miss Ethel Provence, of Pennsylvania, the $60 prize.

Another enterprise is the Woman's League Annual, the first number of which appeared in June, 1898. The articles for this magazine were contributed by the members of the League.

The season of 1898-9 opened auspiciously, with greatly increased numbers and zeal. Mrs. J. C. Frazer was elected President; Miss Bertha Browning, Vice-President; Miss Carrie Dent, Secretary, and Miss Sarah Johnson, Treasurer. Committees and chairmen were appointed as follows: Lookout, Miss Leila Bitner; Membership, Miss Orama E. Utt; Social, Mrs. Mary L. Aldrich; Progress, Mrs. J. H. Raymond; Press, Miss Ella E. Egbert; Printing, Miss Anna B. White; Finance, Miss Sarah Johnson; Music, Mrs. Waitman Barbe. The Board of Directors are now assisted by an Advisory Board, consisting of the following associate members: Mrs. George C. Sturgiss, Mrs. W. P. Willey, Mrs. James S. Stewart, Miss Mabel Reynolds, Mrs. Henry Hubbard Pierce, Mrs. St. George T. Brooke, Mrs. F. L. Emory. Plans were soon perfected for the year and published in a booklet. This booklet gives the names of the ladies who will entertain the League each month, the entertainment course, etc. Miss Adah Mapel gave the first talk year on "Student Life at Radcliffe;" Miss Gertrude McMillan, of Washington, Pa., a charming reader, who appeared on the public entertainment course, gave an afternoon program; Mrs. J. C. Fraser, an address on "Women in English Colleges;" Mrs. Henry Hubbard Pierce talked about "A Woman's Army Life in the West;" and Mrs. J. H. Raymond spoke on "The Daughters of Sunrise Land."

The public entertainment course was very successful. Miss Charlotte Van Cleve appeared again. Miss Gertrude McMillan, who is mentioned above, gave an excellent program, and a play given by some of the University students was an especial attraction. The course closed, as before, with the declamation contest.

On February 22d, 1899, a Colonial Tea was held in the Gymnasium. The ladies appeared in old-fashioned costumes, one lady wearing a gown made in 1773. A number of tables, upon which were displayed various articles for sale were placed in different parts of the large room, and were soon surrounded by eager buyers. The refreshment, apron and candy tables were most popular, though the fair saleswoman at the other tables sold nearly their entire stocks. About $100 was added to the treasury of the League as a result.

It is impossible to say how much richer and happier have been the lives of the women of the West Virginia University because of this splendid organization. But the deep underlying purpose of the League will not.

WOMAN'S LEAGUE.

become apparent by the mere perusal of the foregoing history of its activities.

Throughout all ranks of society the beneficent spirit of democracy is winning its way, and the world is more and more coming to believe, and to act on the belief, that all distinctions of wealth and influence are artificial, and that character should determine the social position of any human being. Educational institutions are proverbially conservative, and the last to feel the quickening spirit of modern ideas of equality. It is not long since education was considered the private possession of the rich, of the so-called "leisure classes." But now, throughout the length and breadth of the land, a great awakening is taking place. The poor man is knocking at the doors of colleges and universities, and not only gaining entrance, but honors and emoluments. It was the great fact of this new awakening that led to the organization of the Women's League. Its real purpose is the spread of democracy by bringing all the women together on an equal plane, and through them the rest of the student body.

As the spirit of democracy is the spirit of progress, of development, of broader and better lives for all, it is hoped that its benign influence will act in and through the earnest members of the Woman's League, who have made so noble a record during the few months of its existence, until every daughter of West Virginia shall claim from the State her rightful heritage,—a college education.

The day has dawned! Its morning light surpassing fair
The beauty of thy maiden might and purpose rare—
Bring visions of the mountain height all glorious,
Where thou shalt stand at noontime bright, victorious;
A league of women, brave and good, and loving, too,
To all that's best in womanhood forever true!

ELLA ELIZABETH EGBERT.

Y. M. C. A.

For 1898-'99.

President	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	F. N. FRUM
Vice President	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	C. E. BERKSHIRE
Treasurer	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	A. W. PORTERFIELD
Recording Secretary	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	J. W. HORN
Corresponding Secretary	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	J. F. NELSON

For 1899-'00.

President	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	S. M. HOFF
Vice President	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	W. H. BAYLES
Treasurer	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	J. A. MEREDITH
Recording Secretary	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	E. C. TABLER
Corresponding Secretary	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	J. R. MORELAND

Members of Young Men's Christian Association.

Beall, C. H.	Moreland, H. L.
Bayles, W. H.	Meredith, J. A.
Bowman, F. L.	Miller, J. F.
Barnes, I. A.	McCutchon, A. B.
Barrackman, V. A.	McMillan, J. R.
Berkshire, C. E.	McMillan, R. H.
Beltzhoover, G. M.	McKinley, Bruce.
Bush, I. B.	Nelson, J. F.
Burke, F. R.	Neely, M. M.
Bush, Coleman.	Ong, W. I.
Baumgardner, F. G. H.	Porterfield, A. W.
Clemens, W. G.	Post, A. L.
Correll, S. D.	Printz, B. G.
Cole, E. L.	Quimby, C. H.
Cooke, O. V.	Randolph, Clyde.
Dunn, H. A.	Rogers, H. F.
Dobbs, L. F.	Rose, C. C.
Ebers, C. H.	Robinson, C.
Easley, D. M.	Steele, H. G.
Frum, F. N.	Shriver, R. C.
Friend, L. L.	Six, W. L.
Gibson, M. R.	Spragg, J. W.

Gantz, O.
Horn, J. W.
Hawse, A. L.
Hughes, A. G.
Himler, Charles.
Hoff, S. M.
Hall, J. S.
Hickman, C. B.
Ireland, Emery.
Jones, Albert.
Kime, L. S.
Lawrence, B. F.
McMurphy, J. C.
Moreland, J. R.

Smith, G. N.
Swallow, W. A.
Spears, S. T.
Smith, C. S.
Sanders, Harry.
Smith, W. W.
Tabler, E. C.
Thurman, W.
Vannoy, J. D.
Weaver, Frank.
Waite, W. H.
Whitham, G. R.
Williams, Edward.
Whitham, W. H.

Wilson, J. F.

Associate Members.

Lemen, David.
Markley, G. L.
Meyer, J. H.

Morris, P. D.
Sprinkle, P. O.
Sutton, O. O.

Sutton, F. O.

Y. M. C. A. History.

THE Young Men's Christian Association of the West Virginia University was organized in 1893. The meeting for organization was held in what was then the president's room, but is now Judge Johnson's lecture room. The Association in its early days held its regular meetings in the same room. The organization began with a membership of about twenty. Mr. A. B. Smith was chosen first president and served till the regular time later in the year for the election of officers.

For the past six years the Association has been at work in the University, endeavoring to do something for the spiritual life and growth of the students. Devotional meetings are held every Friday evening from 6 to 7 o'clock. Special services are held often times on Sunday afternoon.

The Y. M. C. A. does work of various kinds. It has made a specialty of free lecture courses on religious subjects, given by members of the faculty. These have always been good, open to every one, and very highly appreciated. The hope and purpose at present is to continue this phase of the work in the future. The great Northfield Bible School, under direction of Mr. Moody, has attracted our interest each year and we have been sending one delegate there every summer. Messrs. Stout, Goodwin, Frum and Clemens have represented our Association at Northfield at different times in the last four years. The delegate always come back full of earnestness and enthusiasm for Christian work, and impart a share of this to those who have not had the pleasure of going.

In the fall of 1898 Mr. Vinton, one of the travelling secretaries of the Students Volunteer Movement, visited our institution and held some very interesting missionary meetings. This was the first presentation of the Volunteer Movement to our students.

It has been customary with our Association to hold two or three times each year special meetings to which the body students would be invited. Since the number of lady students has so greatly increased it is hoped that there will soon be a Y. W. C. A. also, and that the two organizations may be an aid and encouragement to each other and may co-operate in their work whenever it would be to their advantage and for the good of the student body.

We have not heretofore aimed in a direct way to do much for the social life of the students, but are planning greater things along that line for the future. We have not been called upon to take up all kinds of work that are done by many Associations. We have not concerned ourselves about a library because the University library has many valuable religious books, including some of our own publications. The reading room of the University provides various religious papers and journals. The work of the Y. M. C. A. is with us more directly religious. Our purpose is to cultivate and encourage in students daily habits of Christian life. One way of doing this, which we have been trying though without great success thus far, is systematic Bible study in small classes. College life is not without its temptations and the Y. M. C. A. aims to counteract these and to urge students to the highest spiritual life along with their mental attainments.

THE ANATOMY CLASS.

Roster of the Cadet Corps.

STAFF.

Colonel R. E. Fast, First Infantry, West Virginia National Guard (resigned), Acting Commandant.

Cadet Major George E. Gramen.

Major James W. Hartigan, Surgeon.

Cadet First Lieutenant Wilbur L. Robe, Signal Officer.

Cadet First Lieutenant Charles W. Waddell, Adjutant.

Cadet First Lieutenant Walter L. Lowe, Quartermaster.

NON-COMMISSIONED STAFF.

Cadet Henry S. Lively, Sergeant Major.

Cadet Elisha M. Dille, Ordnance Sergeant.

Cadet Harry A. St. Clair, Principal Musician.

Cadet William H. Gibson, Quartermaster Sergeant.

COMPANY A.

Cadet Captain DesMoines Utt, Commanding Company.
Cadet First Lieutenant Paul E. Green.
Cadet Second Lieutenant Hugo Frankengerber.

SERGEANTS.

Cadet Sergeant Charles H. Quimby, First Sergeant.
Cadet Sergeant William H. Bayles.
Cadet Sergeant Benjamin R. Roller.
Cadet Sergeant John A. Willis.
Cadet Sergeant James A. Meredith.

CORPORALS.

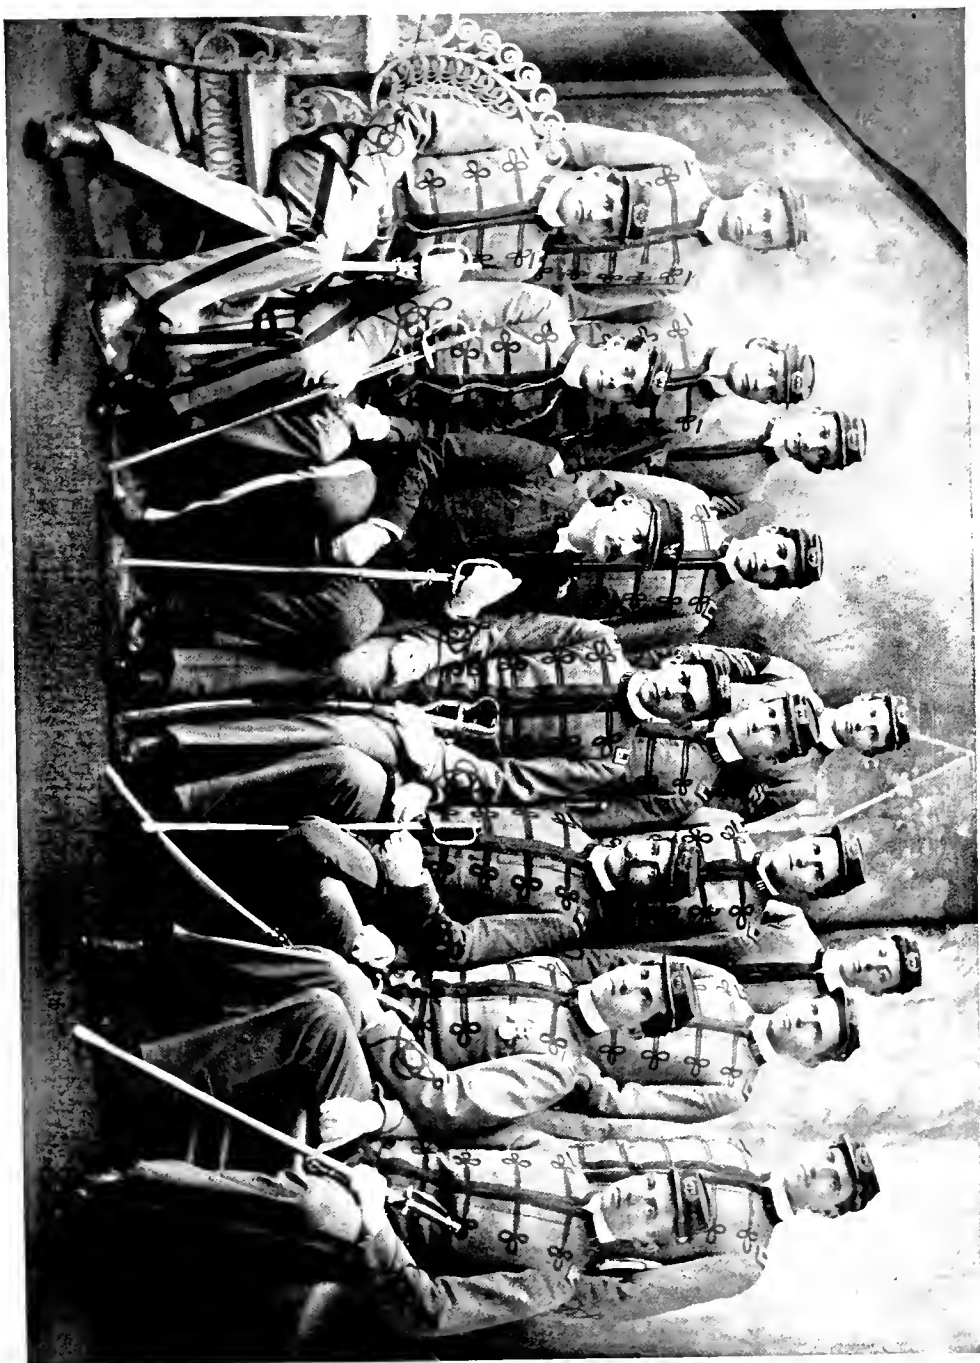

Cadet Corporal Frank D. Hutchinson.
Cadet Corporal Bruce Bailey.
Cadet Corporal Clinton B. Wagner.
Cadet Corporal Thomas J. Davis.

PRIVATES.

Cadet Henry C. Alexander.	Cadet James E. Kessell.
Cadet Robert H. Brown.	Cadet James W. McDonald.
Cadet Robert H. Boyd.	Cadet Alvaro D. McCutchen.
Cadet George H. Campbell.	Cadet Charles B. McGlumphy.
Cadet Henry D. Carrell.	Cadet Harry R. Muldoon.
Cadet John W. Cummins.	Cadet Charles L. Moore.
Cadet Herbert W. Dent.	Cadet William E. Parsons.
Cadet Daniel Dawson.	Cadet Carroll Robinson.
Cadet Price Duty.	Cadet Count L. Radcliffe.
Cadet Forest D. Early.	Cadet Frederic W. Sanders.
Cadet Frank R. Hewitt.	Cadet Earle C. Maxwell.
Cadet William R. Shaw.	Cadet Oley O. Sutton.
Cadet L. C. Smith.	Cadet Ernest C. Tabler.
Cadet Sidney Schloss.	Cadet Joseph W. Thornbury.
Cadet Edward S. Stalnaker.	Cadet Lewis C. Thompson.
Cadet Robert H. Stewart.	Cadet Arthur B. Willis.
	Cadet C. E. Watson.

COMPANY B.

Cadet Captain William D. R. Annan, Commanding Company.
Cadet First Lieutenant Edward B. Carskadon.
Cadet Second Lieutenant Howard M. Gore.

STAFF, NON-COMMISSIONED STAFF AND FIELD OFFICERS.

SERGEANTS.

Cadet Sergeant George H. F. Holy, First Sergeant.
Cadet Sergeant Robert D. Roller.
Cadet Sergeant Harry G. Steele.
Cadet Sergeant Seaton G. Butler.
Cadet Sergeant David C. Thompson.

CORPORALS.

Cadet Corporal Raymond Dodson.
Cadet Corporal Ralph Rogers.
Cadet Corporal Allen L. Hawse.
Cadet Corporal Frank P. Corbin.

MUSICIAN.

Cadet Lucian A. Hill.

PRIVATES.

Cadet Jesse H. Auville.	Cadet Walter G. Johnson.
Cadet Fred N. Barnes.	Cadet Richard H. Killingsworth.
Cadet Smith Blair.	Cadet Benjamin F. Lawrence.
Cadet Kenny C. Blackwood.	Cadet George L. Markley.
Cadet Clyde A. Cole.	Cadet Howard M. Meyers.
Cadet Jean V. Cooke.	Cadet Walter H. Meyers.
Cadet Charles Derbyshire.	Cadet Walter A. McGlumphy.
Cadet George L. Doolittle.	Cadet Dixon W. Parsons.
Cadet Harding L. Duval.	Cadet Benjamin F. Patton.
Cadet Henry J. Hervey.	Cadet Charles H. Plumley.
Cadet Rector R. Hughes.	Cadet Delbert T. Robinson.
Cadet Walter R. Thurmond.	Cadet Chester O. Roney.
Cadet Richard W. Trapnell.	Cadet Arnold A. Scherr.
Cadet William M. Watkins.	Cadet William W. Smith.
Cadet George R. C. Wiles.	Cadet Samuel T. Spears.
Cadet Fred V. Zeck.	Cadet Felix O. Sutton.

COMPANY C.

Cadet Captain Benjamin F. Laughlin, Commanding Company.
Cadet First Lieutenant Lathrop R. Charter, Jr.
Cadet Second Lieutenant James R. Moreland.

SERGEANTS.

Cadet Sergeant Earl H. Smith, First Sergeant.
Cadet Sergeant William F. Alexander.
Cadet Sergeant Robert J. Largent.
Cadet Sergeant Clarence Poe.
Cadet Sergeant Thomas Lang.

CORPORALS.

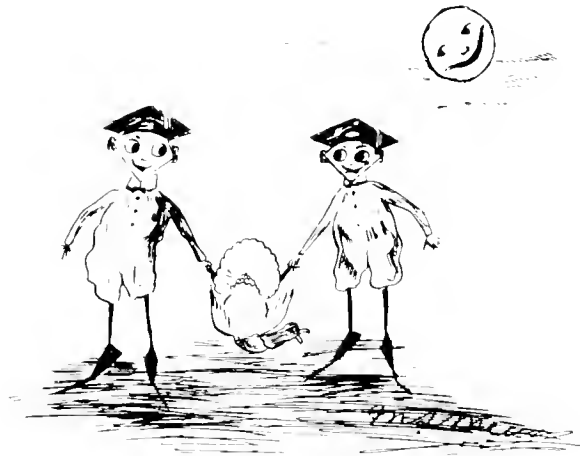

Cadet Corporal George H. Bayles.
Cadet Corporal Ira B. Bush.
Cadet Corporal Emmert L. Cole.
Cadet Corporal Charles L. McIntosh.

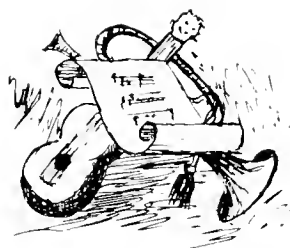

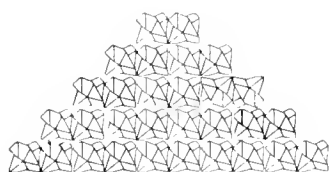

MUSICIAN.

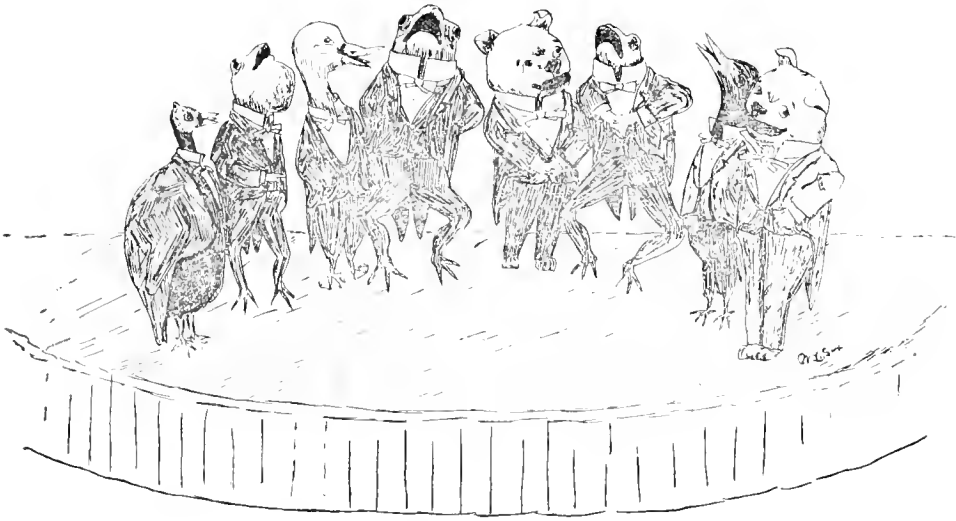

Cadet Henry Capito.

PRIVATES.

Cadet Clyde Alexander.	Cadet Arthur M. Lucas.
Cadet Marston Boughner.	Cadet John H. Mayer.
Cadet Thomas J. Casey.	Cadet Robert W. McMurtie.
Cadet Clyde J. Casey.	Cadet Gilbert B. Miller.
Cadet Cander Chancellor.	Cadet Howard C. Moore.
Cadet Lee F. Dobbs.	Cadet Joel Q. Naret.
Cadet Charles R. Heermans.	Cadet Percy D. Rice.
Cadet Jay F. Hoover.	Cadet Harold F. Rogers.
Cadet Elbert Jones.	Cadet Pergolia E. Sprinkle.
Cadet Ernest D. Lea.	Cadet Mansfield M. Neely.
	Cadet John C. Lewis.

Male Glee Club,

First Tenor

Second Tenor

THOMAS CLYDE HEROD.

LEE FILMORE DOBBS.

EMERSON CARNEY.

C. A. ELLENBERGER.

First Bass—

Second Bass—

P. O. SPRINKLE.

G. N. SMITH.

FRED BURKE.

W. A. SWALLOW.

Director—Prof. C. A. ELLENBERGER.

D. W. O'HERN.

MALE GLEE CLUB

W. U. U. Choral Society.

President—D. W. O'HERN.
Vice-President—Miss MATTIE BROCK.
Secretary—Miss MABEL REYNOLDS.
Assistant Secretary—W. A. SWALLOW.
Treasurer—Miss MARY GREGG.
Accompanist—Miss GRACE MARTIN.
Director—C. A. ELLENBERGER.

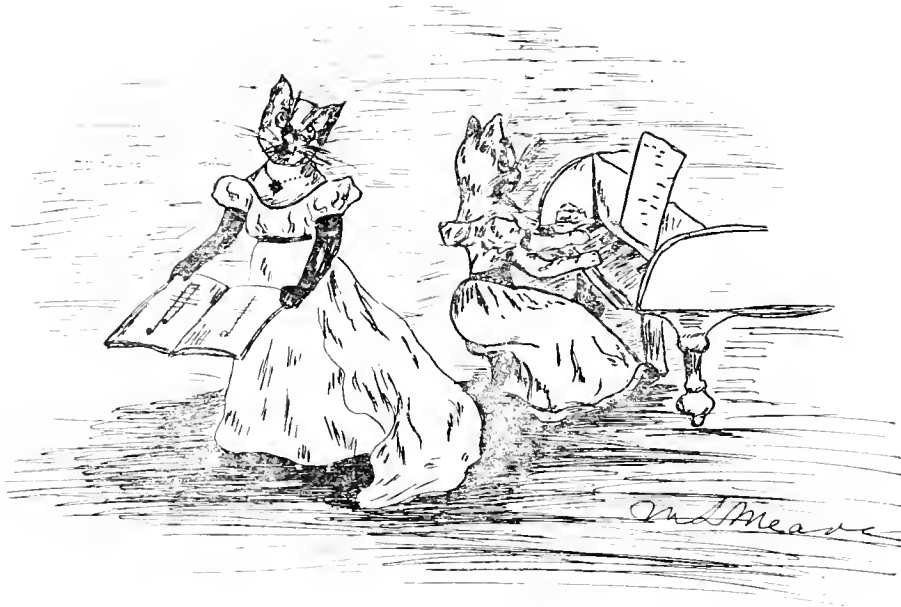

Choral Union.

(Organized for the Study of Sacred Music.)

MEETS SABBATH AFTERNOONS, 3 O'CLOCK.

Executive Committee, representing the Young People's Societies of the various churches:

Prof. C. Ross Jones.	Accompanists :
Miss Mary Gregg.	Miss Grace Martin.
J. Frank Nelson.	" Blanche Wood.
Miss Mary Joliffe.	" Blanche Protzman.
Miss Mabel Reynolds.	Director:
F. N. Frum.	C. A. Ellenberger.
F. J. Brock.
Frank Weaver.

Women's Glee Club.

First Sopranos—

MISS JESSIE MOORHEAD.

MISS SUE GILBERT.

MRS. C. A. ELLENBERGER.

MISS MARY GREGG.

Second Sopranos—

MISS MARY HAYES.

MISS MARGARET SHARP.

MISS LLEWELLYN.

MISS MAE WOOD.

MISS JOHNSTON.

First Altos—

MISS BLANCHE WOOD.

MISS FRANCES MILLER.

Second Altos—

MISS GERTRUDE HAYES.

MRS. LAZELLE.

Director—Prof. ELLENBERGER.

Mandolin, Banjo and Guitar Club.

First Mandolins—

FRANK KEENE.

A. L. SAWTELLE.

L. S. HALL.

J. S. SNYDER.

Second Mandolins—

E. A. CARVER.

E. H. SMITH.

H. FRANKENBERGER.

C. L. MCINTOSH.

Mandola—

R. H. STEWART.

First Guitars—

CHAS. MCWHORTER.

W. F. ALEXANDER.

Specialties—

JAMES LAZIER.

Second Guitar—

LEO STENDER.

First Banjos—

JOHN HATCHER.

SAMUEL CHADWICK.

Second Banjo—

B. F. LAUGHLIN.

Accompanists—

S. G. BUTLER and JOHN DUDLEY.

Banjoine—

A. B. MCCRUM.

Orchestra.

First Violin—

FRANK KEENE.

ED. KAUFFMANN.

JEROME C. McMURPHY.

Second Violin—

P. O. SPRINKLE.

CARROLL MARTIN.

Cornet—

JESSE TURNER.

Flute—

W. K. GIVENS.

Trombone—

G. W. BAYLES.

Bass Violin—

KENNETH MCKENZIE.

Violincello—

DUDLEY TURNER.

Accompanist—

MRS. KEENE.

ORCHESTRA

April.

It is time for that "queer feeling,"

It is coming "o'er us stealing,"

It's a tishrod with its reeling

Reeling music with its ringing

 Ringing off the sweetest note.

Now the earth-worm heeds our spading

Now we're off to do our wading

Now we're back at evening's fading

 Fading while the robin's singing

 Singing songs with bursting throat.

How the grass from ground is springing,

How the birds their songs are singing,

How the cows their bells are ringing,

 Ringing, singing, springing, sounding,

 Sounding praise that spring is here.

Soon with life will air be teeming,

Soon with green will hills be gleaming,

Soon with warmth will Sol be beaming,

 Beaming, gleaming, teeming, spreading,

 Spreading joy with mirth and cheer.

Now that Spring has stopped her staying,

Now that chicks their eggs are laying,

Now that frogs their chant are saying,

 Saying time and tide are fleeting,

 Fleeting tide and fleeting time.

Come out now and air your ailing,

Come out now, confess your failing,

Come out now your ship comes sailing,

 Sailing home with Easter greeting

 Greeting of a brighter clime.

There, let cares escape us fleeing

There are sights for just the seeing

There is great joy just in being,

 Being free from cares depressing

 Pressing us with heavy load.

Come, escape us from the groaning

Come, we're healed from ev'ry moaning

Come, we've joys now for the loaning

 Loaning joy, and joy us blessing

 Blessing us in joy's abode.

ORILAS G. WHITE.

The Coming Race.

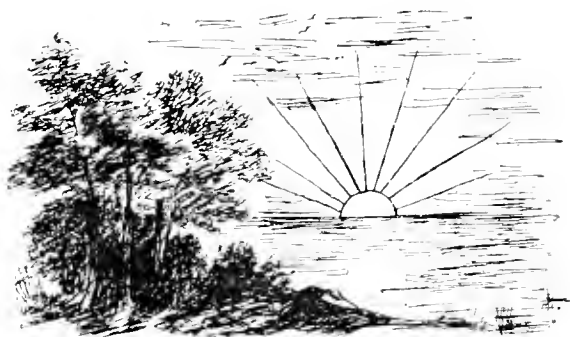

I see them faintly o'er the misty hills,
The sons and daughters of the Time-to-be,
With grave sweet faces bending lovingly,
And voices making music soft that fills
Our weary air with tender, heart-glad thrills;
Their eyes serene and calm as those who see
Visions of Heaven and angel-purity.

In their strong souls no dread of earthly ills,
And on their tranquil brows a fearless scorn
Of all that trample Truth and Justice low,
And make the frail and helpless weeping go.
And in their hands they carry lilies white,
Emblem of charity to all men born.
O haste thy feet, and bring the new day's light!

JOSEPHINE RAYMOND.

A Romance.

PART I.

This story had its beginning in the early days of co-education in one of the great western universities and relates some of the vicissitudes in the lives of two or three members of the class of 18—.

All the students had been passing through that much dreaded ordeal which brings sleepless nights, and days full of trouble. It was the week of final examinations just prior to commencement.

Rose Stanley, having finished her last examination, sat down in the sweet seclusion of her own room to muse over her good fortune.

"I have looked forward to this moment for the past four years; I have pictured myself the happiest girl in college; I have thought my cup of joy would be full to overflowing; but I am disappointed. Is it thus through life? Is happiness an ignis-fatuus that lures the weary traveler on and ever eludes his grasp? In a few days the members of our class will be separated; we, who have toiled together to augment the excellence of our natures, to reach a higher plane of life, will go out into the cold, pitiless world to struggle alone. What am I going to do? My parents have sacrificed much that I might realize this moment. I must make some use of my education and try to repay them for their kindness."

Thus Rose consumed the time she had planned to spend in unalloyed joy. There was a little rap on the door and before she could say "come," Margaret Kent, her most intimate friend and classmate, rushed in exclaiming:

"O, Rose, I never felt so relieved in all my life. I have just finished my examination in mathematics. I'm pretty sure I landed on the right side of seven, and that's all I aimed at. Mathematics has been the bane of my school life and just think, I'll never again have to puzzle my brain over the stuff. Rose, what makes you so sad? Has the kitten taken a relapse, or the dog committed suicide? Heed the Divine injunction, 'Rejoice with those that do rejoice.'"

"I do rejoice with you, Margaret; I just came home a few moments ago from my last trial, and I have had some long, long thoughts."

"O, Rose, you are such a matter-of-fact somebody! Thinking some long thoughts. That's not such a departure after all. Our beloved Longfellow says, 'The thoughts of youth are long, long thoughts.' But this reminds me of books, class rooms, professors. Let's put away the retrospect and prospect and live in the present. Let's rejoice that we are free. Freedom! I never realized the full meaning of that word until now; it's the sweetest word in the English language. No chains, no fetters, free as the winds that sweep over our broad prairies."

"I'm not so sure of freedom," suggested Rose.

Margaret looked out of the window and saw Paul Kenneth coming toward the house, and said to Rose that she would feel better when she saw him.

The mention of Paul's name sent an electric thrill through Rose Stanley's heart, and the blood mounted to her pale face in a twinkling. She felt vexed that she should show any signs of perturbation even to Margaret.

Rose and Paul had been very intimate friends ever since they had come to know each other, and exchanged confidences often; and, indeed it had been whispered that they were more to each other than just ordinary friends.

Margaret insisted that Rose go down to see Paul and she would entertain herself, so Rose ran down to meet him, Margaret wondered what made Rose blush so at the mention of Paul's name, and why she was so melancholy lately.

"Well, are you through examinations, Rose," said Paul.

"Yes; just finished this afternoon," answered Rose.

"The time of my departure is near, Rose, and for all I have said about this place I am loath to leave it. It has begun to seem like home,—then I'm sorry to leave my friends. In after years, when I'm inclined to live over the past, I'm sure I'll live over my college days oftener than any other period of my life."

"It may be."

"You'll certainly come back on a visit some time."

"O, I may. I can't tell what will happen. You understand, Rose, that I have a great deal before me and can make no plans very far ahead. But this is vain talk; I came down to ask if you would take a walk this evening."

Rose promised to go walking, and Paul started back to his room. As he walked briskly along he could not help thinking how pained Rose looked when he spoke of the uncertainty of his ever coming back. He said to himself, "If I had any sense I would love that good girl, but love cannot be forced. I believe I'm a freak of nature anyway. The power to sympathize, to feel the pain of another's woe, either lies dormant within my breast, or has been left entirely out of my composition. I wonder if there's any hope for me?" Now, I like Rose. She is my dearest friend, but I don't believe I love her. Love! Why should I think of such a thing? It will be years before I'm prepared to entertain Cupid. Anyway, I believe I'm too sawdust-hearted ever to appreciate the tender passion. I suppose there is such a thing, but this idea of there being but one person in the world whom one can love is all nonsense. It's all the result of association, the law of association works wonders."

"When I leave, Rose will meet some one else whom constant association will make as dear as I. I feel very sorry that affairs have turned out thus, but God knows I did not mean anything but friendship."

Thus, Paul dismissed these unpleasant thoughts from his mind and in a few moments was chatting gayly with some of his college friends who had dropped in at his room.

The days passed rapidly; the graduates received their coveted sheepskins, and the time for Paul's departure has now come. Rose walked to the station with him; the platform was crowded with numbers of students and their friends; the shrill note of the locomotive rent the air. It seemed to Rose more like a funeral note. Good byes were being said on every side. Paul and Rose had clasped hands and he saw upon her face that same pained expression that seemed to him a constant companion of late.

After the train had started, she wearily dragged her steps homeward and an impenetrable gloom settled around her; there was not a single ray of hope to disperse it. She did not care to see any one, so she went to her own room and there gave vent to her pent up feelings. She reviewed the whole period of the association of herself and Paul. She first questioned the justice of God for having implanted within her nature the capacity to love so deeply when it could never avail anything. Then she reproached herself for caring so much for one who could not reciprocate her affection.

"I have been reckless, Oh, so reckless. Paul is the very essence of nobility else he would have scorned me long before this. I see him now as he stood in the twilight of that beautiful May evening two years ago, and listened with troubled look at the confession of my folly. He did not try to deceive me, or mock me as so many would have done, but told me the truth," reasoned Rose.

Again she burst into an agony of grief and her whole frame shook with convulsive sobs. She thought if he had been deceitful and treacherous she could give him up, but those qualities of soul which stamp nobility upon man stood out in flaming characters and she loved with a love that was deeper than ever.

Something told her that the time would come when she would have to give him up, and this vow she made then and there: "I promise the God who has given me this capacity to love never again to question His wisdom and justice. I leave everything in His hands. I place my life under His supervision and direction."

Paul and Rose corresponded for a time, but the tidings that Cupid had at last found the vulnerable spot in his heart and pierced it with one of his little arrows, struck the death blow to their communication, and they drifted apart. Rose went about trying to brighten the lives that she saw clouded with gloom, letting in a ray of sunshine here and planting a flower there. Paul worked diligently in his field of labor to earn an honest living and to help those that were dear to him.

PART II.

It is a beautiful June evening. Two women sit on the broad porch of the Clarke mansion in San Francisco, Cal. The house stands on a slight eminence which affords a sweeping view of the Golden Gate and its spacious park. One of the ladies is Mrs. Clarke, the Margaret Kent of years ago, and the other is Rose Stanley of to-day and of yore.

Twenty-five years have wrought many changes. Each head, once golden brown, now wears a silver crown; each face bears the record written there by Father Time and on one there are unmistakeable evidences of sorrow.

Soon after Margaret graduated she was married to one of her classmates and went to California. The two friends kept up a correspondence for several years, but became careless as persons long separated will, and finally ceased to write.

In the afternoon the servant announced to Mrs. Clarke that a strange lady wished to see her. Mrs. Clarke supposing it to be a missionary or some prominent W. C. T. U. worker went into the parlor with a rather uninterested look on her face. Rose approached to shake hands but saw no sign of recognition. She could restrain her feelings no longer and cried: "O, Margaret, don't you know Rose Stanley?" This was enough. In a moment they were locked in each other's arms, mingling their tears of joy. So on this balmy June evening, these two friends have come apart from the rest of the family to talk over the halcyon days of old, and what the years have bequeathed to each.

At length the conversation turns to the class of 18---. From the knowledge each possesses they are able to locate most of its members. Some went to war and lost their lives; some are officers in the United States army; others have become successful farmers, business men, professors, lawyers, doctors, ministers and statesmen.

Paul Kenneth's name has not yet been mentioned, but finally Margaret ventures to say, "Rose, what has become of Paul?"

Rose's face pales as she answers, "Margaret it's a sad story that I must tell you to answer this question." You remember I told you years ago of my strange attachment for Paul Kenneth and his inability to return my affection? You may recall the fruitless struggles of my soul to overcome what I then considered a great weakness. I have spent many desolate hours, for never from that day to this has another soul touched mine; but I am firm in the belief that I am a better woman for having felt the consuming fire burn within my soul than I would otherwise have been. I have had opportunities to marry but I could not profess something I did not feel. Pure, holy love is the basis of all true marriage. God recognizes no other.

I always said Paul would make a success of life for he possessed those qualities, perseverance, sterling integrity, and conscientious devotion to duty, which enter into the attainment of this coveted prize. He finally won the woman of his choice and they lived very happily until death took her away.

I was left alone in the world early in life. I had a home and money to keep me comfortably but I could not endure the silence that brooded over it, so I sold the place and tore myself away from all those tender associations of early life and set out to be of some benefit to humanity. I felt, too, that I must work to drive away the pain that had its abode in my heart.

Trained nurses were in demand. I entered a training school and in two years went into the hospital at Chicago.

Thousands of pale faces pass before my mind's eye, but there is one that stands before all others. A fortnight ago, as I sat by an upstairs window watching the stream of humanity that surged back and forth, I noticed that a carriage had stopped before the entrance and that a man was being brought upstairs. I was immediately put in charge of the patient. His face was haggard and he lay with his eyes closed, but there was something familiar about his features. After I had made him as comfortable as possible I sat down by the bed. Presently he looked up into my face. The revelation of that moment called forth a cry of surprise from both. It was Paul Kenneth. The years had wrought many changes but the expression of those eyes—they were powerless to affect.

From that time he was inclined to talk a great deal. I saw signs of fever and tried to keep him quiet but all to no avail. He said it had been so long since we had had a confidential talk—to let him be Paul of college days and tell me his troubles. So he told me all about his happy married life and about the death of his wife and the lonely hours he had spent since. I tried to comfort him as best I could. He would not allow me to leave him one moment.

We soon found he had fever. He rapidly grew worse. I saw he was sinking. How my heart ached as I sat there and watched the life that had turned the tide of my life, ebbing away.

Suddenly his face lighted up and he stretched out his hands toward me and said: "Good bye, Rose, I'm going home. She is waiting for me and we will watch until you come. You were my Guardian Angel in college days, and God has sent you to watch over me during these my last hours. But Rose, before I go I want to ask you not to think harshly of me for the suffering I have caused you. God knows it was not my fault. Good bye."

His grip tightened upon my trembling hands and in a few moments more the tide had borne him far out from our bounds of time and space.

I could not assume my duties after that. It seemed to me my mission was done. I had lived all these years to mitigate the pain of his last moments. I thought of you, Margaret, and decided to try to find you.

This is the story of my broken life, never revealed to any one but you. It is not worth much but it represents more pain, sorrow, resolution, and resignation than words can express. Had the world beheld the scenes enacted therein it would have had nought but scorn to offer. Truth is, indeed, stranger than fiction. We know not how many broken hearts lie concealed 'neath a smiling countenance."

As the sun sank within the blue depths of the Pacific, it seemed to Rose that she could see some one beckoning from the Golden Gate beyond.

An Orphan's Reverie

And shall I see no more that sweet face,
Has she gone, gone forever?
Will always vacant be my mother's place,
Has she gone, gone forever?

Will no more those hands caress me weary,
Has she gone, gone forever?
And will every night like this be dreary,
Has she gone, gone forever?

Mother is missing from her old arm chair,
Has she gone, gone forever?
And on each face there rests a vacant stare,
For she's gone, gone forever.

Poor little sister seeks for her in vain,
She has gone, gone forever.
Her gentle innocence knew not the pain,
That she's gone, gone forever.

Low sigh the pines above mother's grave,
Where she's gone, gone forever,
Their long dark plumes in ceaseless sorrow wave,
Where she's gone, gone forever.

And there my soul tho' wrapped in bitter gloom,
For she's gone, gone forever,
Will find a solace by a loving Mother's tomb,
Where she's gone, gone forever.

P.S.H.

Public Performances of Literary Societies.

BY AN OUTSIDER.

"Knowledge is power." Colleges, nations, peoples and times germinate, foster, mature this fruit of the ages; but the public programs of literary societies are the chief promoters and disseminators of the accumulated wisdom of the past, present and future. For doubtful pleasure, useless information, forming an opinion when you haven't any elocution and oratory, they have no rival, no equal.

People who live where these thrifty Phanerogams flourish do not realize or appreciate the blessings thrust upon them. As a well-wishing, unbiased outsider it gives me unspeakable pleasure to have a little share in promulgating to an ignorant and inquiring world some facts concerning this powerful factor in human progress which must be of vital importance to everybody.

Public performances of literary societies are the crowning work of the nineteenth century, the twelfth wonder of the world, the last product of man's ingenuity, the chief kindergarten of the world's future lords.

You can go to one of these for nothing: hear the world's history, from Adam to McKinley, reviewed in five minutes; its profoundest philosophy handled with the familiarity of a Plato; its cherished faith, its dearest idols, trampled beneath the contemptuous heel of the youthful sophists.

If you have never heard the old timers done up right, the fallacies of the moderns exposed, and the ridiculous conception and construction of the whole world revealed, just go to one of these. Oh! it is superlatively grand! Magnificent beyond compare. Words are useless—idle things—when you try to paint for one who never heard or saw the realities. I went once. I wish I could tell all, but I can't. The whole affair was very impressive—even oppressive—at times. A few things, however, were indelibly stamped on my brain to the exclusion of many others. Alone I can bear them no longer; the world needs and must have the benefit.

I always knew there was something wrong with the old world, but was never able to locate the prima causa until THAT NIGHT, when first I attended a society performance. And just think of it; a woman told me then. She was a philosophoress with two feminine genders. Peaceful enough, when quietly sitting by a young fellow on the stage who was laboriously fanning her, but when fired with her subject, no species of feline ferocity could be more wrathful.

For once in my life I was sorry I did not have on a dress with ruffles, a hat with a bird on it, and a table cloth or bed spread around my neck. I was just on the point of sneaking out when I saw a fellow actually sitting by a woman, so I remained, only keeping my eye on the weather indicator.

This lady, heretofore mentioned, read an essay. Subject, "Latest Revelation of Archaeology." For a while I was not much interested, but when she warmed to the task I heard all.

Below is given verbatim a few of the sentences:

"Man is the most villainous, treacherous and lecherous creature ever evolved from the primordial, protoplasmic cell. Fit only for association with lower forms of life. He is truly a gasteropod. Composed of stomach and feet. A greater farce was never imposed on the world than the idea that man was made in the image of God. If any one had a hand in the business it was Satan, who contrived and formed him. Latest research proves that the Bible story has been contorted from the original by man, that woman might be kept in barbarous subjugation. Fifteen hundred feet beneath the ruins of a palace a peculiar bronze tablet was found by Dr. Kauffe. Although the tablet was much defaced, the learned Doctor, after much arduous work, proved that two women were placed in the Garden of Eden, and man was simply an inferior animal, even if he existed at all. Thus by Satanic imposition has woman been deluded, abused, trampled upon. No longer is it to be tolerated. Let us assert ourselves and gain our rightful position, the crown and flower of the world."

This is not half; she became furious before she ended. I wondered what the fellow would do who had been sitting beside her. But when she had finished she sat down to him as close as possible. He nodded his approval, and began to fan more vigorous than ever.

It took some time for the excitement to die down. Everybody said it was an effort of a life time.

Forthwith there were some highly entertaining performances along the line of elocutionary gymnastics and vocal acrobats. Some of the music might have pierced the blue dome of the sky; it was high and dry.

Finally the crowning event came: the orator of the evening was introduced. There certainly was never more effort put forth than on that occasion. The conventional dress suit enveloped his manly form, his arms slightly akimbo, head well back—prize fighter's position. The gestures were so emphatic that sometimes it seemed that a hole would be punched in the ceiling; at others one thought his own heart was to be torn out and fed to the fowls of the air.

It was so comprehensive it included everything except what was supposed to be in it. Moses was criticised for saying there was light before the sun was made; Abraham condemned for his faith; Solomon accused of plagiarism; David lamented for; Plato familiarly applauded. No one was forgotten.

Extract handed the writer:

"Standing on this the summit of the crowning monument of the dying century, as we gaze down the shrouded vista of the past, lighted dimly by the flickering lamp of antiquity, yet casting over all an effulgent radiance, the ghostly ruins of magnificent cities, the decaying palaces of defunct monarchs, teach a lesson important as it is impressive. Nineveh, the impregnable fortress of the Orient, resisted the most stupendous assaults of daring invaders, but fell from her own lascivious wantonness. Babylon, her cerebral faculties unimpaired by the intoxicating decoction, derided her enemies; but her inhabitants, inebriated by the scarlet juice pressed from the grape under Syrian sun, was submerged beneath the human flood which rolled through the channel where once the crystal aqueous solution of the Euphrates pursued its beautiful but intricate ramifications."

When everything that ever had been was exhausted, the skeletons of Demosthenes, Cicero, Socrates, Plato and the rest dragged from their moldy resting places, an onslaught was made on more modern affairs, and what is to be preparation was made by taking a studied position, the left foot slightly advanced, the head thrown back, the nostrils distended, a full breath taken, ready, go.

The ashes of Columbus were uncovered and refreshed with invigorating tears. George Washington, the venerable father of his country, brought out and rudely congratulated; Mathew Arnold sent to Hades; Lincoln wept over; the bones of old Dr. Strong picked of their little meat; the poor trampled under foot by the rich; Dewey and Sampson eulogized; the policy of McKinley outlined; the goodness of God shown in all creation, among all people, for all time; flags moved, men cheered, women cried, and with head down like a broncho, a dash was made at the last act of congress, and all was over; darkness reigned supreme.

Two Types.

Neither of Them Tin.

FROM a very early age the writer of this article showed signs of development into something; but it was a considerable time before even his most sanguine friends could conjecture what it would be. Some one may say that "conjecturing" is mighty easy; but Webster says "conjecture is to infer on slight evidence;" so you see that doting parents and loving friends had to wait awhile before they could even conjecture. Like many millions who have never amounted to anything, and a few who have, I (changing now to the first person) was born and raised on a farm. Some authors might have used the word reared, but my experience tallies better with the former word. But it is not my intention to dwell so much upon my unnatural endowments as upon the system of education to which I have been subjected. And while giving my own experience I desire incidentally to say a few words about a neighbor boy of mine whose father, after a vain attempt to bring him up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord, sent him to the Preparatory Department of the West Virginia University. It is hardly necessary to state that the Reform School had not yet been established at Pruntytown. That last remark doesn't bear upon the subject in hand, specially, but I am to have so many words in this piece, so I put it in.

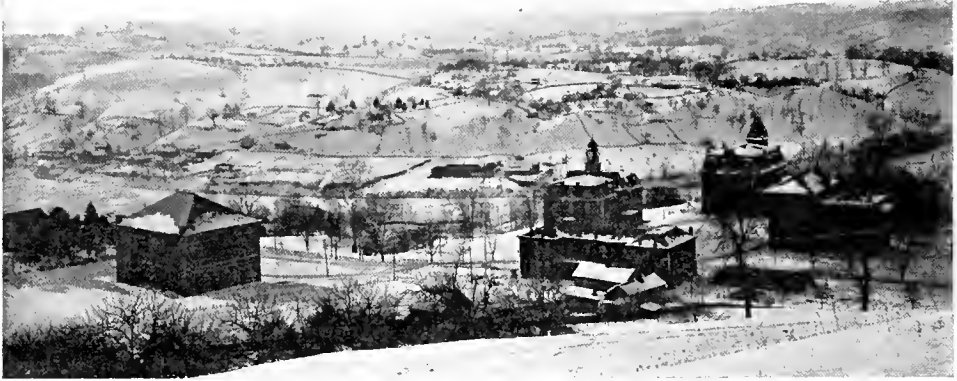

Now, to return to my early school days. After attending the country schools four months in the winter, and working at home on the farm in summer until I was about sixteen, it was decided that I should increase my usefulness (a thing that did not seem difficult to do) by attending a summer normal school. Having done that the next thing was to pass examination, get a school and teach. I got a school without much difficulty, as my father and uncle were two of the trustees. This experience was repeated about three years, and then it was decided that my usefulness ought to have another chance to spread itself, and I was sent one spring to a State Normal School. Our folks always gave that excuse about my usefulness to the neighbors, who always thought I ought to be at home in the corn field. Well, to make a long story short, I went on teaching and going to school until finally one bright Thursday morning in the month of June, I graduated. I am sorry space forbids some more mention of my usefulness here, but I must forbear.

After my graduation it was decided that I should continue my development by going to the University. Upon going there, the first fellow I looked for was my neighbor boy. It is hardly necessary to state that he was about three years younger than I, but he had been kept constantly in school, so he was a Freshman when I went for the purpose of becoming one. Imagine my surprise at his snubbing me, and not even telling any of the boys that he knew me. I soon found the college boys would give me no information as to how to enter the University, so I went to a woe-begone "Prep.", one of a class of beings to which my neighbor boy had only the year before belonged, but which state of existence he now no longer remembered. In my humble opinion a Prep. can give the poorest excuse for his existence of any animal that goes with the show. He is despised and rejected of men—i. e., the college men. But it is remarkable how he feels when once he emerges from Prepdom. He hates the Preps. he leaves behind him with no less a hatred than that of which he was the victim; and he doesn't feel much better toward the fellow who gets his preparation for college anywhere else. That was one reason why I was snubbed and had to ask the Prep. for information.

Matriculation was harder on me than passing a county examination. It was all new to me. The Professors looked upon me with suspicion, and seemed to doubt very much whether I ought to be a Freshman or not. Finally the President let me enroll, and started me with my slip of paper to the Treasurer. I had hard work to find him, as he was a very busy man. Next I was sent to a class officer; here my troubles began in earnest. I had to be held up there until I made my peace with each individual teacher whose class I wished to enter. I almost wished then I had been a Prep., but I hadn't, so what was the use to wish. Through the goodness of the various teachers I was allowed to enter the classes, and in a few days I was a full-fledged college man, with all the dignity which that distinction carries with it. By degrees I grew in favor with the Professors, my neighbor boy gradually became less suspicious of me, and now he and I are very warm friends. We two have had very different experiences, but next year we shall go home together and enter upon our larger sphere of usefulness.

M. C. LOUGH.

Silently flows the river,
The sloping hills between,—
The dark Monongahela,
Gliding through banks of green.

Sluggish and slow it windeth,
By mart and quiet town;
And calm upon its bosom,
The sheltering hills look down.

High on the peaceful summits,
No ancient castles stand,
To speak of war and conquest,
And cruel feudal band.

But, mightier than the strongholds
That frown upon the Rhine,
A college crowns the hilltops,
Fair, tranquil and benign.

Within its time-worn portals,
Move youths and maidens gay,
In willing subjugation
To learning's gracious sway.

And these shall gain the triumphs
The future has in store,—
More glorious than the conquests
By warriors won of yore.

ELLA E. EGBERT.

A Discovery.

THE sun seemed to be resting upon the summit of Rich Mountain, and was pouring a flood of golden beams down into the valley below, when Elsie Lee alighted from farmer Hayden's wagon, at the yard gate, on a beautiful October evening.

Samuel Hayden's home was situated on the western slope of Rich Mountain, overlooking one of the most beautiful valleys in America. The house was built of hewn logs, and had a large chimney, built of stone, at each end. A porch, eight or ten feet wide, extended the entire length of the east side of the house.

The picture that nature presents to the observer from this porch, in the early autumn, is one of the grandest to be found in either of the Virginias. And as Elsie looked upon this scene of surpassing grandeur, she felt the charm of its beauty and was fascinated by its magnificence. She had never been in the mountains before, and had no idea of the grandeur of a mountain scene.

Elsie had come from her home in Western Pennsylvania to teach a district school among the Virginia mountains. Her brother had hunted in these mountains the autumn before, and had lodged at the home of Mr. Hayden. When he had returned he told such wonderful stories of the mountain scenery and the mountain people, that Elsie was crazy, as she said, to go on a voyage of discovery into the mountains of Virginia.

This little explorer, if such she might be called, was only seventeen years old, but she had graduated from the State Normal School that was located in the town in which her father lived. She possessed an ardent love for adventure, and greatly enjoyed anything that savored of the heroic.

On Saturday morning, after her first week as teacher of the district school, Elsie and the two children of Mr. Hayden—a boy of twelve and his sister two years younger—started up the mountain on what she laughingly called an exploring expedition. The boy had often accompanied his father and other hunters, and was familiar with every land-mark and mountain path; and good Mrs. Hayden, having provided them with a nice lunch, they did not expect to return until evening.

They had reached the summit of the mountain in one of the gaps, and were seated on the trunk of a fallen tree resting themselves, when they were startled by the snapping of twigs and the rustling of leaves, a short distance down the mountain side, in the opposite direction from which they had come. They knew by the sound that some animal was crossing the mountain near them, but the brush was too thick to see what it was.

Elsie's heart was beating wildly as she thought of the probability of an encounter with a black bear, or possibly a panther. Suddenly the sharp crack of a rifle rang out on the morning air, and a wild commotion among the brush told that another monarch of the mountain had met his fate. After the noise had ceased the boy proposed that they go and see what the hunter had killed. As Elsie had never seen any wild animals in their native forest, she was as curious as the children to see the game, and they were soon standing beside the prostrate body of a magnificent specimen of the red deer.

While Elsie was admiring the great horns of the dead animal, a tall, broad-shouldered young man, about twenty years old, carrying a rifle, came up to where they were standing. He spoke to the boy, and bowed in an awkward manner to Elsie. Elsie said good morning, in a pleasant way, and then explained their presence there. "Then you are the new school marm what's teachin' down to the Sun-rise school house," he said. "I heard that they had got a woman teacher, but I thought it was some old maid that was ugly enough to sour milk, and I didn't intend to have no woman teacher like that bossin' me around, so I thought I would rather hunt than go to school this winter." Elsie blushed slightly at his implied compliment, and said she hoped he would not stay away from school because they had a woman teacher.

At supper that evening Mr. Hayden asked Elsie what the explorers had discovered. She answered, with a merry twinkle in her eyes, that the greatest thing they had discovered was a man. The story of the hunter and the deer was then told, with special emphasis upon his supposed description of the woman teacher. "It was Sim Fitzhugh," said the boy, in answer to his father's inquiry. "I thought it must be," said Mr. Hayden, and then added: "Ulysses Simpson Fitzhugh comes of a good family, and is as fine a lad as can be found in these mountains; and if he only had an ambition to obtain a college education he would make his mark in the world. He has the right kind of blood in him, but I am afraid he lacks the ambition.

During three or four months that immediately followed Elsie's discovery, she awakened dormant ambitions and kindled the fires of enthusiasm, and started a number of youthful explorers in search of the rich treasures of wisdom and knowledge, of which they had not dreamed before. Although Elsie had but a limited knowledge of the sciences, she could use that little to advantage. She began by giving them short talks on botany and geology; then a few simple experiments in chemistry and natural philosophy were given. All of this was so new and wonderful to these children that their curiosity reached the temperature of excitement. And when she told them that the top of this mountain had once been the bottom of a great sea, they were simply amazed. But when she showed them a piece of rock which Guy Hayden had picked up, and which contained a large number of fossil shell marks, they were more willing to believe.

One of the most interested and enthusiastic searchers after knowledge in that mountain school, that winter, was Sim Fitzhugh. He possessed a superior intellect and a strong will, and when his mind was once quickened by the inspiration of ambition he devoured knowledge, like some great Tertiary animal devouring vegetation. And this appetite for knowledge was not satisfied yet, when five years later he sat on the platform of a great University the acknowledged leader of as fine a class as was ever graduated at that honorable institution, whose register contains the names of many of America's most illustrious sons.

It was a day of inexpressible joy to the little school marm, when her protege, as she called this handsome, scholarly young man, came to pay his respects to his patron saint, as he called her, after his graduation at the University.

They were standing in the shadow of a great maple tree, talking of the school life through which they had passed and his plans for the future. "And all of this," he said, "I owe to my patron saint. For what might I have been to-day had it not been for your fair discovery. And what would it all be to me now, if I had not discovered that my fair discoverer loved her discovery with a true womanly devotion."

L. A. BARNES.

Spanish-American War.

~

H. D. THOMPSON.

WHEN the call for volunteers was heralded throughout the nation by President McKinley for the purpose of freeing Cuba from the shackles of Spanish tyranny, the American people willingly offered their services and even their lives for Cuban Independence and the honor of Old Glory. Among those who responded were many sons of the West Virginia University. Throughout the war they were distinguished for soldierly qualities and nobly acquitted themselves in action.

The war is now over and the boys are home again, but some gave up their lives in that struggle and must now live only in our memory.

In order that these brave boys and their friends may know that their services and loyalty were appreciated by the University, and that we may keep in closer touch with them in after life we have placed them, in so far as it was possible, on the Honor Roll of our Annual.

~ ~

First West Virginia Volunteers.

FIELD AND STAFF OFFICERS.

C. L. Smith, Lieutenant Colonel.
Phil. A. Shaffer, Major.
W. J. White, First Lieutenant and Adjutant.
C. T. Nesbitt, First Lieutenant and Assistant Surgeon.
H. A. Eaton, Second Lieutenant, 8th United States Infantry.

LINE OFFICERS.

H. R. Smith, Captain Company "D."
C. W. Cramer, First Lieutenant Company "M."
C. E. Vance, First Lieutenant Company "D."
C. A. Osborne, Second Lieutenant Company "D."
B. F. Scott, Second Lieutenant Company "C."

SERGEANTS.

James Hanley, First, Company "E."
J. B. Hendershot, Company "L."
H. P. Spurlock, First, Company "A."
E. F. Morgan, Company "E."
R. C. Yoho, Company "M."

CORPORALS.

S. A. Ellison, Company "D."
R. N. Osborne, Company "D."
M. M. Neely, Company "D."
L. M. Ransom, Company "D."
J. B. Scott, Company "G."

PRIVATEES.

W. C. Davis, Company "D."	L. D. Mahone, Company "D."
W. N. James, Company "D."	C. C. Mauser, Company "D."
Bert McCafrey, Company "D."	F. W. Snyder, Company "G."
Jule Baker, Company "A."	Claude Pepper, Company "D."
Rex Wilson, Company "B."	F. A. Rowen, Company "E."
Carl Campbell, Company "A."	*W. H. Henrietta, Company "M."
Christian Hartmier, Company "F."	*H. D. Thompson, Hospital Corps.
G. N. Holden, Company "D."	*Dale Grant, Hospital Corps.

Second West Virginia Volunteers.

FIELD OFFICERS.

D. T. E. Casteel, Colonel

LINE OFFICERS.

Jackson Arnold, Captain Company "F."
W. R. Standiford, Captain Company "G."
D. N. O'Brien, Captain Company "L."
C. E. Morris, First Lieutenant Company "D."
R. H. Ramsay, First Lieutenant Company "I."
John Henshaw, First Lieutenant Company "M."
J. A. Bell, Second Lieutenant Company "A."
H. F. Simmons, Second Lieutenant Company "E."
Kemble White, Captain Company "M."
G. S. Wallace, First Lieutenant Company "E."
C. W. Cramer, First Lieutenant Company "K."
C. R. Burdett, Second Lieutenant Company "C."
W. L. Cochran, Second Lieutenant Company "H."

SERGEANTS.

B. S. Thomas, First, Company "W."
*Harry Manning, First, Company "M."
Robert Kincaid, Company "G."
H. W. Cooper, Company "C."
G. D. Horner, First, Company "I."
J. I. Pratt, First, Company "G."
J. W. Johnson, Company "G."
D. E. Miller, Principal Musician.

PRIVATES.

K. M. Snyder, Company "E."

T. B. Tierney, Company "F."

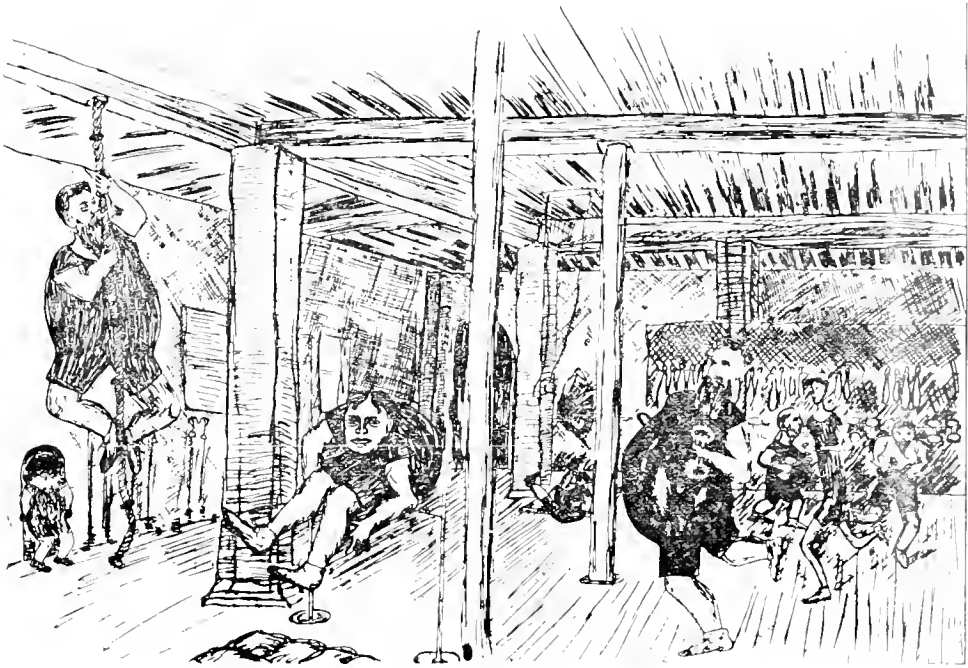

G. D. Newlon, Company "F."

Roy Knox, Tenth Pennsylvania, wounded at Manila.

J. C. M. Faulkner, Fifth Pennsylvania.

W. N. Englehart, Tenth Pennsylvania, wounded at Manila.

*Deceased.

College Songs.

Foot Ball Song.

THE BATTLE SONG.

1.

Once again we're on the turf
And ready for the fray,
Once again we've come to show
The farmers how to play,
Once again we've formed our line,
We're bound to win the day
While we go marching to victory.

Chorus.

Hurrah! hurrah! for W. V. U.;
Hurrah! hurrah! for the old gold and blue;
We're never late, but up to date,
We'll push the pig-skin through,
While we go marching to victory.

2.

There steady boys along the line
Don't let the farmers through;
We'll break their tackles, run their ends
And punch the centre too;
We'll show the royal muscle
Of the old gold and blue
While we go marching to victory.

Chorus.

3.

If you think we're half asleep
Or altogether tame,
That is where we'll fool you,
For we'll get there just the same;
Every man is wide awake
And always in the game,
While we go marching to victory.

Chorus.

4.

Westminster's boys, they bucked our line
And found it like a wall;
Marietta met us on the field,
Yet met us but to fall;
Athens played a noble game,
But could not score at all,
While we went marching to victory.

Chorus.

5.

Like wolves upon the sheep-fold, and
Like lions in the fray,
We went down to Charleston
And took the game away;
And Virginia's scalp-lock hangs
Upon our belt to-day,
While we go marching to victory.

~

West Virginia University.

1. We'll sing of our dear old Varsity with chorus loud and clear,
We'll sing it with a spirit and with voices full of cheer;
We'll sing with hearts united now in sympathy sincere,
While we are toiling through college.

(Chorus.)

Hurrah! Hurrah! for the day that makes us free, Hurrah! Hurrah! for we all expect to be
In the shoes of Washington or in the penitentiary,
When we have waded through college.

2. We've dug out Greek and Latin "roots" with weary toil and care;
We've rested with the cycloid, tried to make the circle square;
We found "infiniteismals" but a gulf of dark despair
While we were toiling through college. (Chorus.)
3. We tried to girt the big round earth with theodolite and chain;
We've furnished plans to build a bridge and cross the raging main
By the differentiation of the functions of the brain,
While we were toiling through college. (Chorus.)

4. We've solved through many a problem that our dads could ne'er explain;
We know that Shakespeare drew his thoughts from wrinkles in the brain;
We understand his genins; we can do the same again,
When we have waded through college. (Chorus.)
5. We'll crush all foggy notions just as fast as we can,
Teach the order of creation was from monkey up to man,
That the baboon was our grand-dad by the evolution plan,
When we have waded through college. (Chorus.)
6. The world is waiting for us, it has waited for us long;
We know just what it needs; we know exactly what is wrong.
We'll make it all a paradise, we'll start the Millennial song,
When we have waded through college. (Chorus.)

University Yells.

Rah! Rah! Rhu!

W. V. U.,

Sis Boom Ah!

Tiger!

Rah! Rah! Rhu!

Old Gold and Blue;

Whoop 'er up, whoop 'er up,

W. V. U.

One ah Zip! Two ah Zip!

Zip! Zip!

Zam!!

West Virginia Varsity

Don't give A—

Hooray!!

University Colors.

OLD GOLD AND BLUE.

How Do They Fit?

"I am not lean enough to be thought a good student." NARET.

"But thou art fair, and at thy birth, dear boy, nature and fortune joined to make thee great." G. N. SMITH.

The Hites by both us reached and kept
Were not attained by sudden flight;
But we, while our companions slept,
Were toiling for them in the night.

PROF. MORRIS AND MISS PRATT.

"Of nyce conscience took he no keep.", GORE.

"In prose and verse was owned without dispute,
Through all the realms of nonsense absolute." HUNTER.

"A hot headed youth." GUY WILLEY.

"God made him and, therefore, let him pass for a man." MORRIS.

"Diseases, desperate grown, by desperate appliances are relieved." PROF. WILLEY ON CHEATERS.

"Self love, my lord, is not so vile a sin." FRAZER.

"Nature hath framed strange fellows." DRANE.

"Oh what noble minds are here." SENIOR LAW CLASS.

"None but the brave deserve the fair." ANNAN.

"I must have liberty
Withal, as large a charter as the winds,
To blow on whom I please." HONOR LEAGUE.

"Eyes, look your last;
Arms take your last embrace." ROMINE.

"A horse, a horse, my kingdom for a horse." BELTZHOOVER.

"Upon what meat doth this our Caesar feed,
That he hath grown so great?" GRAMM.

"The husband and wife were one at Common Law—
In those former days of witches;
But things have changed since Blackstone's time,
The wife now wears the breeches."

PROF. BROOKE.

"Beauty is vain." HUNTER.

"Honesty is the best policy." CARVER.

"The Neely cure for 'ridin'
 Is the cure that's most abidin." CAESAR.
 "I am the most continuous and persistant reader of the text in all the law school." JUDGE JOHNSON.
 "Whoso findeth a wife, findeth a good thing." QUIMBY.
 "Work may be the grandest gift of God to man, but it's getting stale with me." GILBERT MILLER.
 "O! for a rubber band." MEADE.
 "Won't you be my sweetheart?" PROF. BARTON.
 "There's only one girl in this world for me." PROF. MCKENZIE.
 "Little thoughts expostulated in ponderous phrases sound like firecrackers set off in an empty barrel." SMITH AGAINST BARRICKMAN.
 "I'm small but I have mighty big ways." HEREFORD.
 "Ahem! ahem! note the result." PROF. WHITEHILL.
 "Ha! ha! ha! he! he! he!" PROF. BROWN.
 "I am not a Cæsar—Spears to the contrary notwithstanding."
 HUGHES.
 "If I had it to do over again, I would rather be born rich than pretty."
 RANDOLPH.
 "Cleanliness is next to Godliness." UTT.
 "——!——!!——!!!——?" HOFF.
 "I recommend the summer quarter." SOUTH.
 "Moony, moony, shine on me,
 Make me spooney than I be." CHAUNCEY WILLEY.
 "I'm not as I look." CAP. HATFIELD.
 "No man wants more and gets less than I." TYSON.
 "Worth makes the man, and want of it the Fellow." ——
 "What a fine man hath your tailor made of you!" WADDELL.
 "'Tis easy as lying." PONYING.
 "Dressed in a little brief authority." GRAMM.
 "A man severe he was and stern to view,
 I knew him well and every truant knew." PROF. HARE.

"Full well they laughed with counterfeited glee
 At all his jokes, for many jokes had he." LAW SCHOOL.
 "A plentiful lack of wit." MONTICOLA.
 "Assume a virtue if you have it not." SENIOR LAW CLASS.
 "I know you have a gentle temper,
 A soul as even as a calm." SPEARS.

Up To Date Proverbs.

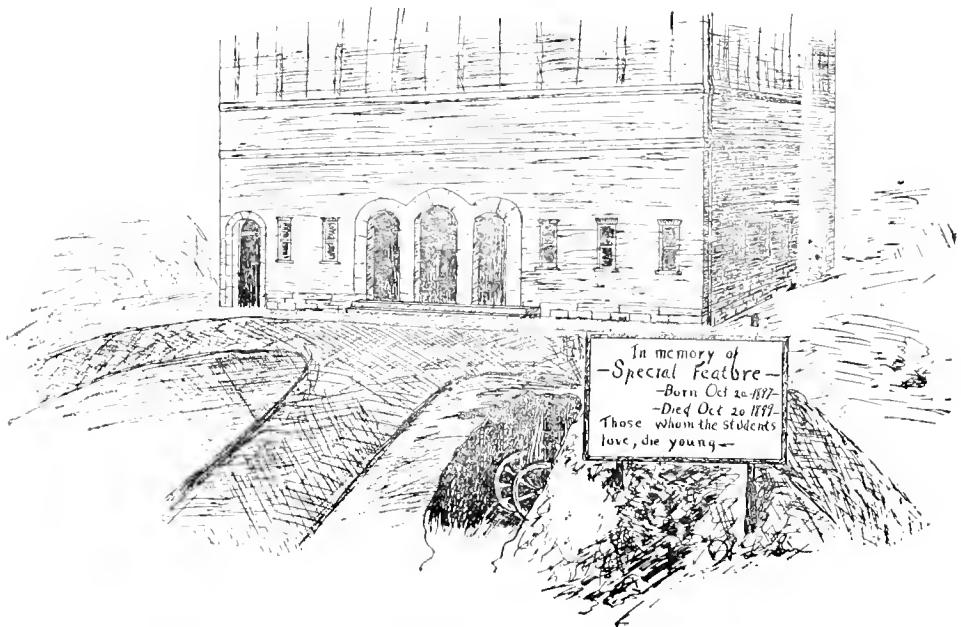

Happy is the man that has a "stand-in" and the man that has a "cinch," for the merchandise of them is better than the merchandise of knowledge, and the gain thereof than fine scholarship.

Keep the favor of the Professor with all diligence, for out of it are the issues of good grades.

The fear of "flunking" is the beginning of knowledge.

My son, hear the instruction of the Professor and forget not the facts of the text: For they shall make thee popular at examinations, and verily thou shalt be sought after as a seat-mate.

Honor the opera, billard room, and the dancing hall with thy substance, and with a part of all thy checks.

Questions and Answers.

Prof. Willey: Now, Mr. Cookman, what kind of a consideration will support a contract between you and Mr. Carver?

Mr. Cookman: Natural love and affection.

President of Woman's League: Are you ready for the question?

Unmarried members in chorus: Yes! Yes!

Latin Professor's examination:

Translate: Foemina mutabile semper.

Equo ne credite.

Prep. Professor: Punctuate the sentence: I found Dotia swinging in the hammock.

Prep.: I would make a full stop before "hammock," and put "Dotia" in parenthesis.

Mr. Wenzell: (In the midst of Judge's pathetic and vivid recital of the story of Enoch Arden.)

Well, Judge, Did you say that is an Ohio case?

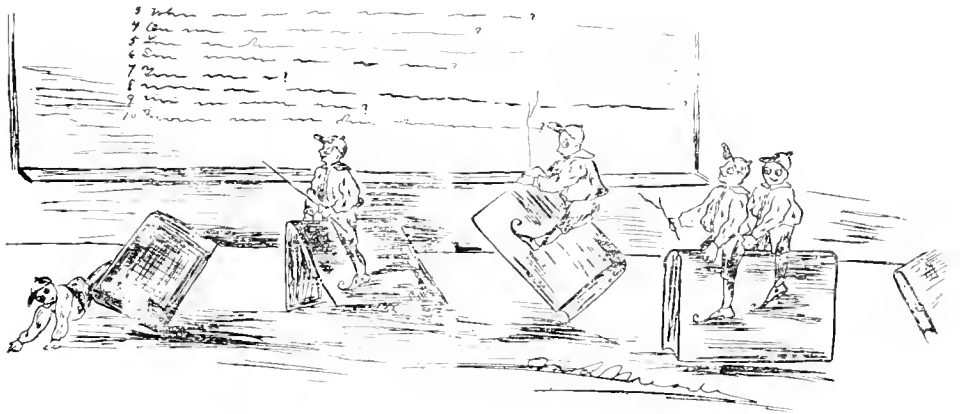

Judge Johnson (rather loudly): "Mr. Barrackman, what is a crime?"

Barrackman: (with great pomposity and fine show of verbosity),

"Judge, will your officiousness condescend to show me the courtesy to reiterate, that I may more fully grasp, encompass, and comprehend the intended signification, the approximate relation and the general purport of the admissibility and concentricity of your appropriate, well construed and perfectly legitimate interrogation?"

Judge (very loud, with accent on the words "Barrackman" and "crime.") "Mr. Barrackman, what is a crime?"

Barrackman (very meekly, with hesitancy,) "Well Judge, I guess I do not know."

Events of the Year.

Barrackman's return to school after the campaign. "I have fought a good fight, I have kept the faith."

Attendance at Library at 10 A. M.

Innovations in cadet management by Major Gramm. Removal of Major Gramm from opera house. Talk about Major Gramm.

Assistant in French, Greek, Economics and History O'Hern.

Death and burial of "Special feature."

Dr. Sanders quells a riot in the Prep's corridor.

Old Dominion boys take a lesson in foot ball.

A Prep. gives away the plans of the hazers.

Twilight Chapel.

Col. Frazer makes his celebrated speech on the greatness of the Senior Law Class.

Prof. Willey announces his intention to remodel his boys.

Birth of "Honor League."

Beltzhooover's seniority.

Ejaculation by Senior Law Class. Apology by ditto.

Loss of Colonel's dog, pipe, gloves and perpendicularity.

Faculty and Experiment Station play base ball(?).

Establishment of the "Department of Domestic Science.

The Columbians elect a debater.

The Prep's Lament.

Long days of misery, nights of distress,
Toiling and struggling with never a rest.
Cursing and moaning, weeping and prayer,
All to propitiate Andrew J. Hare,
Keen-eyed and vigilant, insatiate Hare.

Visions of flunking, punishment dire;
Death and destruction, through his terrible ire,
No hope of rescue, no 'scape is there,
From the wrath swift and terrible of Andrew J. Hare.
Sleepless, implacable, inexorable Hare.

The Senior's View.

Troubles all ended, nothing but 'pie."
For the dark days of prep-dom I've nary a sigh,
All this obtained by the labor back there,
Through the far-sighted plans of Andrew J. Hare.
Just, if exacting, kind hearted Hare. JERRY. '96.

West Virginia University.

Faculty of Fifty Professors and Instructors.
More than Eight Hundred Students in Residence.
About Two Hundred Students by Correspondence.
In session all the time; no Summer Vacation.
Tuition Free to West Virginia Students.
Young Women admitted to all Departments the same as young men.
Three Handsome New Buildings to be erected at once.
Excellent Gymnasium and fine Athletic Field.
Cadet Corps of 144 men. Cadets receive free books and free uniforms.

The University has the following Colleges, Schools and Departments:
College of Arts and Sciences. College of Engineering and Mechanic Arts.
College of Law. College of Agriculture.

School of Music. Preparatory Schools. Commercial School.

Department of Elocution. Department of Drawing and Painting.
Department of Military Science. Department of Physical Training. Pre-medical Department. Department of Domestic Science. Department of Instruction by Correspondence.

The School of Music has six instructors. Tuition free in all stringed instruments; very low in Piano and Voice.

All regular classes in Drawing free; fees small for private instruction in Drawing and Painting.

The Summer Quarter begins July 1 and continues twelve weeks. All departments will be in full operation. It is not a "summer school," but is a part of the University year. In addition to the regular faculty eminent specialists from other institutions will give courses of lectures. Expenses for the entire twelve weeks, including board, may be made less than $50.00.
Teachers will find the Summer Quarter of inestimable value.

Students attending the Summer Quarter may continue their work by correspondence.

For Catalogue and full information, write to

JEROME H. RAYMOND, President,
Morgantown, W. Va.

A. W. LORENTZ, PRES.
I. C. WHITE, VICE PRES.

JO. L. KEENER,
CASHIER.

FARMERS AND MERCHANTS BANK,

MORGANTOWN, W. VA.

STATE
DEPOSITORY.

INTEREST PAID
ON TIME DEPOSITS.

J. M. GRIER, M. D.,
Physician and Surgeon,
Sistersville, W. Va.

OFFICE ON WELLS STREET.

I. M. UNDERWOOD,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,

MIDDLEBOURNE, W. VA.

* The * Shafer Studio,
Skinner Block,
Fairmont, W. Va.
Five Photographs

O. W. O. HARDMAN,
Attorney-at-Law,
Middlebourne, W. Va.

Special Attention Given to Chancery Practice.

There are Fountain Pens
AND
Fountain Pens.
You Want the Best.

The Century

is a Double-Feed Pen, reliable, satisfactory, prompt. It is made in 24 styles. Price $2.00 and up. Satisfaction guaranteed.

If you have failed thus far to get a pen to your liking, try The Century. A good agent wanted in every town.

Century Pen Co.,
Whitewater, Wis.

Forman's

Photo. Gallery,

Fairmont, W. Va.

Fine Photographs,
Cameras and Photo. Supplies
For Sale.

Boreman & Carter,

Attorneys-at-Law,

Middlebourne, W. Va.

Go to

Dr. S. B. Allen,

The Painless Dentist,

For First Class
Dental Work. . . .

. . . . Morgantown, W. Va.

Practices in State and Federal Courts.

F. L. BLACKMARR,

Attorney-at-Law,

Sistersville, W. Va.

Office over
Tyler Co. Bank.
Wells Street.

UNIVERSITY
HEADQUARTERS.

Agents for the Celebrated

Banister,
Hanan and Queen Quality Shoes.

 IRSCHMAN'S.

Clothiers,
Hatters,
Furnishers.

Uniformers of the Cadet Corps.

For High Class

ailoring

And Good Honest Work
Go to e e e e

ALF. K. SMITH,

Merchant Tailor,

Walnut Street, Opposite Court House,
Morgantown, W. Va.

Benjamin Engle,

Commissioner of Courts and General Receiver Cir. Court.

C. B. Riggle, Notary Public.

ENGLE & RIGGLE.

ATTORNEYS-AT-LAW.

MIDDLEBOURNE . . . WEST VA.

Practice in State and Federal Courts.

C. E. PYLE,

Lawyer and Notary,

In Court House.

Middlebourne . . . W. Va.

Collections a Specialty.

The North End

* Meat Market.

—+—

The cleanest and most respectable looking shop in town.

Keeps daily all kinds of Fresh and Cured Meats.

Special Rates to Students' Clubs.

All orders delivered promptly to any place in town.

—+—

J. L. SMITH, Prop.

BELL TELEPHONE 42

BELL TELEPHONE 24

☞ New ☞ ☞ Wallace House, ☞

Electric Call Bells,

Hot and Cold Baths,

Rates $2.00

JOHN G. LANTZ, Proprietor

MADERA BROTHERS

ARE LEADERS IN THESE LINES:

Students Note Books, Tablets and School Supplies. BOOKS.

Soda and Confections a Specialty.

Spaulding's Athletic Goods.

Our Soda is Not Excelled in the State.

Fountain Open Winter and Summer.

MADERA BROTHERS,

Main Street,

Morgantown, W. Va.

STUDENTS' SHOPPING PLACE.

D. F. KIDD,

DEALER IN

GEO. C. HAYES & CO.,

Staple and Fancy

Leading Jewelers

GROCERIES.

Repairing and Engraving.

W. U. U. Pins.

Ice Cream Parlor Up Stairs.

Have You A Book to PRINT?

Or Do you Want
Any Kind of Printing?

We beg to say that we can do it. Halftone and Color Printing a specialty.

Books and Magazines we have printed:

The Aurora, 5000 copies.

The Athenaeum, 2000 copies monthly.

History of Randolph County, 600 pages, 500 copies.

Brier Blossoms, 500 copies, 125 pages.

The Monticola, 525 copies.

Besides these thousands of smaller jobs in pamphlets, letter heads, note heads, envelopes, bills, posters, price lists, cards, tags, etc.

Books bound here at home

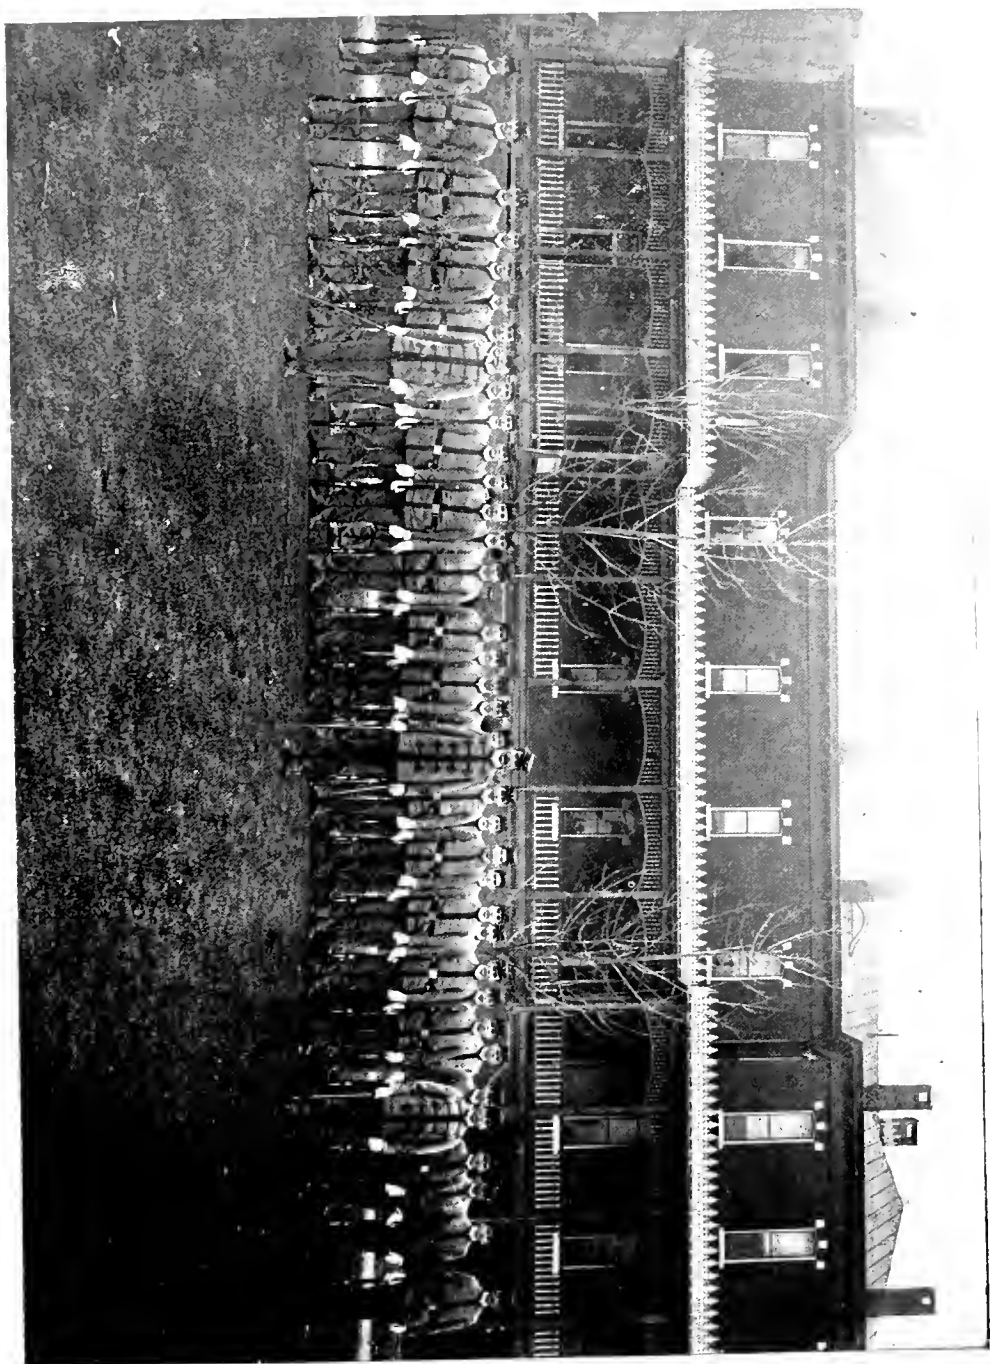

We have just added to our equipment a binding plant, and we can now give our customers bindings in all styles at reasonable prices.

Books bound in leather, in cloth, in morocco, stiff or flexible; music bound in the most artistic manner; albums repaired, Bibles rebound, names stamped on pocket-books, Bibles, etc. Mr. Paul Crueiger, the foreman of our bindery, is an artist in his line.

Morgantown, W. Va.

Hear of Reed's Drug Store

The Centre of Attraction
in Professional Photography is

ROGERS' GALLERY,

Morgantown, W. Va.

Mr. ROGERS is the Leading Artist in W. Va.

Cameras.

Prices
Moderate.

First Class Work.

Call and See us.

Photographic
Stock.

Photographs,
Crayon,
Enlarging,
Copying.

Frames,
Moulding,
Etc.

All the photographic work in this book was taken by ROGERS, who for the last five years has made the work for the University and for the students, and on account of largely increased trade is enlarging gallery to accomodate his numerous patrons.

All welcome at our studio at any time.

A. A. ROGERS,
Morgantown, West Va.

☛ If you find a better illustrated book tell us about it.

THE SECOND NATIONAL BANK OF MORGANTOWN, W. VA.

— STATE DEPOSITORY. —

Capital $80.000. Individual Liabilities $80.000.

Aaron J. Garlow, President.

W. C. McGrew, Vice President.

D. C. Hoffman, Cashier.

W. E. Arnett, Asst. Cashier.

DIRECTORS: A. J. Garlow, W. P. Barker, S. Barriekman, W. C. McGrew, Wm. I. Vandervort, D. L. Donley, H. L. Cox.

—Accounts of Individuals and Firms Solicited—

Has F. Fitch, M. D.

Page & Gibbons, M. D.

Frs. Fitch & Gibbons,

Miller Block,

Morgantown, W. Va.

DR. A. L. BOYERS,

DENTIST,

Office hours 8 to 12 a. m. 1 to 5 p. m.

3d Floor,

ODD FELLOWS BUILDING,

Morgantown.

Solid and Silver Plated Ware.

Jewelry.

Watches.

Clocks.

Musical Instruments and Strings.

Queensware.

Chinaware.

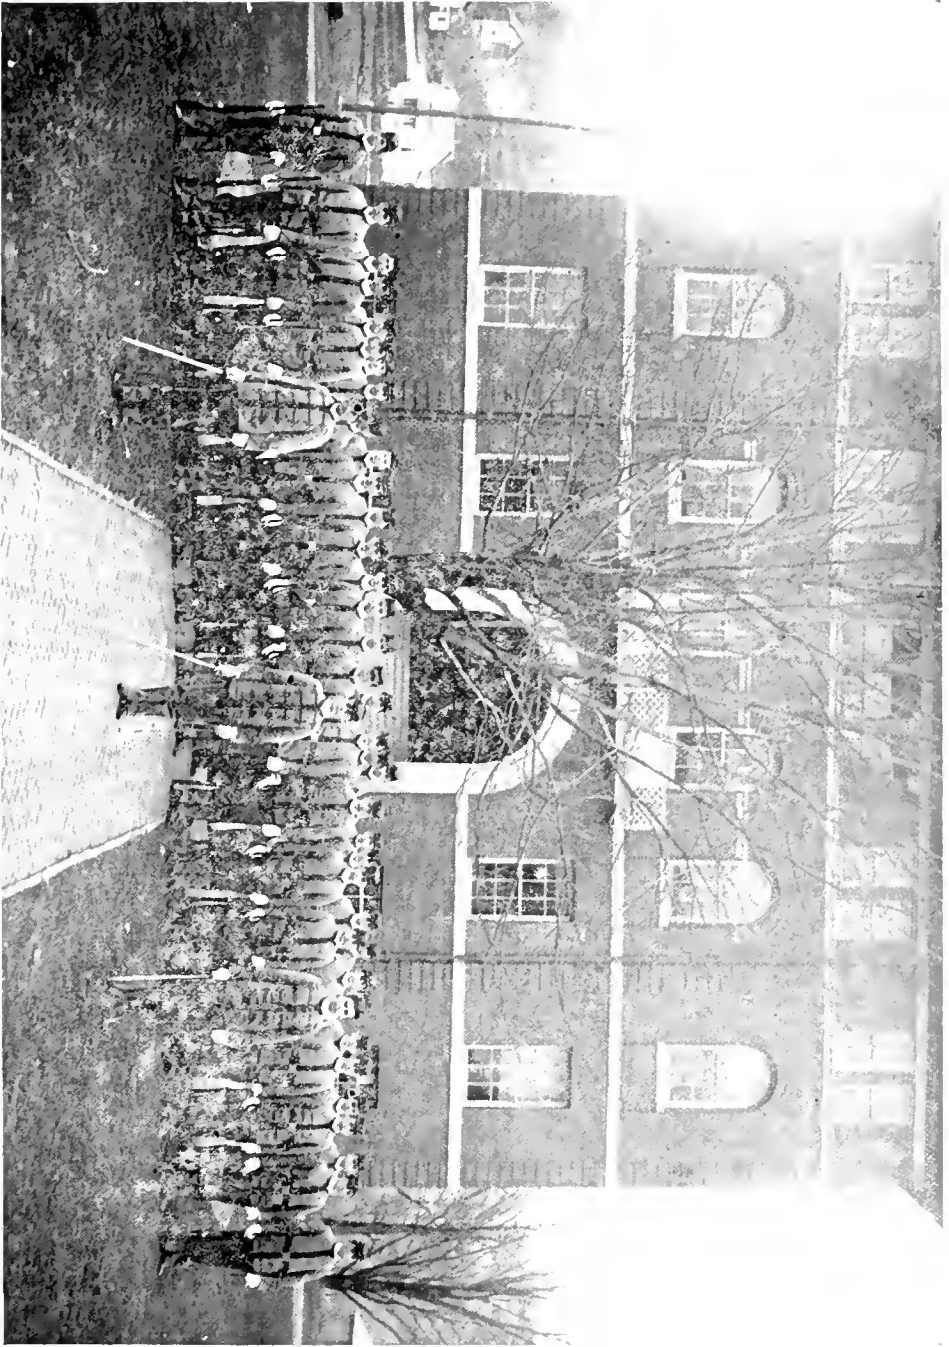

Cut Glass.

H. S. HAYES,

Fancy and Staple

— GROceries —

Morgantown, W. Va.

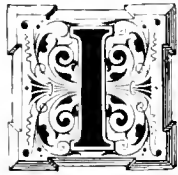

The Acme.

We Have Stood By the Students,

And they have in turn
Stood by us. ❧ ❧

* * * * *

It was a precarious undertaking to start a book-store here in the face of opposition and competition two years ago. But the students flocked to us; they liked our prices and our method of doing business.

We are still selling the following lines:

Second-hand College Text Books : They save you money.
Books : Any book you want. If we don't have it we get it.

Stationery : No such line as ours in town.

Blank Books : A 600 page Ledger, Journal or Day Book for $1.00.

College Stationery : Three styles Monogram ; also Tablets and Envelopes.

Artists' Supplies : For Artists and others.

Office Supplies : For those who need them.

Cameras and Camera Supplies : Take other people's pictures, it isn't stealing.

Sparrow's Chocolates : Good enough for anybody.

Cigars and Tobies : If you must smoke.

Come to us for information about your fellow students. Use our telephone. Make yourself at home when you come to

The Acme Book Store,

H. L. Swisher, Prop.

Maryantown, W. Va.

The Acme.

The Acme.

The Acme.

Leading Clothier and General Merchant

PICKENPAUGH,

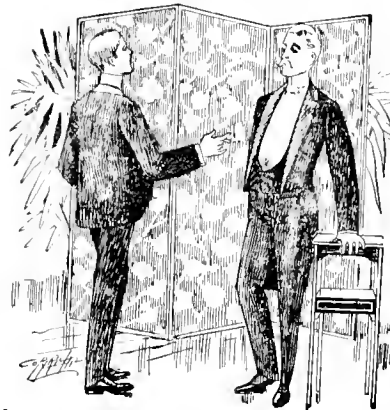

Morgantown, W. Va.

Also Extensively Engaged in Lumber and Timber.

*We Can Fit Any Size
Figure
And Make Anything
In
The Tailoring Line*

JESSE L. TURNER, THE TAILOR,

Main Street, Oppo. Wallace House.

MORGANTOWN, x x x x W. VA.

Fifteenth Year,
Daily and Weekly,

West Virginia Daily and Weekly Oil Review,

John H. McCoy Editor and Proprietor,

Sistersville, W. Va.

The only newspaper published in the state devoted to the business of developing, producing, and refining petroleum oil. Job printing in all its branches, book binding, blank books manufactured to order. Specialty made of rebinding old books, makes pamphlets, etc. Estimates cheerfully furnished. Orders by mail receive prompt attention.

E. H. COOMBS
Cashier.

L. S. BROCK,
President.

M. T. SISLER,
Asst. Cashier.

Bank of the Monongahela Valley,
Morgantown, W. Va.

Capital - - $110,000.00.

Accounts of Corporations, Firms, and Individuals Solicited upon the most liberal Terms consistent with good Banking. All matters of business receive prompt attention.

The Only First Class
Oyster and Lunch Room in Town.

ST. CLAIR'S
Bakery and Restaurant.

C. L. ST. CLAIR, Proprietor.

All Kinds of Bread, Buns and Cakes Baked Daily. Bell Telephone No. 72.

Through to Morgantown, West Virginia, by Water.
Pittsburg, Brownsville & Geneva Packet Company.

Three Fine Side Wheel Steamers are now offering extra inducements to parties desiring to make a delightful trip by water. Steamers ADAM JACOBS, Isaac Beazell, Master; I. C. WOODWARD, Adam Jacobs, Master.

Leave Company Wharf Boat, foot of Smithfield street, going through to Morgantown, daily at 3 p. m. Sunday at 8:30 a. m.

Leave Morgantown daily at 8 a. m. Round trip tickets to all points.

For further information apply on board of steamers, or to Z. W. Carmack, Agent,

Pittsburg, Pa.

S. S. Graham, Gen'l Agent,
Brownsville, Pa.

The Gem Shaving Parlor
A. H. Brown, Prop.
 Opposite Franklin Hotel,
 Morgantown, W. Va.

Go to

U. G. WELLS'
Barber Shop

When in a hurry to get a

Good Clean
Shave

—OR—

Stylish Hair Cut.

Near Wallace House.

MORGANTOWN, W. VA.

The Fraser Studio,

Skinner Block,

Fairmont, W. Va.

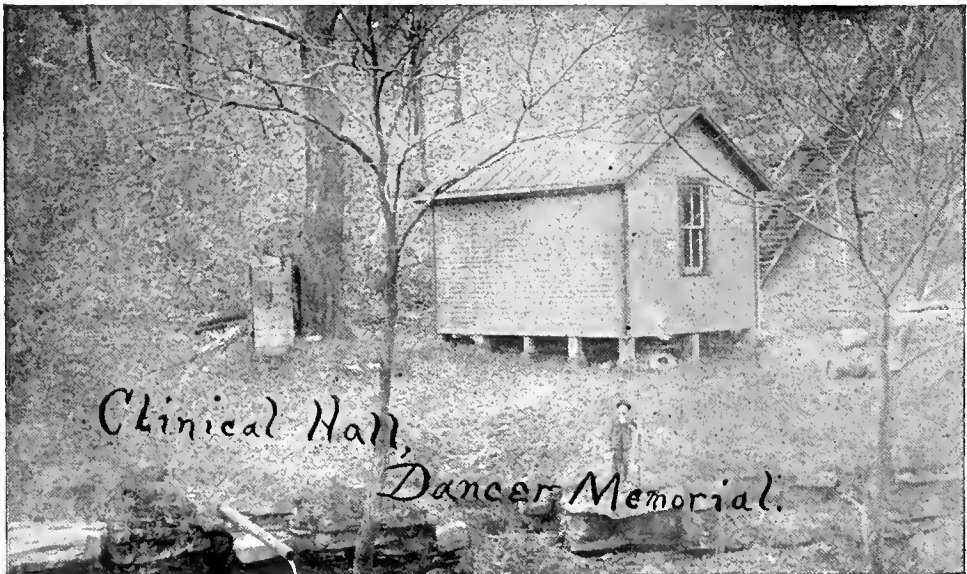

FINE PHOTOGRAPHS.

A. V. Wharton,

The Students' Favorite

Baggage Man.

Transfers all the Students' Trunks

Clinical Hall,

Dancer Memorial.

The Pride of the Anglo-Saxon Race.

"It should be the pride of Literary America, as it is the admiration of literary England."—ST. JAMES'S BUDGET, London.

THE FUNK & WAGNALLS

Standard Dictionary.

It is incomparably the greatest, and positively the latest, most complete, most authoritative, and most sumptuous dictionary in existence. It embodies the expert knowledge of nearly two hundred and fifty of the world's most eminent authorities and specialists, its editorial corps representing nearly one hundred universities, colleges, etc., and including twenty United States Government Experts.

Supersedes All Other Existing Dictionaries.

Prof. Sayce, of Oxford University, England, the Eminent Philologist, says: "THE STANDARD DICTIONARY is truly magnificent, and worthy of the great continent which has produced it. It is more than complete. . . . It is certain to supersede all other existing dictionaries of the English language."

World's Greatest Authorities Made It.—Two hundred and forty-seven of the most eminent and trustworthy authorities in all departments of human knowledge contributed their expert skill and experience to it.

Most Complete Dictionary in Existence.—Containing 75,000 more vocabulary names than any other dictionary, the exclusive features of Synonyms (125,000) and Antonyms, besides 45,000 quotations, and 5000 illustrations.

Cost Almost a Million Dollars.—It involved an actual cash outlay of over $960,000 before a single copy was placed on the market. No expense was spared in a single particular of its costly production.

"A Triumph in the Art of Publication."

The New York Herald: "It is a triumph in the art of publication. It is the most satisfactory and most complete dictionary yet printed."

A Masterpiece of Art.

It contains fourteen superb full-page color plates representing the finest art work produced by Tiffany & Co., New York, and L. Prang & Co., Boston. The text illustrations are new and useful. Those representing animals are drawn to an indicated scale. All illustrations are chosen with special regard to their definitive value.

A Masterpiece of Book-Making.

Every device of the modern art of book-making has been employed to make it a mechanically perfect book. The type was prepared expressly for it, and is clear and tasteful. Ready reference facilities are afforded by Dennison's improved thumb index. The binding is handsome and durable.

Unexcelled Educational Advantages.

The Independent, New York: "It is a noble example in which the modern tendency to popularise knowledge has risen to the highest level yet reached."

It includes new and valuable word-finding and grouping systems, exclusively indicates capitalization of words, and exclusively discriminates between broken words and compound words. Its etymologies are thorough, its definitions full, exact, and clear. Its tables of measures, plants, animals, coins, etc., are unexcelled.

SEND FOR PROSPECTUS.

FUNK & WAGNALLS CO., PUBLISHERS,
30 Lafayette Place, New York

We Printed and bound it—
That is "The Monticola."

The Acme Publishing Company,
Morgantown, West Va.

J. W. WILES

The man who made North Morgantown famous. $8.00 and up per month buys a home. Write for maps. Move to Morgantown and educate your family.

WEBSTER'S

Hon. D. J. Brewer, Justice of U. S. Supreme Court, says:
"I commend it to all as the one great standard authority."

It excels in the ease with which the eye finds the word sought; in accuracy of definition; in effective methods of indicating pronunciation; in terse and comprehensive statements of facts and in practical use as a working dictionary.

Specimen pages etc., sent on application.

G. & C. MERRIAM CO., Publishers, SPRINGFIELD, MASS., U. S. A.

INTERNATIONAL DICTIONARY

WEBSTER'S INTERNATIONAL DICTIONARY

